On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Clinton, Senator Stevenson, as a matter of historical record, how many amendments he has offered to this bill and whether as a matter of etiquette he could not have done this in committee without our waiting here?

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia wish to interrogate the gentleman from Clinton?

Mr. WOODWARD. The principal thing is the number of amendments. I simply would like to know the number of amendments, out of curiosity.

Mr. STEVENSON. I would judge, Mr. President, that there are about eighteen, and they are the result of a public hearing held on this bill two days last week.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I suggest that we consider an eighteenth amendment, prohibiting this kind of procedure.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing on final passage.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that everybody will at least understand why we are voting "no", in the early part of this session a bi-partisan committee named by the Governor reached an agreement upon the soldier vote law and here we are, before the session is ended, amending that agreement on that law; we are amending a bill that we agreed specifically would be the law to govern soldier elections, and therefore we on this side do not feel that it is right for us to vote in favor of this particular bill, because it is in violation of our compact on soldier vote legislation.

Mr. BARR. I might add, Mr. President, I think we repealed this Act No. 1 of the Special Session of 1944 with our soldier vote bill and I do not think this will stand up.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—30

Becker,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Troutman,

MONDAY, April 2, 1945

The House met at 9 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ira T. Fiss) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrove, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father, unto whom Thy people of old did look with trust and hope out of the midst of their danger and distress, we lift up our hearts unto Thee out of our weakness and need. Watch and wait with us day by day and be our defense and guardian. May the war amongst nations soon be ended and Thy righteousness become the experience of all men everywhere. For everything we would be thankful, for every need we would be trustful, in every danger we would be brave. In every thought and word and deed we would follow the resurrected Christ whose way alone will make men free and bring everlasting peace, Amen.

HOUSE BILL No. 80, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 80, together with the message from the Senate which was laid on the table March 20, 1945 be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

The message was read by the Clerk as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 80.

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled as amended, "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net income of certain corporations, joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment, collection, settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom, conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons, corporations, joint-stock associations, limited partnerships, State and county officers, boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" as previously reenacted and amended by extending the provisions of the act for a further limited period of time

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1 by inserting after the word "time" in the last line the following: "by providing for additional deductions in fixing the tax by providing that a report of change of income becomes part of the original report in certain instances by changing the gross receipts fraction and by specifically providing for the computing of interest on increases of income indicated by reports of change".

Amend section 1, page 5, line 8 by inserting after the word "whatsoever" the following: "except the declared value excess profits tax"; also in line 21 by inserting after the word "realized" the words "and losses sustained"; also in line 25 by inserting the word "realized" the words "and losses sustained"; also in same line by inserting after the word "sale" the words "or exchange"; also on page 7, line 14 by inserting after the word "be" the figure "(1)"; also by inserting in line 15 light faced brackets before and after the word "from"; also in line 16 by inserting before the figure "(1)"; also in line 18 by striking out after the word "at" the word "connecting" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "connected"; also in line 20 by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" the words "and except rentals and royalties and interest and dividends"; also on page 8 line 3 by inserting after the word "state" the following: "in the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the state of Pennsylvania but performed outside the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the state but performed in the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable to the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the state under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year".

Amend section 1, page 13, line 20 by inserting after the word "paid" the following: "except that if the taxable income has been or is increased by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of by any other agency or court of the United States interest shall be computed on the additional tax due from thirty days after the corporation receives notice of the change of income until paid."

Amend section 1, page 16, line 15 by inserting after the word "settlements" the following: "Where a report of change correction or redetermination of Federal income or Federal tax has been filed after a petition for review or an appeal has been taken such report shall be deemed a part of the original report upon petition of the taxpayer at any subsequent proceeding as though it had been filed with the original report and no separate petition for review or appeal from the resettlement resulting from such report of change correction or redetermination shall be necessary".

Amend section 1, page 16, line 19 by striking out after the word "the" the word "Audidtor" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Auditor".

Amend section 1, page 21, line 11 by striking out after the word "of" the word "corporation" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "corporations".

Amend bill page 22 by inserting after the word "forty-seven" in line 2 the following new section: Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the House do concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman from Elk to explain to the House what the effects of the Senate amendments to this bill are.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he is interested in all the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am interested in the strike-out amendment at the top of page 2. I am particularly interested in the amendment on page 8. I am particularly interested in the amendments which exempt construction companies, I am particularly interested in the effect of the amendment which eliminates the underliers, and I am particularly interested in the gentleman's estimate as to the amount of the exemption of net income, and will he tell the House whether that amount is $200,000 or $2,000,000, net amount.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the amendments that pertain to construction companies or to construction contracts simply provide a method of assigning or allocating the amount of net income that is applicable to the tax, or to which the tax is applicable. In other words if a Pennsylvania corporation has a contract in some other state and part of the contract is performed in the state of Pennsylvania, or for instance, a part of the necessary equipment that goes into the contract is prefabricated in Pennsylvania, that part of the net income which is assignable to activities in the state of Pennsylvania is taxable, and the part which is assignable to activities outside the state of Pennsylvania is not taxable.

Briefly, Mr. Speaker, the amendment provides that those activities are chargeable as net income which take place at the place of the construction contract.

I might ask before going on, Mr. Speaker, whether or not the gentleman requires any further explanation as to that point which pertains to the construction company?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I haven't any further question as to the construction company except that the gentleman admits that the business done by a construction company outside of Pennsylvania is exempted under this bill while the business done by a manufacturing company that sells its products outside of Pennsylvania is taxed under this act.

Mr. SORG. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I am waiting for the gentleman to proceed.

Mr. SORG. I desire, if the gentleman will bear with me, Mr. Speaker, on that particular point, to state that work done in Pennsylvania by construction contractors outside of Pennsylvania is covered by this provision.

The second amendment applies to the application of capital losses as well as capital gains. In other words capital gain is chargeable to income. These other amendments provide that capital losses shall be deductible for the purpose of net income.

The third amendment, Mr. Speaker, is procedural in that the net income recognizable or taxable by the state of Pennsylvania is determined by the audit made by the Federal tax authorities, that when a change is made as to the taxable income by the Federal tax authorities the procedural matter eliminates the necessity of making a separate appeal, but can make the record change by the Federal tax authority a part of the original appeal that might have been taken in the case.

The further amendment, and the one I believe particularly referred to by the gentleman from Cambria, exempts the rents and royalties accruing to a corporation doing no other business except that of holding property in the state of Pennsylvania. It is my understanding that the measure as it stands at the present time does not reduce the taxes as compared to the tax measure previously adopted on a temporary basis. It is my understanding that the amendments exclude only those things which were exempted by previous acts.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Elk finished?

Mr. SORG. I have, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is it not a fact that by removing the tax on corporations receiving rents and other income from properties in Pennsylvania you are exonerating the underliers from the corporation income tax?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I am not entirely familiar with the meaning of the gentleman's use of the word underwriters.

Mr. ANDREWS. Underliers.

Mr. SORG. That is correct.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is it not a fact, Mr. Speaker, that the particular corporations are the sole beneficiaries of this exoneration, this particular class?

Mr. SORG. I am not sure, Mr. Speaker. It is my understanding that it applies to all classes of corporations that have income only from rents and royalties and no income from the privilege of using the property within the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. ANDREWS. One further question, Mr. Speaker, on page 8 under subsection 1, you apparently exclude rents, royalties, interest and dividends, while in section 2 on the same page the same is included. The language in the bill "Except rentals, royalties, interests and dividends." Where? In the state?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that the amendment is intended under subsection 1 to exclude all rentals, royalties, interest and dividends, whether it be in the state or outside the state, and if I may be permitted to explain, Mr. Speaker, the exception is specifically inserted for the purpose of clarification in that rents and royalties of a particular kind are covered by subsection 2 of that section.

Mr. ANDREWS. Would the gentleman say as a legal point, reading the language of that bill, that it would not be necessary for the courts to decide whether those rentals and royalties are inside or outside the state? That the bill is very indefinite in this particular section and could be clarified only by a legal decision?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, that is not my opinion.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, we sent over to the Senate a tax bill in which the Department of Justice had a part in writing. The Department inserted the provisions taxing the underliers. It inserted the provisions that are stricken out entirely. The bill before it was amended some place read "By specifically imposing tax on corporations receiving rents and income from properties in the state." That was stricken out of the bill. Now the charges that these underliers make, the amounts that they earn are included in the charges they impose upon the people. To exempt the underliers, the corporations that operate and pay their income, what they earn, to the parent company, those underliers make charges, and those exemptions—the parent company gets the benefits of the charges the underliers make, but there isn't any income for the state.

There is a very shrewd suspicion that the provisions exempting construction companies are made for a specific list of Pennsylvania corporations, and which in all probability cover the leading ones.

The measure, if the House knew what it was doing, and if those who drew these tax bills knew what they were doing, has been mutilated, and the mutilation, from estimates made by people who ought to know, will cost this State at least two million dollars. The amendments are a bequest, a present to somebody of a very considerable sum of money.

There has been no explanation any place along the line as to why these amendments were made and because of the nature of them, because of their effect, and because of the fact that the amendments lack clarity we on this side of the House are impelled to oppose the motion to concur, and believe this matter should be thrashed out by a conference committee which will maintain the position which this House originally took.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. I desire to inquire, Mr. Speaker, of the gentleman from Elk, in the amendments on page 8 exempting the underliers in Pennsylvania from corporate net income tax, whether that likewise takes care of the Mellon situation in Pittsburgh, where the Mellons lease the traction facilities to the city of Pittsburgh and the state receives an income of two and a half million dollars per year?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I have no specific knowledge whatever of any person or group of persons or any corporate body that will get the advantage of these particular amendments.

Mr. LEVY. Does the gentleman himself, Mr. Speaker, have personal knowledge that the Mellon interests in Pittsburgh rent the streets for the convenience of the traction companies in the city of Pittsburgh?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I have no knowledge of that fact whatever.

Mr. LEVY. I might inform the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, that if this bill as amended by the Senate is concurred in by the House I see a definite exemption on the part of the Mellon interests in Pittsburgh for which the State receives two and a half million dollars per year, and for which there will be, in answer to Mr. Andrews' question, a definite reduction in income to the Commonwealth. If I am wrong, Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman on the other side now to deny it or to get the information available within the next twenty-four hours, and if this charge is true, Mr. Speaker, then it might be proper and fitting for this House to postpone action on House Bill 80 until the facts are presented by the gentleman on the other side, either in the affirmative or in the negative.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I want just briefly to say that in my understanding this is not an exemption from anything at all that was previously taxed and I ask the Members on both sides of this House to vote to concur in the amendments of the Senate.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk. Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us whether or not heretofore rents, royalties, interest and dividends received by Pennsylvania corporations were taxed under the corporated income tax?

Mr. SORG. Some were, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. The gentleman, I believe, admitted, Mr. Speaker, and will he confirm my suspicion that these rents, royalties, interest and dividends were not to be exempt from tax?

Mr. SORG. No, Mr. Speaker, it is not my understanding that rents, royalties, interest and dividends previously taxed are to be exempt at the present time.

Mr. COHEN. Will the gentleman please refer to the bill, on page 8, line 10, where the specific words are used "and except rentals, royalties, interest and dividends" what does it mean?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the exception is made from subsection one, a subsection covered in subsection two.

Mr. COHEN. Do I understand, Mr. Speaker, that in subsection one we except certain rents, royalties, interest and dividends, but subsection two says that you do tax them?

Mr. SORG. Yes, Mr. Speaker, they do, and it is specially exempted from subsection one so that it might be covered entirely as one subject in subsection two.

Mr. COHEN. Does the gentleman know how much money is involved in the tax received from rents, royalties, interest and dividends?

Mr. SORG. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Will the gentleman admit that it amounts to some money, one dollar at least?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Will the gentleman please tell us whether or not the Governor's budget will be thrown out of whack by this exemption of one dollar?

Mr. SORG. It is my understanding, it will not.

Mr. COHEN. As I understand now, the Governor's budget was submitted on January 3, which as I understand it, was a balanced budget, will permit tax exemptions of this kind, at least a dollar or more?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that the basis of the budget was the previous experience from the various tax measures, and that the amendments as they are inserted by the Senate do not affect the taxes in revenue measures as they previously existed, therefore it is possible that the budget might have included it, or it is possible the amount passed by the House may have been in excess of the amount required.

Mr. COHEN. Then I understand, Mr. Speaker, the original budget was flexible. Did it have some give to it?

Mr. SORG. I hope it did.

Mr. COHEN. I thank the gentleman. Mr. Speaker, this side of the House made the charge some months ago that the Governor's budget was flexible, that it had a lot of bugs in it that ought to be taken out. That was flatly denied on the other side. At least now since somebody somewhere has to get an exemption of a dollar or more, the admission is that the budget is flexible. I am hoping now, because we have been having a terriffic tug-of-war out front as to whether or not the school teachers were receiving sufficient money in Pennsylvania, a decent amount, we are hoping indeed that some of this money may be found floating around somehow.

I commend the subject to become the subject of a public hearing wherein instead of listening to the Budget Director telling us what we might or might not spend, that we tell the Budget Director that we experts on fiscal affairs in the House admit that the budget is flexible and there is money to be had—school teachers, please note, we have a tax budget; either it is or it is not. Now you have it and now you don't; now you see it and now you don't. It does seem like a lot of bungling and misappropriation of money.

I think, Mr. Speaker, that we ought not to take the dictates of these amendments and blithely pass them on while we admit that one section takes it away and the other one puts it back in again. I think the gentleman from Elk has been in court many times in his legal career, and I know I have been frequently in court where I have heard the judge, when the question of legislative intent was raised, just bluntly say "The legislature never intended anything." Only once in my experience before the courts have I had a chance to tell the judge that I knew what the intent was because I voted on the measure, only to be told that the Attorney General had rendered an opinion which certainly vitiates any intent you may have had." That may put the Members of the House in a sort of a jam. In any event, Mr. Speaker, we are going along here now, and we are saying to the very few taxpayers, the underliers and several other corporations, that there is an exception that is not an exception; we are excepting from the tax something that is not excepted. Don't figure on paying this tax, but pay it. So I think it might be well to concede as a matter of legislative intent, if I understand the gentleman correctly, that there isn't anything in this bill to exempt underliers or to exempt construction companies or any other corporations in Pennsylvania from the payment of the corporate net income tax on rents, royalties, dividends and interests.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I crave the indulgence of the House for just a moment more. You know that you do not exempt anybody who has not been paying anything. The purpose of the exemption is to relieve someone. If no one is relieved by an exemption you have a foolish bill, and for my distinguished colleague from Philadelphia to intimate that this bill in no way exempts anyone, and for the gentleman from Elk to say that these amendments continue the theory upon which this bill was based is wholly fallacious. The whole theory of the bill has been changed by the amendments.

Mr. SORG. Just to keep the record straight, Mr. Speaker, I might say that of course there are exemptions in this bill, but there are no exemptions that did not exist in any previous tax measure. It does not exempt anybody who previously paid the taxes on the same thing. It would be an exemption of somebody to pay taxes if they were taxed before, but the exemption is entirely a reiteration of all the previous tax revenue measures on this particular score.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 717, Printer's No. 332,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1099, as follows:

An Act to add section seventeen point one to the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 242) entitled "An act to promote the public health and safety by providing for examination and registration of those who desire to engage in the occupation of beauty culture defining beauty culture and regulating beauty culture shops schools students apprentices teachers managers and operators conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Public Instruction providing for appeals to certain courts by applicants and licensees and providing penalties" by declaring the right of municipalities to adopt ordinances for the regulation of beauty shops and beauty schools

Section 1 The act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 242) entitled "An act to promote the public health and safety by providing for examination and registration of those who desire to engage in the occupation of beauty culture defining beauty culture and regulating beauty culture shops schools students apprentices teachers managers and operators conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Public Instruction providing for appeals to certain courts by applicants and licensees and providing penalties" is hereby amended by adding thereto after section seventeen a new section to read as follows

Section 17.1 Right of Municipality to Regulate Nothing contained in this act or the act to which this is an amendment shall be construed as prohibiting any municipality from adopting appropriate ordinances not inconsistent with the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations adopted thereunder as may be deemed necessary to promote the public health and safety and regulate the conduct of beauty shops and beauty schools

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 356, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 411 subsection B of Section 512 Section 1012 Section 1108 and subsection B of Section 1109 of the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 624) entitled "An act relating to the business of banking and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers and of banking corporations with or without fiduciary powers including the conversion of National banks into State banks and for the licensing of private bankers defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such corporations of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business with or without fiduciary powers of private bankers and of the officers directors trustees shareholders attorneys and other employes of all such corporations or private bankers or of affiliated corporations associations or persons restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation association or person and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts prothonotaries recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" by further providing for the powers and duties and limitations upon powers of corporations and persons authorized to engage in a banking or fiduciary business or both

Section 1 Section 411 of the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 624) entitled "An act relating to the business of banking and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers and of banking corporations with or without fiduciary powers including the conversion of National banks into State banks and for the licensing of private bankers defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such corporations of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business with or without fiduciary powers of private bankers and of the officers directors trustees shareholders attorneys and other employes of all such corporations or private bankers or of affiliated corporations associations or persons restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation association or person and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts prothonotaries recorders of deeds and certain State departments commisions and officers imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 586) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 411 Increase of Authorized Capital A A bank a bank and trust company or a trust company may amend its articles to increase its authorized capital in the same manner and with the same approval as is required by this act for any amendment to the articles of a bank a bank and trust company or a trust company except that written notice of a proposed amendment for increasing the authorized capital of the institution shall be given to each shareholder entitled to vote thereon at least sixty days prior to such meeting and except that a proposed amendment for increasing the authorized capital of the institution shall be adopted by the holders of at least a majority in amount of the aggregate par value of the outstanding shares entitled to vote at such meeting and by the holders of at least a majority in number of the outstanding shares entitled to vote at such meeting

Such increase of authorized capital shall however become invalid and inoperative unless the actual increase of capital which is authorized shall be made within one year from the date of the issuance of the certificate of amendment If any portion of such authorized capital shall be created and issued within such one-year period only such portion as remains unissued within such period shall become invalid and inoperative In the case of a bank a bank and trust company or a trust company which upon the effective date of this act has an authorized capital which exceeds the par value of its outstanding shares such one-year period shall date from the effective date of this act Such actual increase may be made from time to time within such period of one year but no such increase shall be made until the shares shall be paid for in full pursuant to the provisions of this act as to the creation or issuance of any share Such increase may however be made by the declaration of a share dividend in acordance with the provisions of this act concerning such share dividends

However a bank a bank and trust company or a trust company may issue common shares to provide for the concurrent retirement of shares of any class other than common shares [The issuance of such] Such common shares shall be issued for a consideration of not less than the par value of such shares and in all other respects shall be subject to all of the requirements for and limitations upon the issuance of common shares prescribed by this act except that if such common shares are issued pursuant to the declaration of a share dividend with the approval of the Department of Banking and in accordance with the provisions of this act concerning such share dividends and if such issuance of common shares shall not effect an increase or decrease of capital no meeting of the shareholders nor their vote need be required The bank the bank and trust company or the trust company shall upon effecting such issuance of common shares and the retirement of shares of another class file articles of amendment in the manner provided in this act except that such articles need not state that advertisement has been made or notice given or action taken by the shareholders

B Except as otherwise specifically provided in this act a common share shall not be issued pursuant to such increase for a consideration of less than the par value of such share plus fifty per centum thereof unless a share can be issued for a consideration less than such amount without reducing the surplus of the bank the bank and trust company or the trust company below one hundred per centum of the capital as increased but in no case shall such share be created or issued for a consideration which is less than the par value thereof

C The bank the bank and trust company or the trust company may withhold any cash or share dividend due on a share certificate which has not been exchanged within six months after the date upon which the shares were issued pursuant to such increase but upon the shareholder's thereafter exchanging such certificate the bank the bank and trust company or the trust company shall pay to him any dividends which were thus withheld

Section 2 Subsection B of section 512 of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 349) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 512 Eligibility for Cashier or Treasurer Restrictions upon Office

* * * * *

B A cashier or treasurer of an institution shall not engage [in any other gainful profession business occupation or calling] either directly or indirectly in the business of buying or selling stock real estate or insurance but this shall not be construed to affect the right to be at the same time a member of the board of directors or the board of trustees of the incorporated institution in which he is cashier or treasurer

Section 5 Subsection B of section 1109 of the said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 475) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1109 Common Trust Funds

B If the instrument under which a trust company or bank and trust company acts as fiduciary whether such fiduciary capacity arose before or is created after this act takes effect shall limit or restrict the investment of moneys of the estate in assets of the class authorized by law as legal investments the trust company or bank and trust company may in its capacity as sole fiduciary or with the consent of any person acting with it in a fiduciary capacity invest and reinvest moneys of the estate in any such common trust fund maintained by the trust company or bank and trust company provided the assets composing such fund consist solely of assets of the class authorized as legal investments for funds held by fiduciaries

If the instrument under which a trust company or bank and trust company acts as fiduciary whether such fiduciary capacity arose before or is created after this act takes effect shall authorize the investment of moneys of the estate in a common trust fund or in investments other than those designated by law as legal investments or shall authorize the trust company or bank and trust company either alone or in conjunction with any person acting with it in a fiduciary capacity to exercise its or their discretion with respect to the investment of moneys of the estate the trust company or bank and trust company may in its capacity as sole fiduciary or with the consent of any person acting with it in a fiduciary capacity invest and reinvest moneys of the estate in any such common trust fund maintained by the trust company or bank and trust company Any such common trust fund consisting solely of moneys of estates contributed thereto by the trust company or bank and trust company pursuant to authority contained in any such instruments creating the fiduciary capacity to invest moneys of the estates in a common trust fund or in investments other than such legal investments or pursuant to such discretionary power with respect to the investment of moneys of the estates as contained in any such instruments creating the fiduciary capacity may be composed of investments other than those of the class designated by law as legal investments for funds by fiduciaries including common and preferred stocks

Bonds secured by mortgages and securities of the class authorized by law as legal investments for fiduciaries shall be deemed proper investments for any such common trust funds Provided however That no investment for a common trust fund shall be made or maintained in bonds secured by mortgages which would cause the total amount of the investment for such fund in bonds secured by mortgages to exceed forty per centum of the value of all the assets comprising such fund

No moneys of any one estate shall be invested in any one or more of such common trust funds as may be maintained by a trust company or bank and trust company if such investment would result in such estate having an interest in excess of ten per centum of the value of the assets of such common trust fund or funds or the sum of [twenty-five] fifty thousand dollars whichever is less at the time of investment In applying this limitation if two or more trusts are created by the same settlor or settlors and as much as one-half of the income or principal or both of each trust is payable or applicable to the use of the same person or persons such trusts shall be considered as one

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—3

Greenwood,	Hoopes,	Krise,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 255, as follows:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county city borough town township school district poor district and county institution district taxes with certain exceptions prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof

Section 1 All penalties and interest imposed on unpaid delinquent county city borough town township school district poor district and county institution district taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred forty-four and all previous years assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate are hereby abated if the unpaid delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided if the authority levying the tax shall have notified the county treasurer within thirty days after this act becomes effective that the taxing authority has accepted by a majority vote the provisions of this act

In order to receive the benefits of the installment system of payment provided by this act twenty per centum (20%) or more of the unpaid delinquent taxes due for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-four and for all previous years shall be paid on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred forty-five twenty per centum (20%) or more on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred forty-six twenty per centum (20%) or more on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred forty-seven twenty per centum (20%) or more on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred forty-eight and the unpaid balance on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred forty-nine Provided That the taxes on such parcel or parcels of real estate levied for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-five together with any interest and penalties due thereon shall be paid on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred forty-five And provided further That the respective current taxes on such parcel or parcels of real estate assessed and levied by such taxing authority for the years subsequent to the year one thousand nine hundred forty-five during such installment periods shall be paid before they become delinquent for the purposes of this act a tax shall be deemed to become delinquent on the date when a penalty attaches to the tax If and whenever any of the said current taxes or any of the said installments are not paid when due and payable as herein provided then and in that even the total amount of the abated penalties and interest shall be received and added to the unpaid taxes with the same force and effect as if such abated penalties and interest or portion thereof had never been abated and the taxpayer shall not thereafter be entitled to any further benefits or privileges under this act

Section 2 Any taxpayer or owner having the right of redemption may anticipate the payment of such delinquent taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-four and previous years at any time on or before November first one thousand nine hundred forty-five by paying the entire amount of such delinquent taxes and receive the benefit of this act and in such cases payment of the taxes assessed and levied for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-five shall be required at the time of such payment

Section 3 This act shall be construed to apply to all such taxes whether or not such taxes have been returned to the commissioner's office or to the treasurer of any city for nonpayment or liens therefor have been filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county or proceedings for the collection of such taxes have been instituted in any court in said county or where real property has been sold to a county city borough town township school district or county institution district at a tax sale or a tax lien and the period of redemption has not expired but this act shall not be construed to apply to cases where real property has been sold other than to a county city borough town township school district or county institution district at a tax sale or on a tax lien and where the period of redemption has not expired The taxpayer shall be liable for the payment of all costs incurred except the solicitors fees where such taxes have been returned for nonpayment or liens therefor have been filed in the office of the prothonotary or proceedings for the collection thereof have been instituted in any court

Section 4 The benefits of this act shall extend to and accrue to any successful bidder or purchaser at sheriff's or other judicial sale grantee transferee mortgagee or owner having the right of redemption under a tax sale or other party in interest in the parcel or parcels of real estate against which the above mentioned taxes have been assessed and levied whether separated or not

Section 5 Any taxpayer or owner having the right of redemption shall have the right to pay the delinquent taxes assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate without being required to pay the delinquent taxes assessed and levied against any other parcel or parcels of real estate in the same ward district or other municipal subdivision

The county commissioners of each county shall at the cost of the county cause to be published two times in not more than two newspapers of general circulation throughout the county and in the legal newspaper if any a notice to the taxpayers giving a synopsis of the terms of this act setting forth the benefits provided by the act and the necessary conditions required by the taxpayers in order to receive the same Upon application either in person or in writing by any taxpayer or owner the tax levying authorities the tax collector the receiver or receivers of taxes or the person or persons charged with the collection of such delinquent taxes or the person or persons in whose custody the records of such delinquent taxes are kept shall furnish to such delinquent taxpayers or owners a statement of the delinquent taxes owed by him to such political subdivision showing the face amount the penalty if any and any costs or other charges in detail against such real property as shown by the records in his custody

Every collector of taxes whose duty it is to send to the respective taxpayers any notice or statement of their annual taxes shall include in each such notice or statement an additional notice of the date when the next installment payment is due under the provisions of this act

Section 6 In order to enable the taxpayer or owner having the right of redemption under a tax sale to receive the full benefits of this act no real property shall be sold for nonpayment of taxes before November first one thousand nine hundred forty-five except in counties of the second class the county treasurer and in cities of the second class the city treasurer may hold their respective tax sales of real property as provided by existing law unless the owner of any such property to be sold at any such sale or any one interested in such property shall prior to such sale pay the first installment as hereinbefore provided of the delinquent taxes charged against such property and for which it is to be sold If the first installment of any such taxes shall be paid in order to prevent the tax sale as aforesaid the taxpayer making such payment shall still be required to pay the current taxes before they become delinquent as hereinbefore provided in order to secure the benefits of this act Any tax sale shall be adjourned or readjourned or right of redemption extended as often as may be necessary for the purpose of this section If any tax sale is adjourned or readjourned or right of redemption extended after advertisement or sale no additional advertisement or notice shall be necessary for the adjourned or readjourned sale or right of redemption No such adjournment or readjournment or redemption failure to advertise or hold any such tax sale shall invalidate the lien of any tax due and unpaid or sale had subject to redemption but the lien of all such taxes shall be fully preserved during the entire installment period herein provided for if the taxpayer avails himself of the privileges or benefits of this act Provided however That in every case where a taxpayer avails himself of the privileges or benefits of this act the period during which payment of the said delinquent taxes is postponed or continued under this act shall not be included in computing and determining whether or not any right of the tax assessing and levying authority has been barred or lost by reason of the provisions of any statute or statutes now existing or hereafter enacted limiting the right of the said tax levying and assessing authorities to file preserve or maintain the lien of the said taxes

Section 7 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions hereof are held to be unconstitutional the decision shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included herein

Section 8 The act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 31) and the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 323) shall continue in full force and effect as to any and all taxpayers who have taken advantage of and are not in default in the provisions thereof All other acts and parts of acts general local and special inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby suspended during the time this act shall be in effect

Section 9 Any taxpayer who has made any payment or payments on delinquent taxes under the provisions of any of the acts referred to in section eight above but who has defaulted in any payment required by such act may secure the benefits of this act by making payments on the balance due on all taxes covered by the provisions of this act whether or not covered by the abatement act under which he was previously making payments

Section 10 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 213 Application of Bond Proceeds The Proceeds of the sale of general obligation bonds shall be used for the purpose or purposes specified in the ordinance authorizing said bonds except where a change of purpose has been authorized under the provisions of section 216 of this article If for any reason any part of the proceeds is not applied to or is not necessary for such purpose or purposes such unexpended part of the proceeds shall be paid into the sinking funds for such issue of bonds unless otherwise applied under the provisions of section 216 of this article or invested temporarily in obligations issued by the United States of America and general obligations of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any political subdivision thereof

The cost of preparing issuing and marketing general obligation bonds shall be deemed to be one of the purposes for which the bonds are issued

Each municipality shall keep such accounts as will readily show the proceeds of each issue of bonds hereafter marketed and the application of the proceeds thereof

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 3 The provisions of the act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

AMENDED RESOLUTION RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced returned resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1945.

Whereas, The Penal Code approved June 24, 1939 contains numerous inconsistencies and considerable language which is open to construction and should be carefully studied and revised in order to make it effective for its intended purposes; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That a committee of three members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, three Senators to be appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate, is hereby created, whose duty it shall be to survey, investigate, and consider all of the penal laws of the Commonwealth and to completely revise and restate such penal laws into codified form, and to report its findings and conclusions to the next regular session of the General Assembly, with a bill embodying a codification of the penal laws of the Commonwealth to be introduced at the next regular session of the General Assembly.

The committee shall organize immediately after its appointment, and elect a chairman and a secretary from its membership, and appoint any clerks, stenographers or other employes necessary to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

The members of the committee shall receive no compensation but shall be reimbursed for any necessary traveling and living expenses actually incurred in the performance of the duties hereby imposed.

An item shall be inserted in the general appropriation bill for the purpose of paying such expenses and the salaries of such clerks, stenographers or other employes, appointed by the committee.

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representetives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 1, first resolve clause, line 1, by striking out after the word "That" the following "a committee of three members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House three Senators to be appointed by President pro tem of the Senate is hereby created whose duty it shall be" and inserting in lieu thereof the following; "the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed".

Amend resolution beginning with line 13 on page 1 by striking out the following: "The committee shall organize immediately after its appointment and elect a chairman and a secretary from its membership and appoint any clerks stenographers or other employes necessary to carry out the purposes of this resolution

The members of the committee shall receive no compensation but shall be reimbursed for any necessary traveling and living expenses actually incurred in the performance of the duties hereby imposed

An item shall be inserted in the general appropriation bill for the purpose of paying such expenses and the salaries of such clerks stenographers or other employes appointed by the committee". and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The Legislative Reference Bureau shall prepare the necessary drafts of all bills agreed on by the commission and shall furnish such advice and assistance as it may be called on to furnish".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

They were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. MATTHEWS offered a resolution which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 2, 1945.

Resolved, That the Committee on Railroads and Railways be discharged from further consideration of House Bill 410; entitled:

An Act to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to man freight trains with competent employes; to provide the least number of men that may be employed on freight trains; and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof; and the enforcement thereof by the Public Utility Commission.

Said bill having been referred Tuesday, February 6, 1945 to the Committee on Railroads and Railways.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the Members vote down this motion of the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Matthews.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Would the gentleman mind, Mr. Speaker, giving me a list of the absentees on his side, to save the time of the House?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I would mind, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I didn't like the Majority Leader's action; it is too much like "Father knows best." He says "I ask the Members of the House to vote, no." I should think in presenting the matter, that Father ought to tell them why, something like that, but there has been so much of this "Father knows best" "You children will vote, yes," or "I ask you children to vote, no" or something like that. I wish once in a while Father would explain or Mother would explain and let us know what it is all about, what he has on his mind, and maybe the little children will trail right along with much better effect.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I recall a few weeks ago we gave birth to some children here on the floor of the House. I didn't know I could be a mother; I don't mind being called a father, but the other reason, Mr. Speaker, I asked to have the Members vote "no" on this motion is the fact that the men over here, as we stated last week, are the brain trust, and they are very busy at their desks reading bills so that they can be interrogated at any time on this five minute period to explain bills. Therefore I just wanted them to be alert on this roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. Matthews, Russell E. Reese and Heatherington.

Messrs. Lovett, Russell E. Reese and Lane asked for a verification of roll.

ADDITIONAL SPONSOR

Mr. MOSER asked and obtained unanimous consent to add an additional sponsor to a resolution.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. MOSER, FREED and LICHTENWALTER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 2, 1945.

To-day marks the sixty-third anniversary of the birth of a former Member of this House and one of the outstanding citizens of Lehigh County and of this Commonwealth.

With only three score and three years of his span of life behind him, and in the full enjoyment of his physical and mental faculties, he is now a Member of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania.

During those sixty-three years, he has been solicitor of his county, of the City of Allentown, and of the school district, a member of this House of Representatives, Judge of the Courts of Lehigh County, Attorney General of the Commonwealth, and a judge of the Superior Court.

When only twenty-nine years of age, he represented the City of Allentown in this House and during the Session of 1911 he frequently acted as Speaker when bills were read the second time; he had a voice that without the assistance of a microphone could be heard in the remote corners of this Hall. At that time there were only two members of this House younger than he, and it is said that he was the youngest member to ever represent his district.

In 1921 he was appointed judge of the 31st Judicial District by Governor Sproul to fill a vacancy and two years later was elected for the ten year term. At the end of that term, he voluntarily retired to resume the practice of the law.

In January, 1939, he was appointed Attorney General of the Commonwealth by Governor James, and served in that office with distinction, until December 15, 1942, when he resigned in order to accept an appointment to fill a vacancy on the Superior Court. At the election in 1943 he was elected for a full ten-year term commencing January, 1944.

Since on the bench of the Superior Court, he has again demonstrated those rare judicial qualities that were so apparent while serving on the bench in his home county, and that same intelligence that has marked his service in every public office he has filled; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House, conscious of his wonderful record of public service, extends to the Honorable Claude Trexler Reno of Allentown, its most sincere congratulations and felicitations on this, his natal day, wishes him many more celebrations thereof, and a most happy and satisfying experience on the bench of the Superior Court during the years that lie ahead and in evidence thereof it requests the Chief Clerk of the House to transmit a copy of this resolution to Judge Reno.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Mr. MORAN offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 2, 1945.

The annual dinner of the Legislative Sons of St. Patrick held on Tuesday evening, March 20th, needs no official record to be made of it in order to keep it green in the minds and hearts of those who attended.

It was well planned from the start and the planning resulted in a banquet that cannot be forgotten.

The food was delicious and the taste of it lingers on. The attendance was larger than ever and the program was outstanding.

The unprecedented success of the party was due in the first instance to the tireless efforts of the committee on arrangements, who overlooked no detail to make the function the best in every respect of all similar affairs heretofore held, and Thomas Lyons, Chairman and Thomas J. Griffen, Secretary of the committee, and Joseph A. Scanlon, who was the champion ticket seller, are to be especially commended for their work in providing the evening's entertainment.

From the time the first unforgettable notes issued from the huge horn so ably played by the Honorable Henry I. Wilson, until the brilliant toast master, John M. Cummings, said "The meeting stands adjourned" there was not a dull moment.

The story of his experience among the boys in the South Pacific and the lesson drawn from it for us by the Navy Chaplain, Commander F. W. Meehling, was most inspiring.

The Mayor of Wilkes-Barre, the Honorable Con J. McCole, in a few minutes clearly demonstrated the reason for his election. His stories were side-splitting, his wit was contagious and every one was soon convinced that he was truly the Prince of Story Tellers.

The Governor was in rare form and added greatly to the worthwhileness of the occasion.

Senator Coleman extolled the Irish in such a convincing manner that all the non-Irish were just a bit ashamed that in them flowed none of the blood that seems necessary to greatness.

The toast master, John Cummings, could not have been better and the absence of Uncle Dominick was the one lone error made in planning the celebration.

The committee labored long and hard, but the results justified the work. It was a great party, one long to be remembered and no praise of the work of the committee could be termed extravagant; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House who were present at the celebration, for themselves and for those others who were fortunate enough to have been there, extend to the members of the committee who arranged the banquet, their profound thanks and the assurance of their high admiration of the entertainment furnished, and they request the Chief Clerk of the House to forward a copy of this resolution to the toastmaster, John M. Cummings, and to His Excellency, the Governor, the Navy Chaplain, Commander F. W. Meehling, the Honorable Henry I. Wilson, the Honorable Con J. McCole, and the Honorable Edward J. Coleman, who provided the entertainment that made possible a most delightful evening as evidence of their full appreciation of their contribution to the successful celebration of the birthday of the patron saint of the Emerald Isle, and the Chief Clerk, as evidence of the appreciation of the Members of the House of the laudable efforts of the committee, is hereby requested to transmit a copy of this resolution to each member of the committee.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I can understand how the desk can be in error regarding the vote of a man who is in the hall of the House and who answers indistinctly, but you have just heard an instance of more than one, more than two, more than three, more than four men who were not in the hall of the House who are recorded as voting. Now, we are in the process of getting a recorded vote on labor measures, and we want the recorded vote and we want the verified vote because there are those who believe they can make use, and proper use, of the record on this vote. We played this game fair, we have gone along and played it on the up and up, and we will not, positively will not stand for any procedure where the roll obviously is incorrect and people who are not in the hall of the House are voted.

The SPEAKER. It is only fair to the Clerks for the Chair to state that the Clerks distinctly heard someone answer to Mr. Readinger's name.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would call attention to the fact that Mr. Readinger is not a new Member in this House, that his face is familiar, and there is no excuse for recording him, particularly on this kind of a record roll call.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk has stated that he heard an answer, not exactly Mr. Readinger's answer, but a distinct answer to his name. The Chair requests the Members to be careful in responding to their names because the Clerk must record them as they answer.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have every confidence in the intregrity of the Majority Leader, and I would ask then as a measure of facilitating the action of this House that he see to it, because he is in control of this House, that those who are not in the hall of the House be not recorded as voting. If he will tell me that that is his intention I am sure that we can all rely upon his word, and that that will be done. Otherwise it will be necessary for us time after time as this session goes on to verify rolls, and we won't want to do it.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Cambria, I would like to say that I agree heartily with the gentleman that when the request is made for a roll call only those answering to their names be recorded. It is the privilege of any Member of this House, to make that request. Every time that request has been made it has been honored by the desk and by the Reading Clerk slowly calling the names of the Members. I can readily understand that the desk, hearing an answer to the name of Mr. Readinger when called, certainly recorded that name. I am heartily in agreement that only those answering to their names be recorded on the roll call.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HUNTLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it was my pleasure to attend the dinner put on by the Legislative Sons of St. Patrick. Senator Coleman delivered a striking and illuminating address in which he named a long list of Irish American patriots. However, most of those men were Protestant Irish. I wonder if it was personal modesty that prevented him from mentioning some of the prominent Catholic Irishmen who had been such a force in the progress of our country. Well do I remember being in Wilkes-Barre fifty odd years ago when the Catholic Total Abstinence Society of Pennsylvania was holding a convention. They put on a street parade in which seven thousand Catholic Total Abstainers marched to the air of patriotic music played by several hundred brass bands.

This spectacle made a lasting impression on my life. Wilkes-Barre was the home of Father Curran, who was one of the most powerful foes of the liquor traffic of his day. It is strange that Senator Coleman did not mention this great and good Irish Catholic of his own vicinity. I also recall Archbishop Ireland, a native son of Ireland and a great Catholic prelate stationed at St. Paul, Minnesota. He was an uncompromising foe of the liquor traffic in the northwest extending from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Ocean. I lived in that territory at that time.

Howard Russell, a young Protestant minister was stationed at Stillwater, Minnesota and was a personal friend of Archbishop Ireland. It was the Archbishop who suggested, formulated and collaborated with Russell in forming the Anti-Saloon League which has been the real thorn in the flesh of the liquor traffic ever since. These two great Irish Catholic dignitaries were wheel horses in the team that took the lead in putting across the "Noble Experiment." Are we now to presume that they would be indifferent to the Ignoble Experiment of today?

Have the Irish ignored these outstanding Catholics because they were apostles of temperance? Surely they were not delibertely forgotten. As one who was impressed during his youthful years with the righteousness of their fight for temperance, I take this method of restoring their names to the list of representative Irishmen of America.

RESOLUTIONS

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. RUSSELL E. REESE offered a resolution which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 2, 1945.

Resolved, That the Committee on Railroads and Railways be discharged from further consideration of House Bill 403, entitled:

An Act to promote the safety of travelers and employes upon railroads by prohibiting carriers by railroad hauling trains excessive in length; providing for enforcement by the Public Utility Commission or any other agency empowered to enforce the law.

Said bill having been referred Tuesday, February 6, 1945 to the Committee on Railroads and Railways.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Russell E. Reese and Mr. Matthews.

Messrs. Lovett, Weiss and Coleman asked for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the resolution was not adopted.

Mr. E. GADD SNIDER offered a resolution which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 2, 1945.

Resolved, That the Committee on Constitutional Amendments be discharged from further consideration of House Bill 627, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by adding thereto section eighteen.

Said bill having been referred Monday, February 19, 1945, to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, we don't enjoy this any more over on this side than you do over there, but of course you must admit we tried to be fair with you—we tried to change the rules. You fellows refused to go along, and, speaking on this motion to discharge, the rules of this House are unfair. We realize that you set this time to discharge the committee, when the boys are all tired and want to go home and everything else. That is all part of this scheme; it has been worked out in this House of Representatives session after session—it is nothing new. I want to say to you fellows here tonight that you are not going continually to kid the people of Pennsylvania. You may get away with it for a while, but it is not going to last, boys.

You talk about saving this democracy that our boys are fighting for over on the other side. You are not helping to save this democracy over here. I told you many and many a time on the floor of this House, session after session and you let the words go by. I want to say to you that the working people of this state are eventually going to wake up to the fact that you fellows with a good labor record over there are continually voting against these fellows. And there isn't any joke about it; it doesn't make any difference whether you are voting against their particular bill or whether you are voting to keep the bills in committee, its all the same thing.

Gentlemen, I want to say to you that it is about time that we here save democracy and eliminate some of these unfair rules in the House of Representatives.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. E. Gadd Snider and Mr. Lovett.

Messrs. Lovett, Grant and Lane asked for a verification of the roll.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1945. 136th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 29. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1945. No. 38.

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 3, 1945.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, before whom the very angels veil their faces, as they can not look upon Thy glory and purity, how humble and reverent should we, Thy erring children of the earth, be. Our hearts condemn us for our many sins, but Thou are greater than our hearts. Thou hast opened the gate of forgiveness, and all who in faith accept Thy invitation to enter have passed from death to life and from the power of sin unto God. May none of us decline the invitation.

In days just passed the Christian world has commemorated in praise and thanksgiving Christ's victory over death. May the comfort and peace that faith in this victory brings be with all those who are mourning the loss of loved ones. Give to all such the guaranty of Christ that "Whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

We pray for world peace, O God, Hasten its coming. Prepare us as individuals and as a nation to meet the requirements of such a peace, which must be based on justice and righteousness. This calls for sacrifice on our part. May we be generous enough, wise enough, Christly enough to make that sacrifice.

In the name of Christ, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HEYBURN and Mr. EDMONDS the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Wade asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. JAMES.

WARRANT OFFICER THEODORE R. EDMONDS INTRODUCED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Senate is honored today by having here with us a distinguished son of a distinguished father, Warrant Officer Theodore R. Edmonds, who has just come back from both the Pacific and European theaters of war. I am sure the Senate would like to have him stand so they may pay tribute to him.

Warrant Officer Edmonds, will you stand, please?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McCREESH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I want to offer the following resolution, but before doing so, I want to call the attention of the Senate to a very dangerous train wreck that happened in Frankford some months ago, where almost one hundred people lost their lives. So, Mr. President, I am offering this resolution to try to correct that mistake that was made.

URGING THAT CONGRESS BE MEMORIALIZED TO PASS LEGISLATION IN RE: TRANSMITTING SIGNALS ON TRAINS

Mr. McCREESH offered the following resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 3, 1945.

Whereas, Within the last several years there have occurred many serious accidents on railroads operated in the United States, which the members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania believe might be obviated by a more modern method of transmitting signals on such trains; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly hereby memoralize the Congress of the United States to consider and speedily pass necessary legislation requiring the installation of an adequate system of transmitting signals by radio, or other methods found to be satisfactory or of equal benefit, the entire length of all trains, and from train to train of all trains operated in interstate traffic within the United States, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of the memorial be immediately transmitted to the Secretary of the United States Senate, the Clerk of the United States House of Representatives and to each member of the Congress from the State of Pennsylvania.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Public Utilities.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Carr, why he objected.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Butler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CARR. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. McCREESH. Would the gentleman please explain why he objected to the resolution?

Mr. CARR. My objection is that it has not been proved yet that a proper method of directing trains by radio is really established as an effective means of control.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I would rather have a vote on the resolution now than send it to committee. We are trying to finish up in a couple of weeks, the Governor says, so we better get the bills out of committee and not be sending them back again. I ask a vote on the resolution, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Under the Senate rules, a resolution may be considered on the day on which it is offered only by unanimous consent of the Senate. If there is objection, it must go to a committee.

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, on behalf of the pharmacists of Philadelphia I would like to enter on the record of this Senate their protest against this bill. I would like to have these two letters added as their protest and my protest.

The first letter is from the Northeast Philadelphia Pharmaceutical Association, which reads as follows:

"NORTHEAST PHILADELPHIA PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION

March 18, 1945.

"The Hon. Louis H. Farrell,
9427 Buselton Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

"Dear Mr. Farrell,

"I have been asked by my organization which represents some three hundred druggists of the northeast to contact you regarding House Bill No. 315.

"We earnestly solicit your active opposition to this bill in view of the fact that it would mean a lowering of the standards of our profession and would be a definite detriment to the best interests of public health.

"A college education is required for all professions and pharmacy should be no exception.

"With sincere thanks for your cooperation and our assurance of your support in the future as in the past, we are,

"Respectfully yours,

Northeast Phila. Pharm. Assoc.
J. HARRIS KING, Secretray."

They cover my district.

I have another letter here that I would like to place on record from the city-wide board, which reads as follows:

"P. A. R. D.

"Philadelphia Association of Retail Druggists
March 31, 1945.

"Honorable Louis H. Farrell
Senate of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

"Dear Sir:

"The Philadelphia Association of Retail Druggists, with a membership of over 1100 established retail pharmacies out of Philadelphia's total of 1400, are unanimously opposed to House Bill No. 315.

"With every section of the city polled, not one registered pharmacist has voiced approval of this bill for the reason the bill will lower the standards of a public health profession whose aim it is in the public interest to raise professional standards and qualifications.

"House Bill No. 315 establishes the shockingly dangerous precedent of giving to persons who purely for reasons for their own do not elect to meet existing statutory requirements, a backdoor entrance to the broader practice of a profession vital to the public health.

"The pharmacists of Philadelphia, out of a deep sense of responsibility to the citizens of the city, respectfully request of the Senate of Pennsylvania that they be granted a public hearing in order that they may present their objections to House Bill No. 315.

Respectfully,
HYMAN C. BOGASH, Secretary
Philadelphia Association of Retail Druggist."

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I want to go on record as opposing this bill. I understand from druggists in my district that they are bitterly opposed to passage of it and it interferes with their business, that their business is one of the healing arts, and it would be very dangerous to go through with a bill of this character, and in line with what they told me I now read a telegram addressed to me, as follows:

"House Bill No. 315 is on Tuesday's Calendar for third reading. We earnestly request that you be on hand to register your disapproval of this bill. Philadelphia Association of Retail Druggists."

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, as Chairman of the Committee on Public Health I am perfectly aware of all the objections raised against this bill, but it seems to me that the objections are based upon a wrong premise, the premise that we are endangering the lives of people by passing this bill. As a matter of fact, there are at present some 239 assistant pharmacists registered and actually compounding prescriptions under doctors' directions. This bill, if it passes, will eliminate those assistant pharmacists in the future and simply grant to those men who have been compounding prescriptions right along for ten years the right to take the same examination that any other applicant for a pharmacist's license must take.

In my opinion, this is a protective measure for the people in Pennsylvania, in that it eliminates the assistant pharmacist forever and makes the man who after this wants to become a pharmacist take a full course and then take an examination.

For that reason I favor passage of this bill.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I thought I had spoken enough on this bill yesterday. Since the Legislative Correspondents' Association is giving a banquet tonight I waive the opportunity to speak for about an hour today on this bill, because I feel we have other things to do I did not intend to take up any more time of the Senate, but since my good friend and colleague from Butler, Senator Carr, has made a statement that is confusing—not that it is maliciously or willfully done; that is the way he understands the bill—but I will have to correct the wrong impression given by my colleague from Butler, Senator Carr, and state that the assistant pharmacist does not work in a drug store in the way the gentleman thinks he works in a pharmacy, as he only has an opportunity to work for two hours a day under the direct supervision of a registered pharmacist and he does not have the right to compound prescriptions for more than two hours a day, or three—I do not remember exactly—but he does not have domination and control of that laboratory every day.

I just want to make that correction because I could not sit quietly by and listen to that mis-statement.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. I did not yield yet, Mr. President. I yield.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Jaspan, may proceed.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to know whether this measure is a protective measure and in the best interests of the pharmaceutical trade?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. According to the opinion of druggists in Philadelphia, it is not.

Mr. JASPAN. What is the opinion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. If the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Jaspan, will read the Legislative journal when it is published, he will find that my statement of yesterday will explain to him my opinion.

Mr. JASPAN. What is the opinion of the gentleman now?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. As it was yesterday.

Mr. JASPAN. What was it yesterday?

For the sake of the record, and because this bill is now on third reading, I would like to know the opinion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro, with respect to this bill.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I feel it is a vicious piece of legislation and that it reduces the standards of pharmacy. I further feel that this is not a proper bill and that it also puts in peril those who deal in drugs, because these assistant pharmacists who first started to study in a school of pharmacy and then for some reason, economical or otherwise, discontinued their studies, today are asking, without a P.H.D. degree from a recognized college, to take the examination that the law provides for. In other words, they are trying to skirt the statutory provisions now on our books.

Mr. JASPAN. Therefore, Mr. President, would the gentleman from Philadelphia Senator DiSilvestro, say this is not a protective measure?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. It is not, in the opinion of druggist in Philadelphia.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro, for his enlightening remarks with regard to this bill. However, it still occurs to me that an assistant pharmacist can make a mistake in one minute or one second, as well as in eight hours, and therefore the argument that the assistant is only allowed to compound prescriptions for two or three hours a day does not carry very much weight. It is a matter of a moment's action for a man to mistake strychnine for sodium chloride and somebody will die as a result of it, and I still think to get rid of the assistant pharmacist finally by this means not only is not a detriment to the profession but is a help to the profession, if they only realize it.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Senator Carr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Butler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Can the Senator from Butler tell me whether this bill does away with registration of assistant pharmacists?

Mr. CARR. It does.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Can the Senator from Butler further explain whether an assistant pharmacist who does not pass this examination loses his registration with the board?

Mr. CARR. He does not.

Mr. ROSENFELD. If he can not be a registered pharmacist how will he be an assistant pharmacist?

Mr. CARR. He is already licensed as an assistant pharmacist and this bill does not take that license away from him.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Does the Senator from Butler, Senator Carr, not think that elimination of the registration as an assistant pharmacist will prevent him from re-registering annually as an assistant pharmacist?

Mr. CARR. No.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 462, as follows:

An Act establishing a mode of selecting and drawing jurors for counties of the first class and imposing penalties

Section 1 The judges of the courts of common pleas of each county of the first class with the sheriff thereof shall constitute a board to be known as the "Jury Selection Board" and hereinafter referred to as the board Said board shall superintend and manage the drawing and selection of jurors to serve in the courts of said counties One member of any two of the common pleas courts of each of said counties with the sheriff thereof or his duly authorized deputy shall be a quorum of said board for the transaction of business

Section 2 (a) Prior to the thirty-first day of January in each and every year the registration commission of each of said counties shall lodge with the sheriff of the county for the use of the said board a duly certified list of all the registered electors setting out their names places of residence and occupation and prior to the first day of April thereafter in each and every year it shall be the duty of the said board or a quorum thereof to assemble together and to select from the said list a sufficient number of persons to be fixed by the board to constitute the several panels of jurors grand and petit that may be required for service in the courts for the next ensuing year

(b) After a selection is made the board through its members or masters to be appointed by the judges of the courts of common pleas of said county the salaries and expenses of whom shall be fixed by the said judges and be paid by said county shall make inquiries by questionnaire personal interview or otherwise touching the qualifications for jury service of each of the persons selected and for this purpose the board is empowered to summon the persons selected and other witnesses by subpoenas and members of the board and the masters shall have power to examine the persons selected and other witnesses under oath in relation to the qualifications of any person selected for jury service saving the privileges as witnesses of the persons examined A false answer to a pertinent question shall be perjury punishable by not more than one year's imprisonment in the county prison or a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100)

(c) When a sufficient number of names is selected of registered electors who can read write and understand the English language whose sight and hearing are normal who are not infirm or decrepit and who are of good character and reasonable judgment who have never been convicted of any crime involving moral turpitude notice by mail shall be given to each person selected of his selection with the request that he inform the board within ten days which of the four quarters of the year will be most convenient to him for jury service

(d) There shall be four jury wheels From the first jurors for service during the first quarter of the year shall be drawn from the second jurors for service during the second quarter from the third jurors for service during the third quarter and from the fourth jurors for service during the fourth quarter

(e) The names of the persons finally chosen by the board for jury service shall be deposited in equal proportions in the four wheels The board shall respect the wishes of those chosen and deposit their names in the wheel for the quarter most convenient to the jurors so far as it is possible to do so without interfering with the reasonable proportionate numbers in each wheel

Section 3 The names of registered electors so chosen with their respective places of residence and occupation shall in the presence of the said board be written on separate pieces or slips of paper which shall then and there be placed in reasonably proportionate numbers in four closed wheels to be provided by and kept in the exclusive custody of the said sheriff securely locked sealed or otherwise guarded from intrusion a list of the names residences and occupations so chosen and placed in the said wheels shall be certified by the members of the said board then present to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas to be duly filed by him for preservation and public inspection and one other such list shall be made out and kept in the custody of the said board

Section 4 At least three weeks before the commencement of each and every term of any of the said courts the said board or a quorum thereof shall assemble and cause to be drawn from the wheel for the current quarter as many of the names of the required electors therein deposited as may be necessary to serve as grand and petit jurors for each of the said courts according to the command of the venire or venires directed to the said sheriff one list of which names residences and occupations so drawn shall be duly certified by the said board to the proper court with the venire issued therefrom and one other list of said names occupations and residences shall be duly certified to the said sheriff

Section 5 Whenever the board after it shall have selected from the list of registered electors the number of persons deemed sufficient to constitute the several panels shall be of the opinion that additional persons are required for service as jurors in the said courts during any quarter of the year it shall select from said list the names of such additional number of persons as may be required Thereafter the mode of selecting and drawing jurors from such names shall be as prescribed in Sections 2 3 and 4 hereof except that the names of the persons finally chosen by the board shall be deposited in the particular wheel or wheels for the quarter or quarters of the year requiring such additional jurors

Section 6 It shall be the duty of the said sheriff to summon each of the said jurors in the manner now practiced to appear in the court for which he may be drawn on a day specified in the summons to serve as a juror during the ensuing term the said summons shall be served on each juror at least ten days before the time fixed for his appearance of which said several services the said sheriff shall make return to the proper court under oath stating the time and manner of such service

Section 7 No one so summoned as a juror shall be excused from service except in open court on good cause shown to the satisfaction of the court and if any juror so summoned and not excused shall fail to attend the said court until duly discharged he shall be fined for the use of the said county not less than thirty (30) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200) to be recovered by attachment or such other appropriate process as the said court may direct

Section 8 Whenever talesmen are required in any of the said courts the said sheriff shall produce the wheel for the current quarter in open court and in the presence of one of the judges thereof draw therefrom five names for every talesman required which names so drawn shall be immediately noted on the minutes of the court whereupon a venire shall be issued requiring the said sheriff to bring into court any one of the said five persons so drawn to serve as the tales juror no tales juror shall be selected or served in any other manner the tickets or slips so drawn from the said wheel shall be returned thereto

Section 9 No citizen whose name has been duly drawn and who has served as a juryman for one full term shall be liable to be again drawn and summoned as a juror for the succeeding period of three years

The names of jurors who are drawn for service and excused for reasons touching their own convenience shall be put in a wheel for the succeeding quarter

Section 10 The said sheriff shall preserve the said wheels secure from all interference by others and if the said board on any examination the members thereof may institute into the condition of the said wheels and their contents shall discover that any names have been surreptitiously introduced or withdrawn therefrom it shall be evidence of misdemeanor committed by the said sheriff and thereupon it shall be the duty of any member of the said board to bind him over to answer at the next court of quarter sessions for the said misdemeanor and on conviction thereof he shall be punished by fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court the said fine to be not less than two hundred dollars ($200) and the imprisonment if any not less than three months in the county jail

Section 11 Any of the duties enjoined on the said sheriff by this act may be performed by his duly appointed deputy under the same penalties herein provided Provided That if such deputy shall be unable or refuse to pay any fine imposed by this act the said sheriff shall be liable to pay the same

Section 12 The act approved the twentieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight (P. L. 354) entitled "An act establishing a mode of Selecting and Drawing Jurors in and for the city of Philadelphia" is hereby repealed All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 13 This act shall become effective as to the selection of all jurors made subsequent to January first one thousand nine hundred forty-six

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

Rosenfeld,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 523, as follows:

An Act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties county institution districts cities of the third class boroughs towns townships certain school districts and vocational school districts conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors courts and various officers of said political subdivisions and prescribing penalties

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Local Tax Collection Law"

Section 2 Definitions The words

"Tax Collector" shall include every person duly elected or appointed to collect all taxes levied by any political subdivision included in the provisions of this act including the treasurers of cities of the third class and of townships of the first class in their capacity as collectors of taxes

"Taxing district" include counties (except counties of the first or second class) county institution districts (except in counties of the second class) cities of the third class boroughs towns townships and school districts of the second third and fourth classes and vocational school districts

Section 3 Section 3 Application of Act (a) All of the provisions of this act relating to county taxes shall also without specific reference thereto relate and apply to county institution district taxes except in counties of the second class

(b) All of the provisions of this act shall apply to all taxes covered by the provisions of this act heretofore levied and remaining uncollected as well as to all such taxes hereafter levied

(c) None of the provisions of this act shall apply to any county of the first or second class city of the first or second class or second class A or to any school district of the first class or school district in a city of the second class A

(d) The provisions of this act shall not repeal or supply any local or special act

(e) This act does not include and shall not be construed to repeal any provisions of any law providing for the return of uncollected taxes to the county commissioners and the sale of real property bound thereby by the county treasurer or by a city treasurer nor to the entry and enforcement of liens for unpaid taxes

Section 4 (a) Bonds of Tax Collectors In cities of the third class and in townships of the first class the treasurer as tax collector for the various taxing districts shall give bond secured and conditioned as provided by the laws relating to such cities and townships

(b) In boroughs towns and townships of the second class the elected tax collector shall be the collector of borough town or township taxes as the case may be and of county and institution school and vocational school district taxes He shall before he enters upon the duties of his office take and subscribe an oath of office and file the same in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county He shall enter into one fidelity bond to the Commonwealth for all taxes to be collected by him in an amount to be fixed by the court of quarter sessions of the county which amount shall never exceed the estimated amount of taxes charged in the duplicates to be delivered to him in one year Such bond may at the option of the tax collector be an annual bond or may cover the full term of office for which the tax collector shall have been elected Such bond shall have thereon at least two sufficient sureties or one bonding company and the sufficiency of the sureties on the bond shall be approved by the court of quarter sessions at any time prior to the delivery of a tax duplicate to the tax collector The bond shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions Should any of the taxing districts be of the opinion at any time that the bond given by the tax collector is not sufficient in amount or as to the surety thereon the said taxing district may apply to the court by petition to have the tax collector furnish additional bond in the manner provided by this section

Thereupon the tax collector shall furnish such additional bond if any as the court of quarter sessions may prescribe but not exceeding the limitation as to amount hereinbefore prescribed

(c) In boroughs towns and townships of the second class the condition of the bond shall be that the collector as tax collector for the borough town or township as the case may be and for the county and the institution school and vocational school district shall account for and pay over all taxes penalties and interest received and collected by him to the taxing districts entitled thereto existing retirement or pension system may in like manner elect to join the system established by this act In any such case provision may be made for the transfer of the moneys and securities in its retirement or pension fund or funds in whole or in part to the fund established by this act Securities so transferred shall be only those acceptable to the board Securities not so acceptable shall be converted into cash and said cash transferred to the fund created by this act In any such transfer provision shall be made to credit to the accumulated deductions of each member at least the amount he has paid into the retirement or pension system of the municipality which moneys shall be credited against the prior service contributions of such member or a municipality may turn over to the retirement system created by this act any existing local pension system on a completely funded basis as to pensioners and pension credits of members related to prior service to the date of transfer or on a partially funded basis if the municipality either pays currently into the retirement system sufficient to cover its current share of unfunded pensions or shall agree to make such payments directly to beneficiaries as payments fall due

No liability on account of retirement allowances or pensions being paid from any retirement or pension fund of the municipality shall attach against the retirement fund created by this act except as provided in the agreement making a transfer of an existing system in accordance with this section The liability to continue payment of pensions not so transferred shall attach against the municipality which shall annually make appropriations from its tax revenues sufficient to pay the same In cases where employes covered by an existing retirement or pension system elect to joint the system created by this act the election to join shall be deemed to have been made at the time the municipality elected to join the system and the liabilities of the municipality shall be fixed accordingly

Section 18 Contributions by Members Consolidation of Credits Change of Employment Each member of the retirement system shall be required to contribute to the fund such per centum of his actual salary or compensation including fees where paid in part on a fee basis as shall be computed by the actuary to be approximately sufficient to procure for him on a superannuation retirement age a member's annuity of one [one-hundredth] one-hundred-thirtieth of his final salary for each year of service after the time the municipality by which he is employed joined the retirement system which contributions shall be paid into the fund by the municipality through pay roll deductions in such manner and at such times as the board may by rule and regulations determine

In order to increase his member's annuity each member shall also have the option to make contributions for his prior service Such contributions for prior service may be anticipated in whole or in part at the time the municipality joins the retirement system or payment thereof or of such part thereof as is not anticipated may be spread over a period of time by increasing the pay roll deduction of the member by at least one-third Where a member elects to contribute on account of his prior service his rate of contribution shall be calculated as of his age at the time he first entered the service of the municipality Provided however That any municipality may at the time it elects to join the system established by this act or at any time thereafter agree with the board to pay into the fund as a part of its liability under and in accordance with section fourteen hereof the moneys necessary to provide the member's contributions for prior service and in such case no contributions for prior service shall be made by the members

If the rate of contribution so computed shall exceed seven percentum of his earnable salary the member may request the board to be permitted to contribute at a lesser rate and if the board finds that there are reasons which justify such reduction then there shall be deducted seven per centum of his earnable salary

Where a municipal employe is employed by more than one municipality he shall be required to make contributions on account of the salary paid by each municipality In such cases the board shall provide for the consolidation of credits of the contributor and upon his retirement for a consolidated retirement allowance

Where a contributor leaves the employ of a municipality which is a member of the system and enters into the employ of another municipality which is also a member of the system his service credits shall remain unimpaired but in such cases the unpaid municipal liability for prior service shall be prorated by the board between the municipalities on an equitable bases

Section 20 Retirement for Superannuation Retirement for superannuation shall be as follows

(a) Any contributor who has reached superannuation retirement age may [and any contributor who has reached the age of seventy shall] retire for superannuation by filing with the board a written statement duly attested setting forth on what date he desires to be retired Said application shall make the superannuation retirement allowance effective on the date so specified if such application was filed in the offices of the board or deposited in the United States mail addressed to the board before the date specified in the application and before the death of the contributor But the date so specified in the application shall not be more than thirty days from the date of filing or the date the application was deposited in the mail

(b) On retirement for superannuation a contributor shall be entitled to a retirement allowance throughout his life which shall consist of

(1) A member's annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated deductions and

(2) A municipal annuity which shall be equal to one [one-hundredth] one-hundred-thirtieth of his final salary (not exceeding however in any event a final salary of four thousand dollars ($4,000) for each year of total service and in addition thereto in the case of an original member one [one-hundredth] one-hundred-thirtieth of such final salary for each year of prior service if the municipality has paid or has obligated itself for the payment of the contributions of the member for his prior service

(c) In no event shall the municipal annuity exceed fifty per centum of the final salary

Section 26 Appropriation The sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated and any balance thereof remaining at the end of the fiscal biennium May thirtieth one thousand nine hundred and forty-five is hereby reappropriated to the Department of State [for the two fiscal years commencing June first one thousand nine hundred and forty-three] for the use of the State Employes Retirement Board and the Municipal Employes' Retirement Board for the payment of the costs and expenses incident to the work of setting up the Municipal Employes' Retirement System created by this act including the payment of the compensation of the actuary in performing the duties required by this act for additional compensation of the secretary the compensation of additional employes required and for postage telephone telegraph supplies printing and traveling and other incidental expenses Provided however That the cost and expense of administering this act after the Municipal Employes' Retirement System shall become effective as provided in section eight hereof shall be paid by the municipalities as provided in section sixteen of this act from moneys paid into the State Treasury and credited to the current appropriation to the State Employes' Retirement Board

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 457, as follows:

An Act to permit the sale and purchase of imitation butter or oleomargarine for consumption by inmates and employes of charitable and penal institutions within the Commonwealth for a period of two years and suspending certain provisions of the law prohibiting such sales and purchase for the same period of time under certain circumstances requiring the keeping of records and the making of reports and providing penalties

Whereas The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has heretofore made a legislative finding of fact that "milk is the most necessary human food vital for the promotion of the public's health and for development of strength and vigor in the race" and

Whereas Butter produced from pure unadulterated milk has a recognized food value unequalled by any imitation product made from other substances and

Whereas By the Act of May 23 1893 (P. L. 112) the use or purchase by or the sale to or the furnishing to the inmates of any charitable or penal institution in Pennsylvania of any article designed to take the place of butter produced from pure unadulterated milk or cream from the same or of any imitation or adulterated butter was prohibited and made unlawful and

Whereas Due to the present war effort and to the exportation of vast quantities of butter to our Allies there is a present shortage of butter and such charitable and penal institutions are presently unable to purchase adequate supplies of butter for the use of the inmates of such institutions and

Whereas It may become necessary for a limited period of time for such institutions to supplement the available supplies of butter through the purchase and use of imitation butter or oleomargarine

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The provisions of the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand eight hundred ninety-three (P. L. 112) are hereby modified and suspended as follows

(1) Any charitable or penal institution shall not use or furnish to its inmates any imitation butter or oleomargarine when adequate quantities of butter are available or obtainable from the usual sources of supply or from normal markets

(2) In the event adequate quantities of butter are not available in or obtainable from the usual sources of supply or from normal markets each such institution shall purchase all of the butter which is available or obtainable

(3) In the event of the rationing of butter as a part of the war effort any such institution shall purchase the full amount of butter apportioned to its inmates and to its employes residing within the institution

(4) In the event that adequate quantities of butter are not available in or obtainable from the usual sources of supply or from normal markets or through rationing any such institution may purchase sufficient quantities of imitation butter or oleomargarine to supplement the quantities of butter so available

(5) Each charitable or penal institution so purchasing imitation butter or oleomargarine shall keep full and accurate records of all purchases of imitation butter or oleomargarine showing the date and amount of such purchase the amount paid and the name and address of the person partnership or corporation from whom purchased Such record shall be open to the inspection of the Secretary of Agriculture or his designated representative

(6) The Secretary of Agriculture from time to time and for such periods of time as he may determine may require any charitable or penal institution other than a State-owned and State operated institution to report within the period of thirty days from the date of his request the amount of such purchases the source of such purchases the date of purchase and the price paid together with information of the total quantity of butter purchased during the same periods

Section 2 Any persons knowingly violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment not exceeding two (2) years for each offense or both at the discretion of the court

Section 3 This act is a temporary act and shall be effective only until the expiration of the session of the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred forty-seven

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 548, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing that when the contract of a fiduciary is made by him or approved by court inadequacy of price or an offer to deal on other terms shall not relieve the fiduciary of his obligation or constitute ground for any court to set aside the contract or to refuse to enforce it

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 573, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 828) entitled "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in domestic and foreign corporations co-partnership associations and joint-stock associations providing the manner of collecting such tax and prescribing penalties" by modifying the rates of tax imposed by the said act

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not want to delay the session but I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this bill because on page 2 there is an amendment which was inserted in the bill which changes the formula upon which the tax is based on the sale of stocks, removing the words "face value" and inserting the words "market value," which works to the advantage, of course, of the certificate holders up to where the market value becomes the face value and then the face value becomes the basis for the tax.

Mr. President, if the market value is good enough to be used when the market value is less than the face value, then certainly in fairness the tax ought to be based upon market value when it is greater than the face value. It looks like a one-way ticket, whereby the face value is only used as a ceiling and the market value is used as the floor, and I say that the bill is bad legislation and ought to be voted down.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 573, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 828), entitled "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock, and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in domestic and foreign corporations, co-partnership associations, and joint-stock associations; providing the manner of collecting such tax, and prescribing penalties," by modifying the rates of tax imposed by the said act.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 756, as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend clause XIII of section one thousand five hundred two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by providing for the furnishing of street lighting by contact with lighting companies upon petition of property owners in villages and for the assessment and collection of the costs and maintenance thereof upon property benefited thereby and validating petitions of property owners contracts entered into between townships and lighting companies taxes levied to pay the costs and maintenance of lighting service and the collection receipt and payment out of the revenues therefrom notwithstanding such petitions were filed contracts entered into and taxes levied collected and paid out under unconstitutional laws validating agreements and understandings between townships and lighting companies to continue lighting service pending the enactment of valid laws regulating and providing for the expenditure of moneys arising from special lighting taxes and authorizing the payment of the costs and expenses of maintaining lighting service until valid laws are enacted to collect charges from property owners benefited thereby out of the township tax and the creation and transfer of moneys to a special account for such purposes at any time notwithstanding the prior adoption of the budget and authorizing any light and power company to apply the net rate and to waive the gross rate or to grant discounts and to waive penalties in the same manner as if payments had been made by the township within the time required by the contract and the company's schedules or tariffs

Whereas the Supreme Court in the case of Manheim Twp v Workman 350 Pa 168 held unconstitutional clause two section 386 of the General Township Act of July 14 1917 (P. L. 840) which authorized contracts for lighting service in villages in townships of the second class and for the levy of a tax upon the assessed value of real estate in such villages to raise revenue to pay for such service The court held that the moneys to be raised to pay for such a service should have been imposed on property according to the foot front rule and

Whereas the reasons given by the court in said opinion are also applicable to existing contracts for lighting service entered into under clause XIII of section 1502 of the First Class Township Law approved May 24 1931 (P. L. 1206) and to tax levies made pursuant to such provisions and

Whereas certain taxes have been collected under existing law to pay for lighting service the revenues from which are held in the treasuries of such townships and are available for the payment of lighting service rendered subsequent to said decision of the court at the request of citizens and of public authorities if such payments are validated by law and

Whereas public necessity required the continuation of said public utility service until provision could be made by law validating existing contracts entered into in good faith and the taxes levied and collected pursuant to such unconstitutional provisions and the payment out of such tax moneys and for the enactment of laws for the assessment of charges for street lighting service according to the foot front rule therefore

Section 1 Clause XIII of section one thousand five hundred two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby reenacted and amended to read as follows

Section 1502 The corporate powers of townships of the first class shall be vested in the board of township commissioners The board shall have power

XIII Lighting [Tax] Assessments On the petition of the owners of a majority of the lineal feet frontage along any highway or portion thereof in any village within the township to enter into contracts with electric gas or other lighting companies to light and illuminate the streets highways and other public places in said village with electric light gas light or other illuminant

[The township commissioners may levy for the maintenance of said lights an annual special tax upon all the property including factories and places of business abutting upon said highways based upon the assessment for county purposes Such tax shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes The township treasurer shall receive the same commission as on other township taxes] The township commissioners shall annually assess or cause to be assessed the cost and expense of the maintenance of said lights by an equal assessment on all property benefited by such lighting in proportion to the number of feet the same fronts on the street or highway or portion thereof to be lighted The township commissioners may provide for an equitable reduction from the frontage of lots at intersections or where from the peculiar or pointed shape of lots an assessment of the full frontage would be in unequitable No such [tax shall be levied] assessment shall be made against any farm land but vacant lots between built-up sections whether tilled or untilled shall not be deemed to be farm lands Provided however That the assessment per front foot against vacant lots shall be only twenty-five percentum (25%) of the assessment per foot front against property with improvements thereon All such assessments for street lighting shall be filed with the township treasurer who shall give thirty days written or printed notice that the assessments are due and payable stating the due date to each party assessed either by service on the owner of the property or by mailing such notice to the owner at his last known post office address The township treasurer shall be entitled to the same commission for the collection of such assessments as he is entitled to by law for the collection of the township tax If the assessments or any of them remain unpaid at the expiration of a period not exceeding ninety day the exact time to be fixed by the township commissioners they shall be placed in the hands of the township solicitor for collection The solicitor shall collect the same together with five percentum (5%)

as attorney's commission and interest from the date such assessments were due by a municipal claim filed against the property of the delinquent owner in like manner as municipal claims are by law filed and collected Where an owner has two or more lots against which there is an assessment for the same year all such lots shall be embraced in one claim [The] All assessments when collected shall be paid over to the township treasurer who shall receive and shall keep all such [taxes] assessments collected for lighting the highways in a separate account and pay out the same only upon orders signed by the president or vice president of the township commissioners attested by the secretary or assistant secretary The treasurer shall make a report to the auditor or controller of the township annually

Section 2 (a) All petitions by owners of property heretofore filed with township commissioners under the provisions of clause II of section 386 of The General Township Act approved July fourteen one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 840 or) of clause XIII of section 1502 of The First Class Township Law approved June twenty-fourth one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) and the amendments thereto to enter into contract with electric gas or other lighting companies to illuminate the streets and highways and other public places in villages with electric light gas light or other illuminant all contracts heretofore entered into by township commissioners with such lighting companies pursuant to such petitions all annual taxes heretofore levied by township commissioners based upon the assessment for county purposes for the maintenance of such lights the collection and receipts of such taxes and any payment heretofore made out of the revenues derived therefrom for the maintenance of lighting service under the provisions of said acts are hereby ratified confirmed and validated notwithstanding the unconstitutionality of the provisions of said clause II of section 386 of The General Township Act approved July fourteenth one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 840) and clause XIII of section 1502 of The First Class Township law approved June twenty-fourth one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) under which such petitions were filed contracts entered into and taxes levied collected and paid out

(b) All agreements and understandings heretofore entered into between township commissioners and lighting companies for the furnishing or the continuation as a public necessity of lighting service until such time as valid laws could be enacted and provision made for the collection of charges from property owners for such purposes are hereby ratified confirmed and validated

(c) All tax moneys heretofore collected under the provisions of such unconstitutional laws and now held in separate accounts in the treasury of any township of the first class shall be used and expended by township commissioners only for maintenance of lighting service heretofore or hereafter furnished by a lighting company and the payment out of such moneys for such purposes are hereby ratified confirmed and validated Such tax moneys shall be expended only in and for the district and for the purpose for which levied and collected

(d) In case insufficient revenues are available in the separate accounts of a township for the payment of the maintenance of lighting service heretofore or hereafter furnished by a lighting company until such time as valid laws are enacted to pay for such services and payments are received thereunder then and in such case the township commissioners shall pay any deficiency so existing out of the township tax For such purposes the township commissioners may by resolution make such transfer from one tax account to another tax account or create a new tax account and transfer moneys into such new account and appropriate the moneys in such account to pay accrued liabilities for the maintenance of lighting service at any time after the budget for the year has been adopted and the appropriation measures put into effect

(e) Any electric light and power company which shall receive payment under and in accordance with the provisions of this section for service rendered prior to the effective date of this act in any lighting district shall have power to apply the net rate to such payments and to waive the gross rate or to grant discounts on such payments and to waive penalties imposed thereon by the contract heretofore entered into with a township and which is validated by the provisions of this act or by its schedules or tariffs in the same manner and with like effect as if such payments or any of them had been made within the time required by such contract or such schedules or tariffs and the application of such net rate and the waiving of such gross rate or the granting of such discounts and the waiving of such penalties shall not be deemed a violation of the schedule or tariffs of such company on file with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission

(f) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to apply to proceedings pending in the courts of this Commonwealth

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 170, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven hundred one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" abolishing capital punishment in the case of murder of the first degree be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, at the time this bill came out of committee we had an understanding that it would remain on the Calendar for the purpose of determining the wishes of the people of Pennsylvania, and then, before anything definite was done about voting on the bill, there would be a meeting of the Committee on Judiciary General.

I am honor-bound, of course, because I did agree not to oppose recommitment of this bill. I believe, however, that before we execute a bill to prevent execution that we should be permitted to defend the bill.

I understand that the Legislative Correspondents Association is having a dinner this evening, and for that reason everything has been done today to expedite the business of the Senate so that we could get through quickly. For that reason I am going to ask the Majority Leader of the Senate to rescind his motion and permit this bill to go over in its order so that I can speak in defense of this bill on the floor of the Senate tomorrow. I was prepared yesterday to speak on the bill but at the request of the Majority Leader the bill went over in its order without my objection.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, in deference to the wishes of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Cox, I withdraw my motion to recommit this bill.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion to recommit.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 170, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven hundred one of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," abolishing capital punishment in the case of murder of the first degree

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 191, entitled:

An Act to amend sections three seven and fifteen and further to amend sections one and eight of the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 758) entitled "An act for the protection of the public health by regulating the possession control dealing in giving away delivery dispensing administering prescribing and use of certain drugs and keeping records thereof by regulating the use of drugs in the treatment of the drug habit by providing for the revocation and suspension of licenses of physicians dentists veterinarians pharmacists druggests and registered nurses for certain causes and by providing for the enforcement of this act and penalties" further defining the words "physician" and "drug" specifying certain information to be disclosed on labels of narcotic prescriptions requiring that narcotics be kept in the original container requiring the disclosure of certain information to physician by patient conferring certain authority upon professional licensing boards and providing additional penalties

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 239, entitled:

An Act to promote the public welfare and to protect mental defectives by prescribing circumstances under which selective sterilization of certain types of individuals may be performed without civil or criminal liability; and providing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, Senate Bill 239 in my estimation is really a very important bill and it should be considered before we vote on it. This bill, Mr. President, as I get it, allows untrained doctors to perform illegal operations perhaps on young women in the State of Pennsylvania.

Some years ago we had a case something similar to that in the city of New York, I think it was, where a mother and a doctor decided they would put a girl in a hospital and have her sterilized, for the purpose of getting her money—it was a very wealthy estate—then afterwards, I forget just what happened, but I do remember that at the trial the mother and the girl and the doctor in particular cried and hollered for fair play and to please not send them away this time.

For a good many years, Mr. President, I have been on the floor of this Senate here and every two years this bill jumps up at you like a Japanese would out of a foxhole. Just about the last week of the session, when the Governor is asking us to please get out of here, you find this kind of legislation jumping up. I really do not know where the Senators find the bill or who gives them charge of the bill. Nobody has ever asked me to present such a bill, but I do have a lot of people who have told me that the bill should never come up. I hope that some day they will ask me to present the bill, and that will be the last of the bill.

So, Mr. President, I ask that this bill go over in its order until Monday. I just saw it on my Calendar today and I have not had time to study it yet.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 239, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to promote the public welfare and to protect mental defectives by prescribing circumstances under which selective sterilization of certain types of individuals may be performed without civil or criminal liability; and providing penalties

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 240, on second reading, entitled:

An Act providing for local referendums in wards of cities of the first class before public parks may be diverted to other use

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 296, on second reading, entitled:

An Act providing that taxes levied by political subdivisions of the Commonwealth on real estate of service persons shall not bear interest or be subject to penalties; and providing for abatement of certain accrued interest and penalties

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 321, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and section one of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine (P. L. 289) entitled "An act providing for the payment to the county or counties of the moneys or bonus which any foreign railway corporation is required to pay into the State Treasury for the right to pass through the said county or counties and by which payment such foreign railway corporation is relieved from local taxation" by providing for payments to counties irrespective of whether relief from payment of local taxes results from payment of the bonus

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 360, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and section two of the act, approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 340), entitled "An act empowering cities of the third class, boroughs, incorporated towns and townships, to co-operate with each other through joint agreements in the exercise of their governmental powers, duties and functions relating to the public health, recreation, zoning and municipal planning," by extending the power of municipalities to co-operate in the exercise of their powers, duties and functions.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. STEVENSON offered the following amendment:

Amend section 2, page 2, line 19, by striking out the word "provisios" and inserting in the place thereof the word "provisions."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 387, entitled:

An Act to further amend section fourteen of the act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred nine (P. L. 46) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act" by further regulating grounds for refusal revocation or suspension of the right to practice as osteopaths in the State of Pennsylvania.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HOMSHER offered the following amendments:

Amend page 3, section 1, line 7, by striking out with bold face brackets after the word "conduct" and before the word "or" the symbol: "[[]"; Amend page 3, section 1, line 8, by striking out after the word "misleading" and before the word "fraudulent" the word: "[or]";

Amend page 3, section 1, line 8, by inserting after the word "fraudulent" and before the word "advertising" the following: "or unethical"; Amend page 3, section 1, line 8, by striking out after the word "advertising", the balance of the line, as follows: "[in the practice as de-]"; Amend page 3, section 1, line 9, by striking out before the word "including" the words "[termined by the board]]"; Amend page 3, section 1, line 11, by striking out after the word "exploitation", the balance of the line, as follows: "[false misleading or deceptive advertising]"; Amend page 3, section 1, by striking out lines 12 to 21, inclusive; Amend page 3, section 1, line 22, by striking out at the beginning of the line, before the word "Provided", the following: "[publications or advertising medium].

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The section section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 387, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section fourteen of the act approved the nineteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred nine (P. L. 46), entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania; to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners; to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners; to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State; and to provide penalties for the violation of this act," by further regulating grounds for refusal, revocation, or suspension of the right to practice as osteopaths in the State of Pennsylvania

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 412, entitled:

An Act to amend subdivision five of the Compact contained in the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1664) entitled "An act to ratify and adopt a compact or agreement negotiated by commissioners designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and commissioners designated by the Governor of the State of Ohio relative to the development use and control of the Pymatuning Lake and the State owned land surrounding said lake for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes" so as to permit the operation on portions thereon of boats equipped with motors of six horsepower or less

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WOODRING offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, Page 2, line 23, by striking out the word "providing" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "provided"; Amend Section 1, Page 2, line 25, by inserting after the word "motor" the following: "not in excess of six horse power".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. WOODRING offered the following amendment:

Amend the title, next to the last line of said title by striking out the words "the operation or portions thereon" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "on portions of said lake the operation".

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 475, on second reading, entitled:

An Act requiring cities boroughs towns and townships to notify adjacent political subdivisions of proposed streets roads and highways leading into them

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 548, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relating to chattel mortgages on any chattel or chattels of any kind or description including among other things livestock poultry farm machinery farm equipment and crops grown growing or to be grown designating the operation and effect of the lien of such mortgages providing for the filing indexing and docketing of such mortgages and related instruments in prothonotaries' offices and prescribing prothonotaries' fees providing for the filing in Pennsylvania of similar lien instruments originally filed or recorded in other states regulating the assignment release satisfaction and extension of the lien of such mortgages prescribing methods of foreclosure defining defaults and violations and fixing penalties

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have perhaps not the honor but the pleasure of moving to recommit Senate Bill 567 to the excellent committee on Municipal Government. I think that does not mean the end of the bill—it is coming back—but it gives me an opportunity to explain my reason for trying to recommit this bill.

Briefly, ever since I have been in this Senate I have been very much opposed to what I call raids on the treasury by the Firemen's Relief Association. I know if you want to be a successful politician it is well to be friendly with the fire house—I understand that—but it seems to me indefensible for the Firemen's Relief Association or the Policemen's Relief Association to come here to Harrisburg and raid funds that belong in the general treasury.

According to Senator Wade, who knows everything about insurance, $16,000,000 is paid to Pennsylvania under the two per cent tax on premiums of these foreign insurance companies. The firemen first took one-half of the premium on foreign fire insurance and now they take it all. In the good old days this money went to every subdivision of Pennsylvania, and it was amusing to read the annual report of the Firemen's Relief Association and the list, page after page, of all the municipalities in this state that got $5.15 and $3.85, whether there were any firemen there or not, and the money was used by the subdivision for any old purpose whatever. The then president of the Firemen's Relief Association confided to me that the money was sometimes used for firemen's balls, parades, picnics or what not. I know in one case there had not been any accident to any fireman for years and years and the contribution of the state simply piled up in the trust company.

That is all ancient history, I know, but the policemen, of course, are taking on the two per cent premium on foreign casualty insurance. Of course, the romance is that the firemen take the fire and the policemen take the casualty. The big opportunity is the premium on foreign life insurance. I am wondering who will benefit by this money that is paid to the state. Of course, the only sense in my remark is that while this is an evil—these men may deserve some money, but they ought to do it in the right way, come to Harrisburg and make out their case and get an appropriation out of the General Fund. This money belongs in the General Fund.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 567, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (P. The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrove, offered the following prayer:

We stand in Thy presence, O Lord, and anew, we pledge ourselves to Thee. Take us, our strength, our means, our all, us and our land, for Thine. We dedicate this country which Thou hast given us to an unselfish patriotism. Work out in her what purposes Thou wilt. Give us willing and patient hearts and hands till Thou shalt create in all nations Thy chosen pattern of Christian government and Christian liberty. Amen.

NOT VOTING—2

Greenwood, Hoopes,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 113, as follows:

An Act to empower political subdivisions to promulgate administer and enforce airport zoning regulations limiting the height of structures and objects of natural growth and otherwise regulating the use of property in the vicinity of airports and to acquire by purchase grant or condemnation air rights and other interests in land to authorize penalties and remedies for violation of this act or of any ordinances or regulations made under the authority conferred herein and to authorize appropriations

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Airport Zoning Act"

Section 2 Definitions As used in this act unless the context otherwise requires

(1) "Airport" means any area of land or water designed and set aside for the landing and taking-off of aircraft and utilized or to be utilized in the interest of the public for such purposes

(2) "Airport hazard" means any structure or tree or use of land which obstructs the airspace required for the flight of aircraft in landing or taking-off at an airport or is otherwise hazardous to such landing or taking-off of aircraft

(3) "Airport hazard area" means any area of land or water upon which an airport hazard might be established if not prevented as provided in this act

(4) "Board" means any Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals

(5) "Commission" means any zoning commission airport zoning commission planning commission or joint zoning commission

(6) "Political subdivision" means any county city boroughs incorporated town and township

(8) "Structure" means any object constructed or installed by man including but without limitation buildings towers smokestacks and overhead transmission lines

(9) "Tree" means any object of natural growth

Section 3 Airport Hazards Contrary to Public Interest It is hereby found that an airport hazard endangers the lives and property of users of the airport and of occupants of land in its vicinity and also if of the obstruction type in effect reduces the size of the area available for the landing take-off and maneuvering of aircraft thus tending to destroy or impair the utility of the airport and the public investment therein Accordingly it is hereby declared (a) that the creation or establishment of an airport hazard is a public nuisance and an injury to the community served by the airport in question (b) that it is therefore necessary in the interest of the public health public safety and general welfare that the creation or establishment of airport hazards be prevented and (c) that this should be accomplished to the extent legally possible by exercise of the police power without compensation It is further declared that both the prevention of the creation or establishment of airport hazards and the elimination removal alteration mitigation or marking and lighting of existing airport hazards are public purposes for which political subdivisions may raise and expend public funds and acquire land or property interests therein

Section 4 Power to Adopt Airport Zoning Regulations (1) In order to prevent the creation or establishment of airport hazards every political subdivision having an airport hazard area within its territorial limits may adopt administer and enforce under the police power and in the manner and upon the conditions hereinafter prescribed airport zoning regulations for such airport hazard area which regulations may divide such area into zones and within such zones specify the land uses permitted and regulate and restrict the height to which structures and trees may be erected or allowed to grow

(2) Where an airport is owned or controlled by a political subdivision and any airport hazard area appertaining to such airport is located outside the territorial limits of said political subdivision the political subdivision owning or controlling the airport and the political subdivision within which the airport hazard area is located may by ordinance or resolution duly adopted create a joint airport zoning board which board shall have the same power to adopt administer and enforce airport zoning regulations applicable to the airport hazard area in question as that vested by subsection (1) in the political subdivision within which such area is located Each such joint board shall have as members two representatives appointed by each political subdivision participating in its creation and in addition a chairman elected by a majority of the members so appointed

(3) If in the judgment of a political subdivision owning or controlling an airport the political subdivision within which is located an airport hazard area appertaining to that airport has failed to adopt or enforce reasonably adequate airport zoning regulations for such area under subsection (1) and if that political subdivision has refused to join in creating a joint airport zoning board as authorized in subsection (2) the political subdivision owning or controlling the airport may itself adopt administer and enforce airport zoning regulations for the airport hazard area in question In the event of conflict between such regulations and any airport zoning regulations adopted by the political subdivision within which the airport hazard area is located the regulations of the political subdivision owning or controlling the airport shall govern and prevail

Section 5 Relation to Comprehensive Zoning Regulations

(1) Incorporation In the event that a political subdivision has adopted or hereafter adopts a comprehensive zoning ordinance regulating among other things the height of buildings any airport zoning regulations applicable to the same area or portion thereof may be incorporated in and made a part of such comprehensive zoning regulations and be administered and enforced in connection therewith

(2) Conflict In the event of conflict between any airport zoning regulations adopted under this act and any other regulations applicable to the same area whether the conflict be with respect to the height of structures or trees the use of land or any other matter and whether such other regulations were adopted by the political subdivision which adopted the airport zoning regulations or by some other political subdivision the more stringent limitation or requirement shall govern and prevail

Section 6 Procedure for Adoption of Zoning Regulations

(1) Notice and Hearing No airport zoning regulations shall be adopted amended or changed under this act except by action of the political subdivision in question or the joint board provided for in Section 4(2) after a public hearing in relation thereto at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard At least fifteen (15) days' notice of the hearing shall be given by publication one time in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the political subdivision or subdivisions in which is located the air port hazard area to be zoned and in the legal journal if any designated by the rules of court of the county in which such political subdivision or subdivisions are situated for the publication of legal notices and advertisements

(2) Airport Zoning Commission Prior to the initial zoning of any airport hazard area under this act the political subdivision or joint airport zoning board which is to adopt the regulations shall appoint a commission to be known as the airport zoning commission to recommend the boundaries of the various zones to be established and the regulations to be adopted therefor Such com-nission shall make a preliminary report and after notice given in the same manner as is provided in subsection (1) of this section hold public hearings thereon before submitting its final report and the political subdivision or he joint airport zoning board shall not hold its public nearings or take other action until it has received the inal report of such commission

Where a planning commission or zoning commission already exists it may be appointed as the airport zoning ommission

Section 7 Airport Zoning Requirements

(1) Reasonableness All airport zoning regulations dopted under this act shall be reasonable and none hall impose any requirement or restriction which is not easonably necessary to effectuate the purposes of this ict In determining what regulations it may adopt each political subdivision and joint airport zoning board shall consider among other things the character of the flying operations expected to be conducted at the airport the nature of the terrain within the airport hazard area the character of the neighborhood and the uses to which the property to be zoned is put and adaptable

(2) Nonconforming Uses No airport zoning regulations adopted under this act shall require the removed lowering or other change or alteration of any structure or tree not conforming to the regulations when adopted or amended or otherwise interfere with the continuance of any nonconforming use except as provided in Section 8(3)

Section 8 Permits and Variances

(1) Permits Any airport zoning regulations adopted under this act may require that a permit be obtained before any new structure or use may be constructed or established and before any existing use or structure may be substantially changed or substantially altered but no such permit shall be required to make maintenance repairs to or to replace parts of existing structures which do not enlarge or increase the height of an existing structure In any event however all such regulations shall provide that before any nonconforming structure or tree may be replaced substantially altered or rebuilt allowed to grow higher or replanted a permit must be secured from the commission authorizing such replacement or change No permit shall be granted that would allow the establishment or creation of an airport hazard or permit a nonconforming structure or tree or nonconforming use to be made or become higher or become a greater hazard to air navigation than it was when the applicable regulation was adopted or than it is when the application for a permit is made Except as provided herein all applications for permits shall be granted

(2) Variance Any person desiring to erect any structure or increase the height of any structure or permit the growth of any tree or otherwise use his property in violation of airport zoning regulations adopted under this act may apply to the Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals for a variance from the zoning regulations in question Such variances shall be allowed where a literal application or enforcement of the regulations would result in practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship and the relief granted would not be contrary to the public interest but do substantial justice and be in accordance with the spirit of the regulations and this act Provided That any variance may be allowed subject to any reasonable conditions that the board may deem necessary to effectuate the purposes of this act

(3) Hazard Marking and Lighting In granting any permit or variance under this section the board may if it deems such action advisable to effecutate the purpose of this act and reasonable in the circumstances so condition such permit or variance as to require the owner of the structure or tree in question to permit the political subdivision at its own expense to install operate and maintain thereon such markers and lights as may be necessary to indicate to flyers the presence of an airport hazard

Section 9 Appeals

(1) Any person aggrieved or taxpayers affected by any decision of the commission may appeal to the board

(2) All appeals taken under this section must be taken within a reasonable time as provided by the rules of the board by filing with the commission and with the board a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof The commission shall forthwith transmit to the board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken

(3) An appeal shall stay all proceedings in furtherance of the action appealed from unless the commission certifies to the board after the notice of appeal has been filed with it that by reason of the fact stated in the certificate a stay would in its opinion cause imminent peril to life or property In such cases proceedings shall not be stayed otherwise than by order of the board on notice to the commission and on due cause shown

(4) The board shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of appeals give public notice and due notice to the parties in interest and decide the same within a reasonable time Upon the hearing any party may appear in person or by attorney

(5) The board may in conformity with the provisions of this act reverse or affirm wholly or partly or modify the order requirement decision or determination appealed from and may make such order requirement decision or determination as ought to be made and to that end shall have all the powers of the commission from which the appeal is taken

Section 10 Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals

(1) All airport zoning regulations adopted under this act shall provide for a Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals to have and exercise the following powers

(a) To hear and decide appeals from any order requirement decisions or determination made by the commission in the enforcement of the airport zoning regulations as provided in Section 9

(b) To hear and decide any special exceptions to the terms of the airport zoning regulations upon which such board may be required to pass under such regulations

(c) To hear and decide specific variances under Section 8(2)

(2) Where a zoning board of appeals or adjustment already exists it may be appointed as the board Otherwise the board shall consist of five members each to be appointed for a term of three years by the authority adopting the regulations and to be removable by the appointing authority for cause upon written charges and after public hearing

3) The concurring vote of a majority of the members of the board shall be sufficient to reverse any order requirement decision or determination of the political subdivision or to decide in favor of the applicant on any matter upon which it is required to pass under the airport zoning regulations or to effect any variation in such regulations

(4) The board shall adopt rules in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance or resolution by which it was created Meetings of the board shall be held at the call of the chairman and at such other times as the board may determine The chairman or in his absence the acting chairman may administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses All hearings of the board shall be public The board shall keep minutes of its proceedings showing the vote of each member upon each question or if absent or failing to vote indicating such fact and shall keep records of its examinations and other official actions all of which shall immediately be filed in the office of the board and shall be a public record

Section 11 In the event of conflict between any airport zoning regulations adopted under this act by a political subdivision and other airport zoning regulations adopted under this act by any other political subdivision with reference to the same area the more stringent limitation or requirement shall govern and prevail except as provided in Section 5(2)

Section 12 Judicial Review

(1) Any person aggrieved or taxpayer affected by any decision of a board or any joint airport zoning board which is of the opinion that a decision of a board is illegal may present to the court of common pleas a verified petition setting forth that the decision is illegal in whole or in part and specifying the grounds of the illegality Such petition shall be presented to the court within thirty (30) days after the decision is filed in the office of the board

(2) Upon presentation of such petition the court may allow a writ of certiorari directed to the Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals to review such decison of the board The allowance of the writ shall not stay proceedings upon the decision appealed from but the court may on application on notice to the board and on due cause shown grant a restraining order

(3) The board shall not be required to return the original papers acted upon by it but it shall be sufficient to return certified or sworn copies thereof or of such portions thereof as may be called for by the writ The return shall concisely set forth such other facts as may be pertinent and material to show the grounds of the decision appealed from and shall be verified

(4) The court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to affirm modify or set aside the decision brought up for review in whole or in part and if need be to order further proceedlings by the board The findings of fact of the board if supported by competent evidence shall be accepted by the court as conclusive and no objection to a decision of the board shall be considered by the court unless such objection shall have been urged before the board or if it was not so urged unless there were reasonable grounds for failure to do so

(5) In any case in which airport zoning regulations adopted under this act although generally reasonable are held by a court to interfere with the use or enjoyment of a particular structure or parcel of land to such an extent or to be so onerous in their application to such a structure or parcel of land as to constitute a taking or deprivation of that property in violation of the Constitution of this State or the Constitution of the United States such holding shall not affect the application of such regulations to other structures and parcels of land

Section 13 Enforcement and Remedies In addition to the other remedies the political subdivision adopting zoning regulations under this act may institute in any court of competent jurisdiction an action to prevent restrain correct or abate any violation of this act or of airport zoning regulations adopted under this act or of any order or ruling made in connection with their administration or enforcement and the court shall adjudge to the plaintiff such relief by way of injunction (which may be mandatory) or otherwise as may be proper under all the facts and circumstances of the case in order fully to effectuate the purposes of this act and of the regulations adopted and orders and rulings made pursuant thereto

Section 14 Acquisition of Air Rights In any case in which (1) It is desired to remove lower or otherwise terminate a nonconforming structure or use or (2) the approach protection necessary cannot because of constitutional limitations be provided by airport zoning regulations under this act or (3) it appears advisbale that the necessary approach protection be provided by acquisition of property rights rather than by airport zoning regulations the political subdivision within which the property or nonconforming use is located or the political subdivision owning the airport or served by it may acquire by purchase grant or condemnation in the manner provided by the law under which political subdivisions are authorized to acquire real property for public purposes such air right avigation easement or other estate or interest in the property or nonconforming structure or use in question as may be necessary to effecutate the purpose of this act In the case of the purchase of any property or any easement or estate or interest therein or the acquisition of the same by the power of eminent domain the political subdivision making such purchase or exercising such power shall in addition to the damages for the taking injury or destruction of property also pay the cost of the removal and relocation of any structure or any public utility which is required to be moved to a new location

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

NOT VOTING—2

Greenwood, Hoopes,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1110, entitled:

An Act providing for the equalization of salaries for tipstaves in the courts of common pleas oyer and terminer and general jail delivery quarter sessions of the peace county court of Allegheny County and orphans' courts in counties of the second class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 100, as follows:

An Act providing that in cities of the first class in all cases where taxes are due and unpaid upon a single tract of land and it is desired to divide such tract into separate parcels the Board of Revision of Taxes may apportion such taxes ratably between or among the parcels so divided provided that upon payment of the taxes and proper costs on any such parcel it shall be released from the lien

Section 1 In cities of the first class in all cases where taxes are due and unpaid upon a single tract of land and it is desired by the owner or owners to divide such tract into separate parcels for the purpose of sale or development of one or more such separated portions thereof the Board of Revision of Taxes is hereby authorized to apportion such taxes ratably between or among the parcels so divided In such cases the tax collecting authority shall accept the payment of such amount as represents the taxes penalties and interest due on such fixed and described parcel of the larger tract in the same manner and subject to the same duties relative thereto as if such fixed and described parcel had been assessed as one parcel of real estate in the original assessment Provided however a written application for such division as above set forth shall contain the terms of a bona fide agreement of sale or plans of development of said separated parcel or parcels

Section 2 Upon payment of the taxes and a ratable proportion of the costs in any proceeding upon the lien such parcel shall be released from the lien and a notation to that effect shall be entered upon the record of the lien proceedings

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 581, as follows:

An Act relating to the imposition of costs in criminal cases in counties of the first and second classes providing for such costs to be borne by the Commonwealth in certain cases and imposing duties upon counties and upon the Commonwealth in connection with the costs in criminal cases

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In all cases arising in the criminal courts of this Commonwealth in counties of the first and second classes or in magistrate aldermen and justice of the peace courts in such counties all such items as may now or hereafter be taxed as costs and which under the provisions of applicable laws are chargeable to the defendant prosecutor or the county shall hereafter be ordered to be paid by the defendant the prosecutor or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as the court or jury may direct

Section 2 In all cases where costs are assessed against a defendant or prosecutor but are not paid forthwith the Commonwealth shall be liable for the payment of said costs

Section 3 All costs chargeable to the Commonwealth under sections one or two of this act shall be paid in the first instance by the county as now provided by law

Section 4 The county shall submit semi-annually to the Department of Revenue a statement of costs which have been placed upon the Commonwealth by the court or for which the Commonwealth is liable in default of payment by the prosecutor or defendant The said statement shall show as credits the amount of costs collected from defendants or prosecutor by the county in cases where the county has advanced the costs as provided in section three of this act and fines or other moneys paid by defendants in all cases arising after the effective date of this act

Section 5 The Commonwealth out of funds allocated to the Department of Justice shall reimburse the counties on the basis of the statement provided for in section four

Section 6 Counties are hereby authorized to appropriate such funds as may be necessary for the initial payment of the costs for which under the terms of this act the Commonwealth is to reimburse them

Section 7 All fines and other moneys which defendants are liable to pay and which heretofore have been made payable to the county shall hereafter be made payable to the Commonwealth Said fines and other moneys shall be collected and paid into the county treasury in the manner provided by existing law and shall be allowed as a credit against the total costs paid by the county in criminal cases

Section 8 This act shall not be construed to affect the right of county officers to receive such fees for services rendered in criminal cases as may now or hereafter be properly chargeable as costs of prosecution nor the right to receive payment for the services rendered in collecting fines In all cases where fines have heretofore been payable to the county but are now under the terms of this act payable to the Commonwealth the county officers shall be allowed the same fees for collection as they are now allowed for the collection of fines due the Commonwealth

Section 9 The following acts are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

The act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 554 No 297) entitled "An act to amend section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 1055) entitled 'An act authorizing the release on probation of certain convicts instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries' authorizing courts to require defendants placed on probation to pay money for the use of the county which payments shall not be considered the imposition of a fine or sentence"

The act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1002 No 319) entitled "An act providing for the payment of costs of prosecution in all cases where fines or forfeited bail is payable to the Commonwealth and imposing duties on fiscal officers of the Commonwealth"

Section 10 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 11 This act shall become effective the first day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-six

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 853, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four hundred two of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 853) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" by further providing for the assessment and valuation of buildings under construction repair or reconstruction in counties of the second class

Section 1 Section four hundred two of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 853) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" as amended by the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 143) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 402 Valuation of Property It shall be the duty of the several elected and appointed assessors and in townships of the first class of the assessors assistant township assessors and assistant triennial assessors to assess rate and value all objects of taxation whether for county city township town school institution district poor or borough purposes according to the actual value thereof and at such rates and prices for which the same would separately bona fide sell In arriving at such value the price at which any property may actually have been sold shall be considered but shall not be controlling Instead such selling price estimated or actual shall be subject to revision by increase or decrease to accomplish equalization with other similar property within the taxing district

In determining the value of real estate in counties of the second class for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-five and thereafter no building in the process of construction shall be valued or assessed for any purpose and no building being repaired or reconstructed shall have its prior valuation increased by reason thereof until such construction repairs or reconstruction shall have been completed or is so near completion that such building has been or could be placed in actual use or occupancy

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—2

Greenwood, Hoopes,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 915, entitled:

An Act relating to health and sanitary conditions of leased dwellings in cities of the first class; requiring such cities to establish landlord-tenant codes setting minimum standards for housing facilities relating to health and sanitation; requiring occupancy permits to be issued to landlords; requiring standard leases to be used in the rental of such dwellings; prohibiting landlords and tenants from waiving any provisions of such lease or of existing law, and providing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MYHAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, second line of title, by inserting after the word "class" "creating a Dwelling Inspection Board in such cities and."

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 10, by inserting after the word "directed" "to create a Dwelling Inspection Board of five members, two of whom shall be from the personnel of the Bureau of Housing and Sanitation; two of whom shall be from the membership of the real estate board having the largest number of members and one of whom shall be a tenant. All of the said members of the said board shall be appointed by city council. City councils of said cities are hereby empowered and directed."

Amend Sec. 4, page 3, line 7, by inserting after the word "obtained" "A fee for such occupancy permit shall not exceed the sum of one dollar ($1.00)."

Page two, Section 2, Line 12 insert after the word

"cities" "Which set of standards as to plumbing shall not be below the standards as to any type of dwelling prescribed by existing laws."

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, second line of title, by striking out the word "class," and inserting in lieu thereof: "and second classes."

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out the word "class," and inserting in lieu thereof: "and second classes."

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 10, by striking out the word "class," and inserting in lieu thereof: "and second classes."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1124, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1780) entitled "An act to fix the salaries and compensation of the judges of the Supreme Court of judges of the Superior Court the judges of the courts of common pleas the judges of the orphans' courts the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the judges of the County Court of Allegheny County" by increasing the salaries of judges of the courts of common pleas of certain judicial districts

Section 1 Section four of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1780) entitled "An act to fix the salaries and compensation of the judges of Supreme Court the judges of the Superior Court of judges of the courts of common pleas the judges of the orphans' courts the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the judges of the County Court of Allegheny County" as amended by the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 317) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 The annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas of the first [and] fifth tenth eleventh thirty-second thirty-eighth and forty-fifth judicial districts shall be fourteen thousand dollars ($14,000)

The annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law in judicial districts having a population of [more than two hundred and fifty thousand and less than one million inhabitants shall be twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) in judicial districts having a population of] one hundred thousand and more but less than two hundred and [fifty] eighty thousand inhabitants shall be twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) in judicial districts having a population of sixty-five thousand or more and less than one hundred thousand inhabitants shall be ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in judicial districts having a population of less than sixty-five thousand inhabitants shall be nine thousand dollars ($9,000) The amounts of the salaries to be paid under this paragraph in the respective judicial districts shall be determined and fixed according to the population of such districts as ascertained by reference from time to time to the last preceding decennial United States census

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately on final passage

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I want the Members of the House to know what this bill is. If I understand it correctly, it raises the salary of a few judges in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If we are going to pass a salary raiser for judges, every judge is entitled to an increased salary. It looks to me absolutely unfair to include some judges in our large districts and leave out the rural judges and the judges who are not located in the large districts. I understand that the reason for this increase is because they claim that the judges in these large districts have an increased amount of work. If that is true, why don't they add an additional judge and give another deserving lawyer a chance for a judgeship instead of raising the salary for the judges who are already obtaining a very large salary.

Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, I object to this raiser of judges' salaries because I think it is absolutely unfair to increase the judges' salaries from two to three thousand dollars a year, when you only increase our teachers' salaries from two to three hundred dollars a year. If we are going to be fair, with apologies to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, if we are going to be fair, I want to say it costs just as much for a teacher to live, it costs just as much for a teacher to dress, and they move in just as good society as the judges do. There is no reason in the world why we ought to hand out two or three thousand dollars of an increase to a few judges and almost object to giving our teachers an increase in wages. I am in favor of increased judges' salaries, but I think that the only increase they deserve is the increase in cost of living the same as the teachers of Pennsylvania.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, not with any disrespect to my good friend from Wayne, I wish to say that I don't know that it is necessary to answer that argument.

In the first place if the teachers are entitled to an increase in salary, that is one thing and should have no bearing on the other.

The second is that the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, if he feels that there are any inequalities in other counties then he should introduce bills to take care of those inequalities.

We come from a third class county and this bill only covers that group of counties. He says that if they have any increased work, they should have an additional judge. If we add a judge in Delaware County, that would add twelve thousand dollars a year, while this increase to the four judges in the county would mean eight thousand dollars for the year.

The reason why there should be an increase, and this is an inequality that should be cleared up, is not only because of the increased cost to judges in the first class counties of the Commonwealth and in second class counties, and as I understand it they represent about one judge for every fifty-five or sixty thousand inhabitants, and in third class counties the judges represent one judge to about eighty to ninety thousand per capita.

If you have a classification of counties based on population certainly it would seem to be fair that the judges, if they have an increase in population, should be entitled to equality with the judges in the other counties. I would say to you that the judges in my own county for whom I can speak, and I think I can speak for judges in third class counties, bear a very heavy burden of work. Litigation runs the gamut from small cases to very large cases, and they run from small issues into very extensive issues. It has been said that in the County of Delaware there has been probably a greater variety of trials than in almost any other court in the state of Pennsylvania. So I think that this is a justifiable increase and that there should never have been any inequality in the first class counties, the second class counties and the third class counties. There is entire harmony between them in the amount of work and in the character of the work and in the population distribution, our counties represent a greater number in population than they do in many of the other counties in the state. So I ask you to vote for this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I was astonished and amazed at the statement of the gentleman from Wayne, who had the affrontery to stand up here in public and say that he wondered whether the Members of the House really knew what was in the bill. I thought that he dwelt among the brethren, any one of whom could read a bill and tell what is in it in less than five minutes. He evidently is revealing inside secrets, because I gathered from some of the voting that perhaps his suspicions are correct, and that he does dwell among brethren, many of whom don't know what is in a bill.

I have listened to the gentleman from Delaware, and when his heart bleeds for judges of the Commonwealth, well, he almost convinces me; I sorrow with him, those poor abused men, those judges. I admire his acumen so much, his parliamentary ability so much, in forcing his own particular district out in the front when there is a need, if anything, for an equalization of judges' salaries quite as much as there is for an equalization of teachers' salaries, but because of his size and because of the pitiable condition under which his judge labors, I am afraid I will have to vote for this bill.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the Minority Floor Leader for his comments, especially in reference to the fact that I had read this bill and spent a little time on it.

I have always felt that in addition to a Parliamentarian on the right hand side there should be a reporter on the left hand side, and whenever an important bill is up, that this man can be called upon to explain the bill. I have seen many, including myself as a Member of this House for the past four sessions, vote for bills that they did not understand, and I wish to confess that I was among them.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill—the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware inform me on what basis a judge's salary is made, on the basis of intelligence, legal ability, distinction in the community or what?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would say that the basis in that respect of legal ability or integrity or popularity, their salary would be based just about the same as newspaper editors, there are just as many ignorant, there are just as many crooked and just as many unpopular judges as there are newspaper editors, only, if I may say so, I think that the judiciary—I am going to change that, I see the gentleman from Cambria walking down the aisle—I was going to say that the judiciary was worth a little bit less perhaps than the gentleman from Cambria or the gentleman from Wayne.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask a personal question of the gentleman from Delaware, would the gentleman consider that the intelligence of the editor of, for instance, the Wayne County Citizen, or the gentleman from Cambria, the Minority Leader, would entitle us to a salary of ten thousand dollars a year, the same as a judge?

Mr. TURNER. Knowing, Mr. Speaker, that I have legislation upon this calendar, by advice of counsel I refuse to answer.

Mr. DIX. I think that will be sufficient for the gentleman from Delaware. He has not answered me but I will leave it up to the Members of the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think that is a very safe place to leave it. Anyone is as good a judge as I am as to whether or not the gentleman from Wayne is entitled to ten thousand dollars a year. Now, let me say Mr. Speaker, I know the county that the gentleman from Wayne comes from very well and I know it's inhabitants, and if the gentleman from Wayne would get ten thousand dollars a year I don't know what he would do with it in Wayne County.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I would go fishing with the gentleman on Wallenpaupack Lake.

Mr. TURNER. I am in favor of that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to call attention to the fact that perhaps I should not bring editors into this particular matter. I just wanted to call attention to the fact that a teacher has to have a much better education to be a teacher than a man has to have to be a judge.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I am going to prove it. It is not necessary for a judge to go to college; he doesn't need to go to college. A teacher has to spend four years in a college but any person of average intelligence may study law with some ordinary lawyer and if he is smart enough and passes the examinations he can become a judge—if the people will vote for him.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state it

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, what bill are we discussing?

The SPEAKER. House Bill 1124.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I didn't know that the teachers' bill had been reported out of committee.

Mr. DIX. It is out of committee, Mr. Speaker, or it was.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state it.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I think we ought to confine ourselves to the bill before the House.

Mr. DIX. I think we are, Mr. Speaker. We are talking about salary raisers.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. Members will confine themselves to the question before the House.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I simply wanted to add that I believe the teachers of Pennsylvania are just as well educated as the judges and it requires much more money and much more ability to be a teacher than to be a judge.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Wayne asked what the judges' qualifications should be, intelligence or the amount of education he has, and a number of other questions of that nature. I believe it depends partly upon his political strength, but personally I am against a raise in judges' salaries.

In my county we have a judge who has retired. He was twenty years on the bench, and one of the very able judges of the state. He now receives a pension of five thousand dollars a year. He made two hundred thousand dollars while he was a judge and is now pensioned with a pension of five thousand dollars a year. It know many men in my county who have worked all of their lives much harder than any judge ever did, and perhaps averaged two thousand dollars a year, and if they are sixty or seventy years of age, they can get a thirty-five or forty dollar pension. I think it is absolutely unjust to raise judges salaries.

Mr. ANDREWS. I am speaking primarily, Mr. Speaker, to the Members on this side of the House. Our caucus endorsed this bill. In obedience to the caucus instruction I personally shall vote for this bill but I might say to the Members of the House on this side that I do not think a bill of this character should have been made a subject of action on the part of the party caucus, and while I will be bound by the caucus I certainly will not hold it against any Member on this side who prefers to exercise his own judgment upon this particular bill and bills of this same nature.

Mr. ROBERTSON. As I understand the situation in this bill, Mr. Speaker, it seems to be asked for by only one judge. I know very well that the judges in the county in which I live, or the presiding judge, is strongly opposed to this measure. In our county the judge gets a salary of twelve thousand dollars a year, that is one thousand dollars a month. The judges there are all worth it, there is no question about their ability and I think they are satisfied with the salary that they are receiving. They have no expenses whatsoever, their library is furnished and I think they should be well satisfied, and I know they are, with the salary they receive. In my opinion and in the opinion of the President Judge of our county, any judge who is not satisfied with the salary he is receiving has the privilege of resigning, and they tell me that if any judge should resign his office, it would soon be taken up by another lawyer—that about ninety-nine per cent of the attorneys today would be willing to take the job. I think under those conditions, and inasmuch as this bill is designed primarily to benefit but one judge, it should be defeated.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Speaker, I hope this bill passes because I am convinced that the alliance between Delaware County and the Democrats will have been balanced and they will not owe each other anything anymore. Then our Delaware County Members will be free to vote for some good Republican measures.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am always glad to have all the allies I can in a good cause and if that alliance causes good legislation to be passed in this House I am perfectly satisfied with the action in the past, and will pursue the same course in the future whenever I deem it proper to do so.

I do not think that the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia was meant in any other vein than in an attempt to be facetious. I do not think it has anything to do with the question before the House at the present time.

I had not intended to devote any time in debate on this matter because I felt that the question was an obvious one. When salaries were fixed by the act back in the time before the income tax, the salary was twelve thousand dollars. That was fixed, I don't know how many years ago. I think it was in the early part of my experience here in the House, so it must have been a considerable time ago. There is not a man on the bench in Delaware County except one, and I may be doing him an injustice, if I say this, but I say I know there are two men on the bench in Delaware County who earned much more than the judge's salary when they went on the bench. It is true that any number of lawyers in any county would like to be a judge; it is true that a lot of lawyers who maybe never made twelve thousand dollars would like to be a judge, but the question is do you want to keep the standard of your bench up or do you only want to make it possible for men who have grown old and who have an independent income or have amassed somewhat of a fortune in the practice of law, to become judges in your county? It has been said in the past that many times it is an advantage to the bench to have younger men go on the bench in order that in a few years they may gain the necessary training to make them of real value to the judiciary, to the Bar and to the people. If you want to do that you must make open the way for men to receive an adequate income, an income by which they can maintain the kind of position that is necessary for a judge in the county of Delaware, and in many other counties I know like ours, a position that requires money to maintain.

You cannot expect a man who becomes the judge to cut his ordinary living in half and go back to a standard that is far below that which he may have had. He may have a family, he may be of the proper caliber for a judge at a time in life when he has children to educate. He may be just at the time of life when his children go to college and any of you who have had any experience in sending your sons and daughters to college know what that means in the way of expense. Therefore, you are depriving many men of an opportunity if you keep down the judges' salaries.

I realize there are counties in this state in which there may be judges who are perfectly satisfied with the salaries they have, but I am speaking not only for the judges of the present, I am thinking of the judiciary of the future. We pay in this state some of the smallest salaries paid in comparable states. New York State pays far more, and over in England they pay twice what we pay judges in courts of similar jurisdiction. They believe in England that they should pay a judge a high salary not only to maintain his position but in order that he may be relieved from all temptation by reason of any necessity of his own personal expenses or those of his family, that might induce him to do something that was not to the best interests of the state.

I would say, Mr. Speaker, that while we have had a lot of fun about this, while there has been a lot of levity and facetiousness about it, I think this is a fundamental proposition. If you are going to hold the judiciary open to the caliber or kind of men that you want to go on the bench, or if you are going to restrict it to the unfit, those who cannot make enough money in practicing at the Bar without making it an incentive to go on to the bench, or those who have grown rich and are able to stand the reduction in salary, then, of course, that is a policy that you can put into effect. I know that in many of the rural districts of this state five or six thousand dollars a year is sufficient for a man to live on in very good circumstances. I know that his personal expenses are very light, though I will say to you that a salary of $10,000 a year in Delaware County, comparing the cost of living, is about $8,000 a year, and this bill—just one last word to clear away the smoke and the fog—this bill is not the desire of one judge. I was asked to introduce this bill originally by two of the judges of my county, and joined in it later by a third. I was then approached by the gentleman who is co-sponsor with me, who came to me and told me that the judges in his county had asked him to see me and talk about co-sponsoring this bill. I believe, therefore, it is not just one judge and it would be unfair to think so. If it were just one judge, I might not pay much attention to it, but is is is my firm conviction that the judges in this Commonwealth, from the Supreme and Superior Courts on down are not paid sufficient money for the position and the responsibility that is placed upon them.

Mr. MAHANEY. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, that judges perhaps should have a little more money in the light of higher income taxes and so forth. However, I do not believe that this bill is the way to accomplish this purpose. I think we should have brought out a bill to equalize the judges' salaries all over the State of Pennsylvania.

Perhaps many of us, Mr. Speaker, do not know that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is the one that pays the judges' salaries. Perhaps some of the members feel that each county pays the judges' salaries. However, that is not true, the Commonwealth pays the judges their salaries in each county. In order to raise the judges' salaries in some of the counties you are asking the citizens of the other class counties to stand that increase while denying an increase to the judges in that particular class of counties. I feel that each class county should get some equalization for the judges. My judge would like to have a salary increase but I do not believe he wants to take part of the salary he gets to pay into the coffers of the State of Pennsylvania to raise the salaries of judges in other class counties while he is denied an increase himself.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I think this bill is unfair and that is the reason I am going to vote against it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, quoted one of my favorite sayings "Let's be fair." After listening to the discussion on this particular bill I think that it is being fair.

If the gentleman who just spoke wishes to have his judge's salary increased why doesn't he introduce a bill to have it done? I think this bill is fair and I ask the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, to be fair and vote for this bill.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate, Mr. Steinfelt, being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid on the table.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. SALUS,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 95, as follows:

An Act conferring upon the Councils of cities of the first class the power and devolving upon them the duty of fixing and determining the salaries wages and other compensation payable out of the treasury of such cities from and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six of all public officers clerks and other public employes except the salaries of elected officers whose salaries are fixed by law and except the salaries wages or other compensation of officers clerks and employes of the courts which are fixed by law or by the courts

Section 1 That from and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six the salaries wages and other compensation of all public officers clerks and employes payable out of the treasury of any city of the first class shall be fixed and determined by the council of such city by ordinance except such salaries of elected officers which are or may be fixed by law and the salaries wages and other compensation of officers clerks and employes of the courts which are or may be fixed by law or by the courts

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed to the extent of such inconsistency it being the intent and purpose of this act to establish a uniform and complete system except as aforesaid of the fixing and determination of all salaries wages or other compensation of public officers clerks and employes payable out of the treasury of such cities thereby unifying and co-ordinating as far as may be practicable that power and duty with the power to raise revenue by taxation and otherwise

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TATE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SALUS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Speaker, I will be very brief and I will askk the Members to bear with me for just a few minutes.

I desire to ask the gentleman whether it is his understanding that this bill will place all salaries in the city and county of Philadelphia under the control of City Council with the exception of the Court of Common Pleas and elective officers.

Mr. SALUS. I think it would, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Speaker, and it is my personal understanding that once this control is given, will there be any standard and guarantee of salary or wage scale in the departments affected and if so,——

Mr. SALUS. I did not get the question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TATE. I repeat, Mr. Speaker, once this control is given will the sponsor tell me whether or not there will be a standard and guarantee of scale of wages and salaries to which the City Council will be committed?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Speaker, I understand that for a long space of time in Pennsylvania the Pennsylvania Economy League, which is a non-political organization, not supported either by Republicans or Democrats and not particularly liked by either of them, has established a standard of regulations of pay for the various employees of the city of Philadelphia, and that City Council has adopted that standard. I have the book right here, it contains a number of pages and it will take the balance of the afternoon to go over it. In that schedule they regulate the standard of wages with an increase each successive year for a period of five years for the various employees of the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman whether or not this so-called annual increment to the employes of the City of Philadelphia from sixty dollars each year in some instances to two hundred dollars in other instances, will cost the taxpayers of the City of Philadelphia any money?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Speaker, it will of necessity cost the taxpayers of the City of Philadelphia money, on the theory that a party who is a delingent employe, an honest employe and a man who devotes his full time to his work is entitled to some consideration the same as the employe of any other establishment anywhere else. In other words, it is an advancement for failthful service.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman prepared to say that the Council does not follow this system at the present time, that is fair pay for a fair day's work?

Mr. SALUS. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that they do follow that system except to this extent. I believe that the employes of the City of Philadelphia now are the lowest paid employes of any kind anywhere in America. Many of them, both Democratic and Republican employes maintain their jobs partly because they are on a pension and partly because of the fact that they are loyal to their city.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Speaker, one more question. Is the gentleman familiar with House Bill 2 which passed this Legislature in the year 1943, at which time the county employes received a cost of living increase in the city of Philadelphia in the neighborhood of five hundred thousand dollars?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Speaker, I am very much familiar with the Act of 1943, and this present act is being presented here just because of the Act of 1943. The Act of 1943 allowed Council of Philadelphia to give a bonus of four hundred dollars to various employes in the city. This has resulted in many of them remaining on their jobs and it is because of this bonus more than for any other reason that we are endeavoring to have this present bill passed.

Under the Act of 1943 at the cessation of hostilities and one year afterthat, this bonus dies out. If it so happens that this Legislature is adjourned at the termination of the war, having arrived at the end of one year, the bonus would lapse. Now then, gentlemen, it is mainly on account of that that we are asking that this bill be passed. Many of the men in service were former city employes. When they left the employment of the city of Philadelphia they were assured, as they are now assured, that when they return they will get their old positions back. Persons have filled those positions and are only temporary employes, and it would be a sad condition of affairs if when these men return from the war and come back to their positions as city employes that City Council would be in no position to pay them that four hundred dollar bonus that the others not in service now are receiving. It is for that reason more than any other reason that we are anxious to have this bill passed, so that when the boys come home they will get the same pay as those who stayed home to fill their jobs while they were away.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Speaker, at this I rise in opposition to this bill, first, because it appears to bring about an increase in the salaries of employes of the City of Philadelphia in the face of anticipated shortages. Not so long ago we passed a budget involving around eighty-six million dollars and only within the last two months it was necessary for us to pass in our City Council a measure requiring additional revenues to meet the anticipated shortages. This measure will further increase our payroll burden.

A cost of living increase was given to these men just a few years ago, and the Senator is correct in saying that the cost of living increase will cease once the war is ended, plus six months after the cessation of hostilities. However, I would like to call the attention of the House to the fact that ever since the year 1868 these departments have had the legislative prerogative of extending a leveling influence so far as their payroll situation is concerned.

This measure is really an effort on the part of City Council of Philadelphia to control the patronage situation there. If the sponsors of this bill had been sincere, so far as the cost of living increase is concerned, they would have introduced another measure. Howere, they want to go the whole hog and freeze forever the control of salaries in the City of Philadelphia at the expense of the taxpayers. I believe that this situation, even though it may be considered proper in many circles, it shoulld not be considered at this time. We have as many people know, for many years been trying to get City Council to consolidate the city and county of Philadelphia. That is a matter which will permit the people of Philadelphia to vote, and the people of the City of Philadelphia have the right to be heard on a measure of this kind. So I would say that we should postpone any action on a measure of this kind until the City-County consolidation cames before the public.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Speaker, as you all know, the City Council of Philadelphia are the taxing body and raises funds to run the City. They ought to have the right to say how the money should be spent. This is purely a question of home rule. So far as the boys across are concerned, our present year's budget takes care of that, and they have the money to pay them. The question is if it happens next year and there is no Legislature here, many of our county officers who are city employes would get their bonus, but many of those whose salaries are fixed by the Legislature will not get it because City Council will not have the right to pay them.

There is no effort in this measure except to do the fair and decent thing by the boys who have gone across and who are offering their all for the salvation of America. So far as we on the Republican side are concerned, we want to feel that we have done our best to save their jobs and their salaries. If my friends on the Democratic side wish to assume the burden and unfortunately they shouldn't get the money, then you have to answer, not we. There is no desire on the part of Council or anyone else in connection with this bill to do anything except to be fair, square and honest to the boys that are now across the seas and throughout the world.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Speaker, in replying to the gentleman very briefly, I would like to say this, that since 1940 the City of Philadelphia has had the benefit of close to one hundred million dollars of additional revenue from the wage tax, and City Council has dissipated that revenue on payrolls alone. They have not spent anything on post-war planning. It is my opinion and the opinion of many of my friends on this side that we should take into consideration, before we spend too much money on payrolls, we should spend some money on post-war planning for the benefit of the City of Philadelphia, which needs it very badly.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. Tate, Verona and Mrs. Varallo asked for a verification of the roll.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I was out of the hall of the House during the first part of the calling of the roll and returned just at the completion of the roll. Do I have a right to vote?

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman was in the hall of the House during the calling of the roll he has the right to vote.

Mr. TURNER. I was not in the hall of the House during the entire calling of the roll. I was out and returned before the roll was concluded.

The SPEAKER. The Chair informs the gentleman that he is qualified to vote if he was in the hall of the House at any time during the calling of the roll.

Mr. TURNER. I desire to be recorded as voting "aye," Mr. Speaker.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I entered the hall of the House just as the roll was being recorded. I wish to be recorded as voting "no."

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I had agreed that House Bill 853 should not come up for final passage today. By some mistake it did and I, therefore, move that the vote by which House Bill No. 853, Printer's No. 401, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four hundred two of the act approved the twenty-second day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 853), entitled "An act relating to taxation; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes; providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county purposes, and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations; amending, revising and consolidating the law relating thereto; and repealing existing laws," by further providing for the assessment and valuation of buildings under construction, repair or reconstruction, in counties of the second class.

on page 13 of today's calendar, passed finally, be reconsidered.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bentley vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. TAHL.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 284, as follows:

An Act to further amend sections four and five of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" providing for optional increases in payments by employes and increasing the maximum monthly pension payments in such cases

Section 1 Section four of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriations of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" as amended by the act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 137) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 During the lifetime of the said person he or she shall be entitled to receive a pension from the fund set aside for the purpose of fifty per centum of the amount which would constitute the average rate of pay at which he or she was employed during the last five years of his or her employment by the said city or other public employment as aforesaid Said pension shall be paid in monthly payments Provided That if any pension be granted to a person who has not been a contributor to the pension fund as herein provided during a period of twenty years such person shall be required to pay into the board of pensions monthly an amount equal to two per centum of his or her pension until such time as his or her contribution shall have extended during a period of twenty years Should any person so employed after twenty years of service be dismissed voluntarily retire or be in any manner deprived of his position or employment before attaining the age of sixty years upon continuing a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service said person shall be entitled to a pension above mentioned notwithstanding he or she has not attained the age of sixty years at the time of his or her separation from the public service but said pension shall not commence until he or she has attained the age of sixty years Should any employe however become totally and permanently disabled while in the service after twenty years of service and before attaining the age of sixty years he or she shall be entitled to the said pension Proof of total and permanent disability shall consist of the sworn statement of three practicing physicians designated by the board that the employe is in a permanent condition of health which would totally disable him or her from performing the duties of his or her position or office Provided That in cases where the nature of such disability is such as to disable the employe from performing any work whatsoever either within or without the scope of his regular duties or within or without the service of such city or county the board may upon a recommendation of the three practicing physicians here provided for retire upon pension such application after a service of fifteen years Provided further That the benefits of this amendment shall apply to members of the pension fund who have been contributors to the said fund for five years or more The pension paid to any one employe whose monthly payments into the pension fund have been four dollars or less a month shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month The pension paid to any one employe whose monthly payments unto the Pension Fund have been more than four dollars a month for a period of at least two years may exceed one hundred dollars per month but shall not exceed two hundred dollars per month Provided That if an employe upon the date of retirement from service shall have made payments of more than four dollars a month unto the Pension Fund for a period of less than two years his or her pension shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month but an amount equal to the total amount paid in excess over four dollars a month shall be returned to such employe

Section 2 Section five of said act as amended by the act approved the fifth day of July one thousanl nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 689) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 5 The city county or other public employes if any herein mentioned shall after the passage of this act pay unto the board of pensions monthly an amount equal to [four] two per centum of their monthly salaries or wages in no event however [paying] shall such employe be required to pay at a rate greater than four dollars a month which shall be applied to the purposes of this act Whenever two per centum of the monthly salary or wages of any such employe shall exceed the sum of four dollars a month any such employe after signifying his or her consent in writing to the Board of Pension shall be permitted to pay unto the Board of Pensions four per centum of the portion of his or her salary or other compensation which is over and above the amount of salary or other compensation which is sufficient to require the monthly payment of four dollars a month at the rate of two per centum of such salary or other compensation and he or she shall thereafter be required to pay such increased monthly rate without regard to the limit of four dollars a month which is herein imposed upon compulsory payments Provided that such additional monthly payments shall not exceed eight dollars a month and the total monthly payment shall not exceed twelve dollars a month Payments at a rate of more than four dollars a month shall not be made prior to September first one thousand nine hundred forty-five but shall begin immediately thereafter for all employes who on that date are members of the Pension Fund and who are eligible and have consented to make such increased monthly payments On and after September first one thousand nine hundred forty-five any employe who shall enter the Pension Fund and whose salary is sufficient to make him or her eligible to make monthly payments or more than four dollars a month shall at the time of entrance into the Pension Fund elect in writing whether his or her monthly payment shall be four dollars a month or at the increased rate hereinbefore provided Any employe who is a member of the pension fund on September first one thousand nine hundred forty-five and whose salary or other compensation is such as to reouire a monthly payment of four dollars or less unto the Pension Fund shall continue to make such payment but if and when his or her salary or other compensation shall be increased to an extent making such employe eligible to make monthly payments of more than four dollars then such employe on the beginning date of such increased salary or compensation shall elect in writing whether his or her monthly payment shall be four dollars a month or at the increased rate hereinbefore provided Payment of the monthly amount or contribution herein mentioned shall cease and be discontinued at the time the beneficiary receives the pension herein provided if such beneficiary has so contributed to the pension fund during a period of twenty years If at the time the beneficiary receives the pension herein provided he or she shall not have been a contributor to the pension fund during a period of twenty years such persons shall be required to pay unto the Board of Pensions an amount equal to four per centum of his or her monthly pension until such time as his or her contribution shall have extended during a period of twenty years If for any cause an employe contributing to the Pension Fund shall cease to be an employe of any such cities of the first class or other county or public employes paid out of the treasury of such cities before said employe becomes ertitled to the pension conferred by this act the total amount of the contributions paid into the Pension Fund by such employe shall be refunded to him in full without interest Provided however If any such emplove shall have returned to him or her the amount contributed as aforesaid and shall afterward reenter such public employment said emplove shall not be entitled to the pension designated until twenty years after the said reemployment unless he or she shall return to the Pension Fund the amount withdrawn in which event the period of twenty years shall be computed from the time said employe first entered the such public service In the event of the death of any employe before the said emplove becomes entitled to the pension aforesaid the said total amount of contributions aforesaid shall be paid over to the estate of said deceased emplove

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. HEATHERINGTON offered a resolution which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 3, 1945.

Resolved, That the Committee on Dairy Industries be discharged from further consideration of House Bill 245, entitled:

"An Act to further amend sections one and two of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred one, (P. L. 327), entitled "Oleomargarine Law", by eliminating the payment of a fee for a license to sell oleomargarine, butterine, or similar substances at retail."

said bill having been referred to the Committee on Dairy Industries Wednesday, January 24, 1945.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I am in no hurry, if the boys——

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bentley.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Heatherington.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BENTLEY. Is the gentleman's resolution directed to the discharge of the Dairies and Industries Committee on the so called oleomargarine bill?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. That is right.

Mr. BENTLEY. Is it not a fact, Mr. Speaker, that a public hearing will be held by the Dairies Industry Committee on this bill tomorrow.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Is the gentleman asking me?

Mr. BENTLEY. Yes, I am addressing my remarks to the Speaker but directed to the gentleman.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. There is a public hearing tomorrow on the oleo bill; whether it is on this particular one or not I do not know.

Mr. BENTLEY. I thank the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker——

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny has the floor. The gentleman said he was in no hurry.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I was only yielding until we got order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair plainly understood the gentleman to say he was in no hurry. The Chair then recognized the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bentley, and he now has the floor.

Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bentley, yield?

Mr. BENTLEY. I yield to the gentleman. I want to be fair, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, this is another one of these discharge resolutions. The gentleman asked a question with regard to a public hearing on the oleo bills. It has been customary in this House on this type of legislation or on any legislation that the bills be reported to the floor of the House and be given two readings and then recommitted for a public hearing. Of course you can readily see that that was not carried out in this case. We had a public hearing last week on these bills and we have another one scheduled for tomorrow.

I was just wondering if it was not due to the fact that they feel that the membership of this House will vote for these particular bills if they get to the floor of this House. I think the sentiment in this House is in favor of passing these oleo bills, and I am afraid that the Chairman of the Committee or the Committee itself are afraid to have the bill reported out for two readings for fear that they might never get it back into committee.

This is the only means we have in order to get this legislation on the floor of the House. I feel very confident that the membership of this House is in favor of this particular legislation. I ask the membership to vote for this discharge resolution so that we may bring this legislation to the floor of the House and pass it in the interests of the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I want to set the record clear as to my vote on this discharge resolution and the reasons for it. It seems to me there is a time and a place for discharge resolutions, and I asked the question whether or not there was a public hearing scheduled for tomorrow on this bill, confident that the answer would, of course, be that there is. I understand it is a second public hearing. It seems to me that the matter is proceeding in an orderly fashion.

I do not know what the result would be if the bill came out of Committee to the floor of this House. With a public hearing scheduled for tomorrow and the bill on the floor of the House I sincerely doubt whether any proper public hearing could be held on it. The people undoubtedly are coming from all over the state on this thing. It seems to me that this discharge resolution is either too early or too late. It is certainly not proper at this time.

I might say that I propose to vote for these bills if and when they come on the floor of the House and if after this public hearing there is no action by the Committee I will be in full accord with the motion to discharge the committee. However at this time with a public hearing scheduled for tomorrow it seems to me highly irregular and improper to take the bill from the Committee that proposes to hold a public hearing, and place it on the floor of the House. For that reason I am going to vote against the discharge resolution.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inquire of the gentleman whether he desires to interrogate on the resolution? This is a resolution and not a bill.

Mr. NAGEL. I desire to interrogate on the statement made by the sponsor of this resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that there is a public hearing scheduled on this particular bill for tomorrow?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I understand that there is a public hearing tomorrow by the Committee on Dairy Industries, and I have said that I am not sure whether it includes this bill or any other oleo bill. I only know that there is a public hearing before the Committee on Dairy Industries.

Mr. NAGEL. On what does the gentleman base his statement, or where did he get his information, if he cares to tell, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. No, I would not care to tell, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. NAGEL. That is all. I thank you.

Mr. Speaker, I noticed some time ago, or just a short time ago on the bulletin board that there would be a public hearing before the Dairy Industries Committee, but it designates no bills. Now, I am not in a position to know how many bills are in the hands of this Dairy Industry Committee, nor do I know from that statement whether or not any of the oleo bills will be considered. I might also state that at the hearing held one week ago tomorrow, a statement was made on the board, and "public hearing" written inconspicuously so it was scarcely legible.

Members of the House, we have had one Member object to this procedure. Perhaps it is irregular, perhaps it is not right, but I am sorry indeed as a Member of this great body that we must resort from time to time to measures of this kind in order to get bills out of Committee that are demanded and urged by the public and by the press and still they are held in committee, action is delayed, and delayed from time to time. I am wondering if these Committees of the House that have been requested to discharge bills think that they are the only persons that are endowed with knowledge and good judgment. Do they think the balance of the Members of this House have no thinking powers, no reasoning powers, or that their intelligence does not go beyond the intellectual horizon of an imbecile? I am sorry if that be the case; I hope it is not.

We have been patient with these bills that were introduced and were referred to the Committee on January 24. There was ample time to consider them, and I consider it the height of folly and a silly movement to hold two hearings on these particular bills when it all could have been done on one day.

When the Chairman of this Dairy Industries Committee was questioned concerning this, and asked why the hearing was not had all on one day, he said "How could we have a hearing on both sides in just one hour of time?" Well now, that is a poor alibi. If the bills had been considered at the proper time there is no question in my mind but that these bills could have been given time to have had that hearing for both those for and against the bill at one sitting. It seems to me that the purpose behind this is to delay and to continue to delay. Some selfish interests may be back of this—I know not what. I know there are influences that are holding these bills in Committee, but it seems to me that the idea is to hold them in committee so that if in some miraculous manner the lid is lifted and these bills come on the floor of the House and they receive favorable action, at the end of the session we would find them just half way between this House and the Senate.

Now, that is undemocratic. That is a way of defeating a bill. Are we afraid? I want to serve notice to my side of the House, and a solemn promise to this side of the House that if our side of the House ever becomes a majority and I am at that time a Member I will offer a resolution making the number necessary to discharge a committee ten less than a minority membership. I don't care what it is, what number that is, but I will stand by that pledge.

This is an unstatesmanlike manner of proceeding in our House. It is a tradition of the past and should be relegated to the past. When twenty-five per cent of the membership of this House desire a bill released from Committee it might be done peaceably and quietly by a petition and brought on the floor of this House so that it might be considered.

These bills that we are asking for this afternoon may have faults, they may have parts that need to be amended. If it is desired that these bills be made emergency measures for the duration, I am sure the sponsors of these bills would offer no serious opposition. If the penalty is not severe enough for violation of these bills, make the penalty what you please, even though it be capital punishment, but we want to get oleo to the crying public of Pennsylvania so that our merchants can handle it, so that our people can get it, so that the people on the border-line between Pennsylvania and West Virginia are not discriminated against.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman please confine himself to the question on the resolution which is to discharge the committee.

Mr. NAGEL. Thank you Mr. Speaker, I will try to do that.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the membership of this House to lay aside this old tradition for getting bills to the floor of this House. The closing hours of the session of yesterday, which was early this morning, demonstrated to all of us that a movement is on foot, and there is a strong sentiment for changing the procedure on the floor of this House, getting away from the old traditions and adopting something new that will meet the demands of the public. I ask you to vote for this present resolution.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I support this resolution for this reason; it will be probably the only opportunity you will have to vote on the Nagel-Yester oleo bill if this resolution falls. You are voting in principle for more than the resolution to discharge the committee.

Mr. FRANK E. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Beaver and some of the other gentlemen who have spoken with reference to this resolution to discharge the committee from further consideration of the oleo bills, I would like to state that a sub-committee was appointed to study the five oleo bills that were put into that committee, I think on the motion of Mr. Nagel, and I do not believe that I am divulging any secrets when I say that he amended the motion to make it a sub-committee of five to study these bills.

That committee was appointed before it had very much time to consider them. The proponents of these bills asked for a hearing, and the earliest they could have it was March 28, I believe. When they had the hearing opponents of this bill asked for a hearing, and it was granted one week later which is tomorrow. I don't think this committee is dilatory in reporting these bills out. I think this House well knows that the purpose of committees is to study bills, and I believe that after the two hearings have been held and the sub-committee reports, that the chances of these bills coming out will probably be as good as the chances of a lot of other bills coming out of committee in this House.

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, in asking for the discharge of the committee, it is not the committee, I'll tell you plainly, it is the Chairman. Go out to that board and see if there is anything in regard to a public hearing on the oleo bill. There is a public hearing but there is nothing said about that, and there is no number or anything else stated as to what they would consider.

It was fully a month agao that it was decided to have these public hearings. The first was put two weeks in advance and the next one a week further on. As long as I have been in this House I do not remember of having two hearings on one bill, and it is my opinion that everything is done to prolong bringing these bills out. I have received hundreds and hundreds of letters in favor of those bills and I have not received one opposed to them.

Now, there is reason for discharging the committee. As I said, the committee seems to be all right, but absolutely the Chairman is trying to do something to prolong it.

Mr. LICHTENWTLTER. Mr. Speaker, I was not going to inject myself into this debate, but the gentleman who has just spoken has said that the entire fault or lack of consideration of these bills is due to the Chairman.

I recall very vividly that before the last meeting of this committee, which was held as a public hearing on the oleo bills, there was an announcement from the desk and I believe there will be an announcement from desk before we leave this hall this afternoon, stating that a public hearing on all the oleo bills will be held.

The gentlemen from Beaver and Allegheny, I imagine have some pride in authorship. I have also received a lot of letters regarding the oleo bills, but I will say that I have not received more letters for the oleo bills with the names of Nagel and Yester then I have for this particular bill.

Now, the only way we are going to agree on some legislaton, if the committee feels it is desirable to have this type of legislation, is to have a public hearing, and if it is held for the benefit of the opponents of the bill at one hearing and then a week later for the proponents, I see nothing wrong in that, and that is not a new precedent in this House.

I think the gentlemen who have asked for the discharge of this committee might have received more support if they had included all the oleo bills, because I know from my experience in receiving of mail, that the mail received by others is the same as mine. There are many bills covering the subject, and it is for this particular bill that these gentlemen are asking to discharge the committee. I think the Committee was fair. In fact it was stated that the attitude of the Chairman and the entire Committee was very fair; they were very much pleased with the manner in which these public hearings were handled. I see no reason why we should discharge the committee when they acted in good faith, when they had a public hearing at which the people interested in these bills could be heard. I, therefore, ask that the resolution be defeated.

Mr. MILLIKEN. Mr. Speaker, I am the sponsor of one of these oleo bills, and on last Wednesday we had a public hearing attended by everybody who wanted the oleo bills passed. Tomorrow we are gong to have a public hearing for everybody opposed to these oleomargarine bills. I think the committee is doing a very fine job. I am a member of the committee, and I ask the members to vote down this resolution.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker——

The SPEAKER. The Chair is endeavoring to hurry the session along as much as possible because of a committment made with the newspaper correspondents. Will the members please try to cooperate?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I want to sympathize with the Chair when he makes commitments in the House of Representatives. We as Members of this House have a perfect right to be notified of all commitments made with anybody, and as Members of this House——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. HARE. The gentleman is not speaking on the question before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentle will confine himself to the subject.

Mr. LOVETT. The subject before the House, Mr. Speaker, as far as I could see is the Speaker had made a commitment. Would the gentleman say that is not true?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman raised the point of order, that the gentleman is not speaking on the question. The point of order is well taken and the gentleman will confine himself to the question before the House.

Mr. LOVETT. Under the resolution to discharge the committee, Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bentley.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BENTLEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know how long these bills have been in committee?

Mr. BENTLEY. I have heard it stated on the floor of the House that the date of introduction of the bill to which this particular resolution is addressed was March 21st.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman realize that the Floor Leader has just made the statement that the public hearing will be announced before this session is over?

Mr. BENTLEY. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. And to my knowledge that is the only time that was announced, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BENTLEY. I heard the Floor Leader's remarks, but I also consulted with the Chairman of the Committee, who told me that this public hearing was to be held tomorrow on all oleomargarine bills. I am also advised that at last week's meeting it was announced that this week a hearing would be held for the opponents of this bill, so that at least one week's notice, I understand, was given to the proponents.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman know, as I have been informed, Mr. Speaker, that the attendance was very poor at the last hearing due to the fact of a lack of advertising?

Mr. BENTLEY. I don't know, Mr. Speaker, why the gentleman is asking me that.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, there is another statement that should be made in regard to this resolution. The gentleman who had the resolution prepared had considered having all the bills on oleo included, but due to some misunderstanding in having this resolution drafted it was not in proper form, therefore, in order to save the time of the House we drafted the resolution in such a way that it only applied to one bill. So I say to the Floor Leader, Mr. Lichtenwalter, that it was the intent of the men who were trying to discharge this committee to have all the legislation, all the bills brought to the floor of this House for consideration.

I want to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bentley, that I know of no reason why these bills could not be reported to this House and be placed upon the table, laid over, have the public hearing and have action on the bills tomorrow. For that reason I ask for a verification of the roll call.

The SPEAKER. The roll will have to be called first.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Heatherington and Mr. Lovett.

Messrs. Hare, Turner and Bower asked for a verification of the roll.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1945. 136th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 29. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1945. No. 39.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 4, 1945.

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Always, O God, we are in Thy presence, but too often we are not conscious of Thee. The cares of the world and the pursuit of worldly honors and pleasures take precedence. Outwardly, at least, we give Thee first place in this day's proceedings. Continue with us throughout the day. In all that we plan or do may we seek to honor Thee.

To meet our obligations to God and the state a degree of wisdom superior to that we possess is necessary. Thou art the fountain of wisdom and will give liberally to all who ask "in faith, nothing wavering." May we be humble enough to ask, proud to receive and confident to act. If we so do our state will be the beneficiary, and we ourselves will never have to apologize to anybody, and will have consciences void of offense.

That wisdom and faith for which we pray we ask Thee to give to all in authority and in our Nation, whether they are at home or abroad. May all their plans and the execution thereof have this purpose: the good of all the people. That and that only will be to the glory of God, which is "man's chief end."

All we ask is in the name of Him, who in His life here taught us by example how to live. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HEYBURN and Mr. LETZLER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, yesterday there was an announcement that today there would be a meeting of the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, in the Senate Caucus Room, immediately upon adjournment, but the caucuses of both parties have been longer than usual, and the Calendar is also long and involved, and it seems to me, after consulting with some of my colleagues, as if the opportunity for a meeting of the committee today is out of the question.

Under those circumstances I would like to announce, having gotten requisite permission, that the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions will not meet today but will meet on Monday, April 9, at twelve o'clock noon in the Senate Caucus Room.

I make this announcement particularly because there are a number of bills relating to pensions of the blind before our committee, and a number of the blind are here, and consequently I am very anxious that they should have full opportunity to present whatever arguments they may have on any phases of the question. The only thing we ask is that the meeting be postponed until Monday, when the committee can attend. Thank you very much.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to advise the gentleman from Montgomery that on Monday at twelve o'clock we have a bi-partisan conference with the Governor. I must be at the meeting of the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions because I am vitally interested in legislation affecting the blind. I also believe that the hour of twelve o'clock noon is not agreeable to the members of this side who come from the western end of the state and who can not be here that early.

Mr. EDMONDS. Could you make it at eleven thirty?

Mr. DENT. That makes it worse for the boys who can not get here early, who have to drive in from the western end of the state.

I would like to suggest to the gentleman from Montgomery that he have the meeting on Tuesday, if that is possible.

Mr. EDMONDS. Well, then, with the permission of the gentleman from Westmoreland, I will leave the announcement as it is, and we will see if if we can find a proper time on Tuesday.

Mr. DENT. That is quite all right. Thank you.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Wade asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. JAMES.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PENNSYLVANIA BY MAJOR GENERAL EDWARD MARTIN, GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1945

Members of the General Assembly:

In my message at the opening of this session of the Legislature I recommended that the Legislature give consideration to a program of liberalization of the Workmen's Compensation, Occupational Disease and Unemployment Compensation laws. I pointed out that such a program should give consideration to existing and prospective conditions confronting the State in competition with similar conditions in other States. It was my hope that labor and industry would be able to agree upon fair and equitable amendments to the present laws. I said "If they cannot do so I will not shirk the obligation of making specific recommendations to the Legislature."

Representatives of labor and industry have met from time to time and have made an honest effort to come to a common understanding and agreement. It has been reported to me that although a better understanding and relationship has resulted from these many conferences, they are not, however, able to come to a full and complete agreement with reference to the necessary amendments to these laws.

Therefore, carrying out the obligation in my original message, I make the following specific recommendations:

Workmen's Compensation

I recommend that the maximum payments be increased from $18.00 per week to $20.00 per week and that the minimum payments be increased from $9.00 per week to $10.00.

I recommend that the ceiling of $7,500 placed on permanent and total disability cases be removed and that 500 weeks at $20.00 a week shall mean 500 weeks or $10,000 instead of $7,500.

I recommend that all other money benefits be raised 11 per cent to the even dollar.

Under existing law no compensation is provided for the loss of toes. I recommend that provision be made for specific loss of toes on the following basis: for great toe, compensation for a period of 40 weeks, and for other toe or toes for a period of 16 weeks.

I further recommend that the existing law which defines the loss of a hand or a foot as an amputation below the elbow or below the knee joint be redefined so that the loss of a hand or a foot by amputation at the wrist or ankle joint shall be the loss of a hand or a foot.

I further recommend that a new classification for specific loss be set up for amputations between the wrist joint and the elbow joint and between the ankle joint and the knee joint; that compensation be paid for a period of 195 weeks in the case of an amputation between the wrist joint and the elbow joint, and for a period of 180 weeks for an amputation between the ankle joint and the knee joint.

I also recommend the elimination of the strict and stringent provisions of existing law with reference to hernia resulting from personal injury in the course of employment.

It is further recommended that the provisions of existing law with reference to medical services be liberalized so that the Workmen's Compensation Board may allow medical and surgical services for an additional 30 days beyond that now provided for, at an additional cost not to exceed $75.00, and that hospitalization be extended for an additional 30-day period.

Occupational Disease

I recommend that the Occupational Disease Act be amended so as to provide for the same benefits which I have recommended herein with reference to Workmen's Compensation.

Unemployment Compensation

It is recommended that the benefits under unemployment compensation be increased from $18.00 per week to $20.00 per week, and that the period of payment be extended from 16 weeks to 20 weeks that the waiting period be reduced from two weeks to one week, and that the present law be amended so as to provide for benefits for partial unemployment.

In making these recommendations I have kept in mind and given consideration to existing and prospective conditions confronting this Commonwealth in competition with similar conditions in other states. If the benefits were to be further extended it might result in our inability to compete with similar industries outside of Pennsylvania.

This would result in unemployment. Instead of being beneficial to the employes of our State, it might deprive them of the opportunity to be gainfully employed.

I, therefore, suggest that these recommendations be enacted into law.

EDWARD MARTIN.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, we listened with interest to the reading of the Governor's labor message, or newspaper release, and we hearken back to the early days of the session when the Governor made his appeal to the General Assembly to enact certain legislation relative to labor laws.

Pursuant to that appeal the democratic minority introduced a complete list of labor bills relating to workmen's compensation, occupational disease compensation and unemployment compensation.

The Governor stated at the time of his message that if the labor element within the state could get together on a program, he would be glad to sit down with them, and it was our understanding at that time that any program that they agreed on, within reason, would be acceptable to the Governor.

Later he amended that statement by saying after labor had agreed upon a complete program, he said that they should sit down with industry.

As I understand the picture, from reading this message—and I must say and confess to you that I must see the legislation before I can give you our direct position on the Governor's proposal, I have talked to some of the men who represent various branches of labor here in Harrisburg and they tell me that the Governor's proposals are identical with the proposals offered by industry to labor members in the conference, and so it appears that the compromise has been made in favor of the industrial representatives at the meeting.

It appears to me, from conversations with these leaders, that the recommendations of laboring men in Pennsylvania have been entirely set aside and discarded by the Governor in the writing up of his proposed legislation and so, with only his message to guide me at this time, I can say that we feel that the benefits proposed are inadequate, that the recommendations of the Governor are not in keeping with the progress of the times. The cost of living, as we all know, has reached beyond the extent that the Governor allows, and it seems to me, from just an offhand perusal, I came across on page three where he recommends an additional thirty days of hospitalization and then puts on a ceiling of $75 for the payment of that hospitalization, and I do not believe it can be done.

However, we must wait until the bills are before us. Offhand, as I said before, the position of the Democratic Minority is that the Governor's labor program is inadequate.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. COX asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, the Senate is honored today by the presence of many teachers representing the teachers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I know that the Senate joins with me in welcoming the teachers of Pennsylvania to Harrisburg and I know further, having seen the democratic processes of government in action, that they will understand some of the difficulties and problems which confront the members of the Legislature. I assure them that the Senate of Pennsylvania is in sympathy with their problem and will approach its solution with understanding and kindness.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will proceed.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, yesterday I worked myself up into a mood to make a speech and I modestly walked over and had a chat with the Majority Floor Leader, from Delaware, and told him of my intentions and he in turn sent me over to the press, to get the consent of the press to make the speech, and so I walked over to the press yesterday and I asked the gentlemen and the ladies of the press for consent; a vote was taken, and they all voted "no" and therefore I made no speech. They assured me I could make my speech as of today. I shall be brief.

The PRESIDENT. If the press has no objection I am sure the Senate has none.

Mr. HALUSKA. I want to refer back to the occasion of last Wednesday, at which time I had a cold and could not talk with reference to Senate Bill No. 525, introduced by my colleague from Luzerne, Senator Jones, and myself.

This bill, Mr. President, deals directly with the bond that one must sign before he can obtain relief from this Commonwealth. I have been waiting for the day when we met in session and found a liberal body here, that would once and for all abolish this miserable piece of legislation, and much to my surprise and amazement the bill I mentioned came out of committee and appeared on our Calendar for second reading. However, also much to my surprise, a motion was made to send the bill back to committee for further study. I believe that each and every member in this Chamber knows the contents of that bill, and the bill certainly needs no further study. In all my years on this Hill—and this is my eleventh year—I have never witnessed such political chicanery as has taken place on the recommitment of that bill last Wednesday. After we tried under various rules and ways to be recorded, the record shows yet that a final vote was not taken on recommitment of this bill.

I can fully understand why that was done. It is very apparent that no man wishes to be recorded on this piece of legislation as to sending it back to committee, because the people of the Commonwealth are much perturbed over this bill.

The people I am speaking for, Mr. President, are the ones that are back home, they have no lobbies, they can not afford to come here and tell us of their wishes; they are poor, they are old, they are dependent upon us to give them a livelihood; they are the people who are now in the sunset of life, with but a few years to live, and when they apply for relief or old age assistance, we say to them they must sign this $2,000 bond, regardless of what amount of moneys we might give them. It has certainly been unfair.

Mr. President, I shall not speak about it any more this session, but I am convinced that our practice here is wrong. I have listened to many of the speeches here and we speak so much of Nazism, Communism, Bolshevism and Americanism, and we ourselves are putting that right into the hearts of the younger generation because to the young man today who marries we are telling him in these words: "above all take no part in civic affairs, take no part in community affairs, and by all means take no part in acquiring a new homestead, because if you do, some day you might get old and you must assign that property to us for what moneys we give you." We do just that. A man who has a property must assign it. The public drone, the man who cares not for anything, has no fear; he signs nothing.

That much for the bond; I think we all know it is unfair and I was hoping the bill would come to a vote.

But now, Mr. President, and for the information of my colleagues here, they have developed a so-called new wrinkle, a brand new one I have never heard of, despite the fact that I have studied the relief laws upside down.

I have found out, aside from the $2,000 bond which the Department of Public Assistance wants, that they now have developed a so-called special agreement, and I am certain there is not a man in this Chamber who could get up now and tell me what that special agreement means. If there is I would welcome an explanation.

How far can these people go? How far shall we permit them to go? I am referring now, gentlemen to a case in my own community. I have here a letter from the Department of Public Assistance, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, sent out from 801 Chamber of Commerce Building, Pittsburgh, signed by Saul Werner written to a man in my community who is 72 years of age, who has been a real good citizen, a civic leader, a pioneer of our town, and who in 1938 went bankrupt through no fault of his own and was compelled to apply for relief. He lost his property. In 1943 the property was sold by the county of Cambria for taxes. Back in 1941 this gentleman applied for relief. Three years after the property was sold for taxes it was on the auction block and no one cared to buy it, it is worth so little. His son, living in DuBois, Pennsylvania—entirely another county—was given $78 by his father-in-law to buy this property, after everyone in our county failed to buy it. The Department of Public Assistance found out that this young man bought the property for $78 and so as of March 1 they have discontinued old age assistance to the gentleman and his wife at Patton, solely upon the reason his son bought this property in DuBois and they are asking now for a special agreement. Permit me to read this letter; I shall be very frank about giving their names, because I have their permission. The letter is as follows:

"Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Public Assistance,
801 Chamber of Commerce Building,

Pittsburgh 19, Pennsylvania, March 2, 1945.

"Walter B. and Winifred Elms
DuBois, Pa.

Re: Elms, William C.
Cambria 42336-D; 10305-A

"Dear Sir and Madam:

"We take this occasion to inform you that the Old Age Assistance which has been granted to your father, William C. Elms, Patton, Pa., has been suspended as of March 1, 1945.

"We had a judgment of record against William C. Elms, recorded Feb. 26, 1940 to No. 839 March term 1940. Our judgment, to continue the effectiveness of the lien, must be revived within five years from the date of recording. During our investigation as to the revival we discovered that the property was sold to the County Commissioners for non-payment of taxes, and they in turn conveyed it to you on February 7, 1943 for a consideration of $78.

"It is our contention that the lien of our judgment was not divested by the sale, and that your father still retains an equity in the property, which was originally liened by our judgment. To continue your father's eligibility for assistance, you would be required to furnish us with a Special Agreement, which will be recorded, and which will be for an amount equal to the value of the property. The Old Age Assistance grant for your father will remain suspended until such a time such settlement is arranged.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES C. FREY,
Principal CS Agent.

Claim Settlement Agent."

Now, gentlemen, that, as I said, is a new wrinkle, getting a special agreement. The father has no equity whatsoever in this property. I myself gave the father sufficient money over Easter to keep his body and soul together. The man is 72 years of age and now we allow the Department of Public Assistance to go out and run wild, rampant, and make up any agreement they wish. The time has come, I think, when we should call a halt. If it takes a new bill, let us pass a new bill, let us revise the entire relief law if we must, but these people I speak of can not come to Harrisburg, and some one must take up their cause, and I am certain every member in this Chamber agrees that we have no knowledge of any special agreement. I yesterday called up Mr. Hayes of the department—the new secretary, I believe—and he himself informed me that he has no knowledge of it and he is somewhat bewildered over the action of the Pittsburgh board. Every board seems to have its own rules and regulations and seem to do as they wish. What can be done, Mr. President, I do not know, but I believe these men should be called in, brought before a committee, and have them give us an explanation of what they mean by special agreements, by putting the fear of God in the old people who can not help themselves.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. GOURLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. GOURLEY. Mr. President and my colleagues in the Senate, at the Newspaper Guild banquet last night, I was so impressed by the remarks made by John McCullough, representative of the Philadelphia Inquirer, who has been acting as a war correspondent in the Pacific area, and the remarks that were made by Under-secretary of War, Mr. Patterson, that I became inspired to the point where I feel it my duty to make these few remarks.

During the last few weeks I had occasion to visit two of the largest naval bases that we have in the United States, one being at Camp Endicott, Davisville, Rhode Island, which is the naval construction training center for the Sea-Bees—that base has a personnel of twenty to thirty thousand men. I also had occasion to visit the United States Naval Air Base at Quonset, which is the last training that our naval fliers receive before being assigned to combat work and to aircraft carriers.

During that visit I had the privilege of going through those camps from end to end, in somewhat of a confidential manner. I talked with approximately 75 men, 16 of whom were from the state of Pennsylvania. I asked those men, for information purposes, I said, "Fellows, what do you expect the men of the Legislature and the Congress to do for you, to try to help you after you are discharged from service?" And in each instance, in their own way of expression, they would say, "All we want is the privilege to make a living, to get back into industry and to work, and to make our own way in life."

Sincerely, on February 21, 1945, after considerable study of all the laws of these United States and our respective states, I prepared in a rough draft a bill which I thought would be beneficial to those men and women after they were discharged from service, to help them to rehabilitate themselves in one way or the other, where the relief that has been made available for them under the G. I. Bill was not sufficient to give them the help that they needed.

That bill is known as Senate Bill No. 379, and the intention of that bill is to create a Pennsylvania Authority for Veterans. There is no politics behind it—I had nothing in mind in that respect. Three of my colleagues on this side asked me if they could sign that bill with me, to which I offered no objection. That bill has been in our Committee on Banking since February 21. I have appeared before the committee twice in an effort to try and have it considered. Why it has not been considered I do not know.

Gentlemen, under the G. I. Act, when a man is discharged from military service, the federal government will guarantee that man or that woman an education up to $500 a year; the federal government will pay for that person in college $50 a month, if the person has no dependents, and the federal government will pay that person $75 a month, if that person has one dependent or ten dependents; the federal government will also guarantee to any person a loan of up to $2,000, to enter into a business or a profession, but if the person wants to borrow $1,000 to enter business or go into a profession, the federal government will guarantee only up to $500.

Where are a lot of these boys who want to go into a business or profession, or who want to carry on their college work, going to be able to get the balance of the money they need for that purpose? This bill that I have introduced costs the state of Pennsylvania nothing; it means that if an individual could satisfy the Pennsylvania Authority for Veterans that the relief that he is able to get from the federal government is not enough to carry him through in college, to start him in business, or to get him going in his profession, then that person can make application to the Pennsylvania Authority for Veterans for additional help up to $3,000 at an interest rate not exceeding four per cent. What is wrong with it? I am willing to withdraw my name from this bill; I am willing to ask my colleagues to withdraw their names from this bill; I am willing to sponsor any bill with any Republican member of this Senate; I am willing to ask my eighteen colleagues to go along with any bill that any Republican member of this Senate will introduce. I am asking for no glory; I am asking for no publicity. I think we should help these boys.

As John McCullough said, when these boys come home, let us look them in the eye and let us say, "You have done your part, you have lost your buddies; we have done our part while you have been away." It is our duty, gentlemen—somebody please do it.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I submit the following report of the committee to study the necessity for a new Governor's Mansion and request that it be spread on the Journal:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 3, 1945.

Report of the Committee Created by Concurrent Resolution No. 2, Serial No. 4, Joint Legislative Committee to Study the Necessity for a New Governor's Mansion

After due consideration the Committee is of the opinion that there is necessity for a new Governor's Mansion and that the proper place to erect it is on the land purchased by the General State Authority at Front and Maclay Streets in the City of Harrisburg.

The Committee further recommends that the Commonwealth acquire the plot of ground adjoining the plot already owned and known as the Schuddemage property.

The Committee further recommends that Senate Bill No. 31 be enacted into law in order that construction can be commenced when materials are available.

In the course of its study the Committee had occasion to examine the proposed plans for a Governor's Mansion heretofore approved by the General State Authority and it is the studied opinion of the Committee that those plans do not adequately represent the kind and type of structure which should be erected for a Governor's Mansion. The Committee respectfully suggests that if and when appropriate legislation is enacted for the erection of a Governor's Mansion, that new thought be given to plans for a structure which will adequately represent the dignity of a Governor's home.

Mr. WILSON, from the Committee on Law and Order, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 278, entitled:

An Act making it a felony for any person to bribe a participant in any athletic contest.

Mr. CROWE, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 426, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (b) of section four hundred fifteen of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law; providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties and repealing existing laws," by increasing the amount of group life insurance covering certain borrowers and purchasers.

Mr. LETZLER, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 479, entitled:

An Act to enable domestic stock and mutual insurance companies to comply with the taxing statutes and to relieve officers, directors and trustees of domestic stock and mutual insurance companies of personal liability by reason of the payment or determination not to contest payment of any license, excise, privilege, premium, occupation or other fee or tax imposed by any State or political subdivision thereof.

He also, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 590, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 685), entitled "An act designating certain life insurance companies as limited life insurance companies, and further describing the powers thereof," by further describing the powers of limited life insurance companies under certain conditions.

Mr. GOURLEY, from the Committee on Education, reported as amended, House Bill No. 423, entitled:

An Act to amend section two thousand three hundred eleven of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof, providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith," providing temporarily for payment of State Appropriations where schools are closed on account of impassable roads heavy snow or floods.

Mr. WALKER, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 792, entitled:

An Act prescribing the question to be determined in certain cases where a new trial is granted.

Mr. WADE, from the Committee on Banking, to which was referred on March 21, 1945, the following resolution from the House of Representatives reported the same without amendments as follows, viz:

INVESTIGATION OF FINANCE COMPANIES

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1945.

Whereas, There are many ethically conducted and honestly operated companies dealing in consumer credit and engaged in the business of financing on conditional sale or lease, motor vehicles and other articles of personal property, it appears there are also many other finance and consumer credit companies which engage in unscrupulous and unconscionable practices unjustifiably detrimental to purchasers and inimical to public good; and

Whereas, the losses suffered from these nefarious practices fall upon the shoulders of those least able to bear them—the persons in lower income brackets who for want of ready cash are obliged to purchase even necessities on deferred payment bases—to enrich those guilty of chicanery; and

Whereas, shortly there will return to this Commonwealth our native sons and daughters who have so well served their country here and overseas and who will want to take up anew their civil pursuits and reestablish their homes with those necessities which they must have and those luxuries to which they are entitled; and

Whereas, those veterans most of whom gave up lucrative positions of employment in answer to the call of war, may be by the very reason of their patriotism unable financially to attain their just aims without resorting to installment purchases, and accordingly may become the victims of the designing manipulations of dishonest finance companies and others dealing in consumer credit: Therefore, To that end, Be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), The Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly, with the cooperation of the Secretary of Banking the Insurance Commissioner and the Attorney General, is hereby directed to investigate and explore all matters connected with the operation and management of the conditions prevailing in finance companies and others in this Commonwealth dealing in consumer credit or otherwise engaged in the business of financing motor vehicles and other articles of personal property which are sold or leased on what is commonly known as the installment plan, for the purpose of ascertaining and reporting as soon as reasonably possible to the General Assembly such nefarious unscrupulous and improper practices as are deemed to be inimical to the public good and in the main to ascertain and report on any prevailing practices of such companies or individuals as the case may be, which may insure to the disadvantage or detriment of the public generally and returning veterans specifically, and to report thereon with recommendations for such legislation as it may deem advisable under the circumstances.

For these purposes the Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly shall have the power to compel the appearances of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and records, and to issue proper subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, records, and any and all other writings deemed necessary for the fulfillment of the duties prescribed by this resolution.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

He also, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as amended, House Bill No. 850, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections five hundred twenty-two and five hundred twenty-four and to repeal section five hundred twenty-three of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties and repealing existing laws" by providing regulations relating to standard fire insurance policies

Mr. WOODRING, from the Committee on Banking, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 489, entitled:

An Act to amend sections 1 and 2 and to repeal section 3 of the act, approved the thirty-first day of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 606), entitled "An act relating to the sale, transfer, assignment and pledge of accounts receivable," making further provision for the sale assignment transfer or pledge of certain obligations due and to become due and the notation in certain cases of such sale, assignment, transfer or pledge.

He also, from the Committee on Law and Order, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 420, entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred seven of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate. amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," by prohibiting pool-selling and book-making in connection with any sporting event or athletic contest and providing penalties.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. COX asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, last Thursday I discussed the problem of mental health institutions before the Senate. From my conversations with the Secretary of Welfare and with the Governor, I am convinced that presently we have no executive or legislative plan to take care of the problem of mental health I feel that it is not just a matter of getting up and making speeches about a thing, but I think we should do something about it. I am convinced that in this session of the Legislature nothing will be done.

In order to prevent a recurrence of this unsatisfactory and unfortunate state of affairs, I propose, in this bill I am about to introduce, to set up a commission to study the question of mental health, so that a plan will be devised which can be presented to the Legislature as soon as the session starts in 1947.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND COMMITTED

Mr. COX read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 660, entitled:

An Act creating a commission to stuly the mental health problem; prescribing its powers and duties; and making an appropriation.

L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class, and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," providing for the appointment and compensation of a solicitor to the city controller.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 662, entitled:

An Act providing for the issuance of certified copies of any public record by officers of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions free of charge, to certain veterans, his agent or representatives of the United States Veterans' Administration.

Which was committed to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. JONES read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 663, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1625), entitled "An act providing for the creation, maintenance and operation of a county employes' retirement system in counties of the third class; and imposing certain charges on counties," defining "County Employee" to include persons employed by independent poor districts.

Which was committed to the Committee on County Government.

Mr. DENT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 664, entitled:

An Act providing for the construction of a museum building; and the acquisition and maintenance by the Department of Forests and Waters with the advice of the Bushy Run Battlefield Commission, of lands adjacent to the Bushy Run Battlefield State Park; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 665, entitled:

An Act to further amend paragraphs (a) and (d) of section five hundred five of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 343), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," by further regulating the designation of State depositories and limiting the deposit of State moneys therein.

Which was committed to the Committee on Banking.

Mr. HEYBURN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 666, entitled:

An Act to further amend the title, and sections one to twelve both inclusive, of the act, approved the nineteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 3) entitled as amended "An act providing for the organization, government, discipline, maintenance and regulation of an additional land force to be known as the Pennsylvania State Guard for the defense of the Commonwealth during any period of time in which the National Guard of Pennsylvania or any part thereof, shall be in active service of the United States," by changing the name of the Pennsylvania State Guard to Pennsylvania Guard, and increasing the amount of allowances permitted for officers' uniforms and equipment.

Which was committed to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. BERGER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 667, entitled:

An Act to further amend clauses six, seven, twenty and twenty-three of section two of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1053) entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities; defining as public utilities certain corporations, companies, associations, and persons; providing for the regulation of public utilities, including, to a limited extent, municipalities engaging in public utility business, by prescribing, defining, and limiting their duties, powers, and liabilities, and regulating the exercise, surrender or abandonment of their powers, privileges, and franchises; defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle; conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies, and corporations, including, to a limited extent, municipal corporations subject to this act, and administering the provisions of this act; authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates; placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters; authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates; providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests, and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued, assumed, or kept by persons, associations, companies, corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act; conferring upon the commission power to vary, reform, or revise certain contracts; conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction, alteration, relocation, protection, or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities, and of such facilities by or over public highways, to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings, and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages; authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages; providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings; conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities; imposing upon persons, associations, companies, and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation, the cost of administering this act; prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action; giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission, and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties; and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act," exempting from the provisions thereof motor vehicles engaged in the transportation of wood used in the manufacture of charcoal and wood chemicals.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Utilities.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 570, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows

Section 1 The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article nine section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 8 The debt of any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district except as provided herein and in section fifteen of this article shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein nor shall any such county municipality or district incur any debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law The debt of the city of Philadelphia may be increased in such amount that the total debt of said city shall not exceed twelve and one-half (12½) per centum upon the average of the last ten annual assessed valuations of the taxable realty therein but said city shall not increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two and one-half (2½) per centum upon such average assessed valuation of realty without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law No debt shall be incurred by or on behalf of the county of Philadelphia and within such county only the city of Philadelphia and the school district of Philadelphia shall have power to incur debt

In ascertaining the debt-incurring capacity of the city of Philadelphia at any time there shall be deducted from the debt of said city so much of such debt as shall have been incurred or is about to be incurred and the proceeds thereof expended or about to be expended upon any public improvement or in the construction purchase or condemnation of any public utility or part thereof or facility therefor if such public improvement or public utility or part thereof or facility therefor whether separately or in connection with any other public improvement or public utility or part thereof or facility therefor may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expenses sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges thereon The method of determining such amount so to be deducted may be prescribed by the General Assembly

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof with provision for a sinking fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity the payment of such sinking fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvement of public works or utilities of any character from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking fund charges as required by section ten of this article until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, there is no dinner party tonight, no cocktails at six-thirty, and therefore, I have all the time there is to explain. The subject matter of a joint resolution to amend the Constitution never appears very clearly on the Calendar, and I would like to take a few moments to make two points in favor of this joint resolution.

There is an immediate object and a remote object. Briefly, the immediate object—it is a Philadelphia bill, I would like to say—is to make our Philadelphia debt limit more stable. As you all know, or most of you know, Philadelphia has a debt limit of ten per cent upon both realty and personal property. Outside of Philadelphia there is a debt limit of seven per cent in the same way.

We are proposing in Philadelphia to separate the two items of real estate and personal property from the borrowing base. The reason for this is that the personal property tax is very fluctuating and we do not know where we are; we do not have a stable limit on our borrowing capacity. As you know, a man can remove his personal property and take it across the river to New Jersey if he wishes, but the real estate stays put.

This bill will punch a hole in our borrowing limit. Therefore we are asking to raise the debt limit from 10 per cent to 12½ per cent upon all realty alone, excluding personal property. That is the immediate object of this resolution.

The remote object is perhaps much more interesting. It is to get rid of possibly the world's worst tax, namely, the four mill tax on personal property. As you will remember, in the heyday or haywire era of the Earle Administration, Governor Earle learned about the four mills tax bringing in a lot of money, and so, being impulsive and a good sportsman, he doubled it, so it was eight mills, four mills to the state and four mills to the county, and I will say that the state tax was much better collected than the county tax, but not being strong in mathematics, I employed an actuary to estimate, in terms of income tax, what the Earle eight-mill-tax would do, and it came out over twenty per cent income tax.

I never heard of any state in the Union that had a tax of more than six or seven per cent, and this was twenty per cent. The state tax, fortunately, has lapsed, but the county tax has not lapsed.

As a matter of interest, I once had the privilege of sitting in the gallery, not on the floor, of the House of Commons in London, and I heard a member get up and say that principal is an opinion, income is a fact, and that applies to this miserable four mills tax. As the very intelligent Senator from Lehigh remarked in committee, this is a tax on the principal of the security and not on the income.

We all know, I think some of us certainly do, that we may hold securities on mortgages that offer no return whatever to the holder, but when we make out a personal property declaration they have a market value and therefore we have to include them. The four mills county tax can not be repealed unless and until we separate it from the real estate tax as a borrowing base.

I am very sorry that this bill has to be confined to Philadelphia. I have in my desk a companion bill that would make this state-wide, in order to get rid of the four mills tax, but having scouted around the Senate I know that bill has no chance, and it is always better to know when you are licked in advance, and not wait until the crucial moment.

With these brief remarks, I hope the Senate will support this resolution.

Mr. McGINNIS. I am glad that the Senator from Philadelphia advised us that the purpose of this resolution ultimately was to wipe out the personal property tax. I think we made a great mistake when we removed the four mills tax as a state tax. We do have the four mills tax back in our counties, and to me it is a most just tax. It taxes those who have, and most of the property that is taxed is giltledged, stocks and bonds and mortgages that return a fine income to the owner.

In Pittsburgh those who hold real estate, it may be idle, and they have got to pay forty mills tax a year on that real estate, and it does seem to me that any person who has personal property that has a value and an income, 99 per cent of them or 90 per cent, at least, of the stocks, bonds, and mortgages, have an income, they are the people who have, and I feel that in this state more taxes ought to be raised in that way and apportioned back to our communities that are in distress.

I am seriously opposed to this resolution, if it has as its ultimate aim to wipe out the four mills tax in counties.

Mr. BARR. I wish to correct the gentleman in his statement. The people of Pittsburgh have to pay a 56 mills tax on their property, including city tax, county tax, and school department tax. It is 56 mills instead of 40 mills.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. May I make one remark in reply to the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am just as much in favor of an income tax as he is, but this is a very poor way of getting a rich man's money and it is not a fair tax. The income tax is the fairest tax ever invented and this is the world's worst tax.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. COX. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no".

The PRESIDENT. The vote of the gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

Mr. GOURLEY. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension I desire to change my vote from "no" to "aye".

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 573, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 828) entitled "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in domestic and foreign corporations co-partnership associations and joint-stock associations providing the manner of collecting such tax and prescribing penalties" by modifying the rates of tax imposed by the said act

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 828) entitled "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in domestic and foreign corporations co-partnership associations and joint-stock associations providing the manner of collecting such tax and prescribing penalties" as amended by the act approved the eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 120) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That a State tax of two cents on each one hundred dollars of the [face] market value or fraction thereof not exceeding however two cents on each one hundred dollars of the face value or fraction thereof or in the case of shares or certificates of stock without designated monetary value not exceeding two cents per share is hereby imposed on all sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon any and all deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in any domestic or foreign corporation or copartnership association or joint-stock company made on or after the date when this act takes effect whether made upon or shown by the books of the corporation copartnership association or joint-stock company or by any assignment in blank or by any delivery or by any paper or agreement or memorandum or other evidence of sale or transfer whether intermediate or final and whether investing the holder with the beneficial interest in or legal title to said stock merely with the possession or use thereof for any purpose or to secure the future payment of money or the future transfer of any stock

[In cases where the shares or certificates of stock are issued without designated monetary value the tax hereby imposed shall be at the rate of two cents for each and every share of such stock instead of being based upon the face value thereof as hereinbefore provided]

Every person or persons making or effectuating any such sale or transfer shall procure affix and cancel the stamps and pay the tax provided by this act Provided That stock of building and loan associations sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock of said associations and all deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock thereof shall be exempt from the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 662, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to promote interestate cooperation for the conservation and protection of water resources in the Delaware River Basin

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 696, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections one two three and four of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 787) entitled as amended "An act authorizing subject to approval of the court of common pleas the compromise or reduction of tax and municipal claims on real property purchased by any county city borough town school district or poor district at any sale for the nonpayment of taxes or municipal claims and the reconveyance or private sale of such property" requiring such reconveyance and private sale to have the approval of the municipality or municipalities having a majority interest therein

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, line 12 of title, by striking out the words "the municipality or" and inserting in lieu thereof "a majority of the"; Amend Title, page 1, line 13 of title, by striking out the words "a majority" and inserting in lieu thereof "an"; Amend Section 1 (sec. 1), page 2, line 22, by inserting after the word "of" the following: "a majority of"; Amend Section 1 (sec. 1), page 2, line 22, by striking out the words "municipality or"; Amend Section 1 (sec. 1), page 2, line 23, by striking out the words "which either singly or combined have a majority" and inserting in lieu thereof "having an"; Amend Section 1 (sec. 1), page 3, line 4, by striking out the words "a majority" and inserting in lieu thereof "an"; Amend Section 1 (sec. 2), page 3, line 13, by inserting after the word "of" the following: "a majority of"; Amend Section 1 (sec. 2), page 3, line 13, by striking out the words "municipality or"; Amend Section 1 (sec. 2), page 3, lines 13 and 14, by striking out the words "a majority" and inserting in lieu thereof "an"; Amend Section 1 (sec. 3), page 3, line 17, by striking out the word "the" and inserting in lieu thereof "any"; Amend Section 1 (sec. 3), page 3, line 18, by striking out the words "a majority" and inserting in lieu thereof "an"; Amend Section 2 (sec. 4), page 4, line 6, by inserting after the word "that" the following: "a majority of"; Amend Section 2 (sec. 4), page 4, line 6, by striking out the words "municipality or"; Amend Section 2 (sec. 4), page 4, line 6, by striking out the words "a majority" and inserting in lieu thereof "an"; Amend Section 2 (sec. 4), page 4, line 7, by striking out the word "has" and inserting in lieu thereof "have".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing on final passage.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled

An Act to amend the title and certain sections and to add certain new sections to the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1987) entitled "An act to preserve and improve the purity of the waters of the Commonwealth for the protection of the public health animal and aquatic life and for industrial consumption and recreation empowering and directing the creation of indebtedness or the issuing of non-debt revenue bonds by political subdivisions to provide works to abate pollution providing protection of water supply providing for the jurisdiction of courts magistrates aldermen and justices of the peace in the enforcement thereof and providing additional remedies for abating pollution of waters imposing certain penalties and repealing certain acts" by changing the definitions of 'establishment' and 'industrial waste' by changing requirement of notice to discontinue discharges of industrial waste by changing penalties for violations and requiring prosecutions to be instituted or approved by the Attorney General by prohibiting the discharge of silt into any waters of the Commonwealth and regulating the discharge of acid mine drainage into waters thereof authorizing the Sanitary Water Board to establish standards of purity and to determine the time for compliance with the provisions of the act in certain cases and requiring the Board's approval of plans for opening reopening or extending coal mines by authoring the acquisition by purchase or condemnation or otherwise by the Sanitary Water Board of easement or right of ways and the acquisition or construction of pipes conduits drains or tunnels and pumps and pumping equipment and providing for the payment of the costs thereof by the Commonwealth

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. KEPHART offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 5, line 27, by striking out with light-faced brackets the following "[include]" and inserting in lieu thereof the following "include".

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third and fourth sections were read and agreed to.

The fifth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GOURLEY. Mr. President, as I read it, this bill provides that the sole decision for the making of prosecutions under the penal provisions of this bill rests with the Attorney General; he can either make a prosecution or with his consent some other person can make a prosecution. I know of no provision under the laws of this Commonwealth where any sole authority is vested in any one person to decide whether or not a criminal prosecution should be made for a violation of any act of assembly.

I have had five years' experience in a district attorney's office and I have some knowledge of our criminal code. It appears to me to be unjust to give absolute authority to any one person to have the right to decide whether or not a prosecution should be made, if a violation has occurred, and therefore the amendment that I have prepared would provide that the Attorney General could make a prosecution, or any other person, as now provided by law, in criminal proceedings, which would mean, if a violation existed, any ditsrict attorney, or any other person in any of the other counties of the state, would decide that a violation did exist, that the district attorney or any other person who might be aggrieved would have a right to proceed with prosecution of any violation of the act, and I therefore offer the following amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GOURLEY offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 5 (Sec. 309) page 10, lines 11 and 12 by striking out the words "by and with" in line 11, all of line 12, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "as now provided by law in criminal proceedings".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HEYBURN. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Delaware request a roll call on the amendment?

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HEYBURN. I rise on a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of information.

Mr. HEYBURN. It is my understanding that the question now before the Senate is on the adoption of the amendment offered by the gentleman from Washington; is that right?

The PRESIDENT. Yes, but it has been the custom of the Senate, where there is no objection, that the section as amended be considered; where there is objection, first the amendment is considered and then the section.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, we can not agree to the section, as amended, as then the amendments offered by the gentleman from Washington would be accepted.

AMENDMENT WITHDRAWN

Mr. GOURLEY. Mr. President, I desire to withdraw the amendment I introduced.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the amendments are withdrawn because of the fact that we do not want any misunderstandings on the part of anybody as to our intentions. This amendment was drawn because we believe, under the present provisions in this bill, the Attorney General receives unprecedented powers and he can, if he so desires, make fish out of one and fowl out of another; he can prosecute an individual who perhaps does not believe in the same political philosophy that he believes in, and he can let another party go free who does believe in his philosophy.

We do not believe that any act of Legislature ought to give to any individual the sole right to institute proceedings, or to approve the institution of proceedings against a violator of any act of the Legislature, any act on the statute books of the Commonwealth.

However, in order that we are not blamed by certain persons who can not clearly understand the proceedings in the Legislature for delaying action on this bill—we understand fully that the bill was written by the Attorney General, is pushed by the Attorney General, and is being voted for by the Attorney General, and all the amendments that are now contained in this bill are the Attorney General's amendments.

I read an article which stated the Senate had put crippling amendments into the bill. I belong to that committee and the amendments that we approved were the Attorney General's amendments, and that is all.

Now we are in the same position we happened to be in once before in this beautiful Senate hall; we had other legislation before us, and we had other Attorneys-General who drafted legislation, and we were not allowed to cross a "t" or dot an "i", and that is the position we are in on this piece of legislation.

I predict to the Senate, if it passes this bill the way it is, that it will be recalled from the Governor by this very same body to do the very same thing that we are trying to do now.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The sixth, seventh and eighth sections and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 40, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend or further amend the title and sections one five seven nine and ten of the act approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred seven (P. L. 496) entitled "An act to establish a Board of Commissioners of Navigation for the river Delaware and its navigable tributaries regulating their jurisdiction over ships vessels and boats and wharves piers bulkheads docks slips and basins and exempting cities of the first class from certain of its provisions and making an appropriation therefor" changing the membership of the Navigation Commission for the Delaware River and its navigable tributaries and excepting the Port of Chester from certain provisions of said act

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 170, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven hundred one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" abolishing capital punishment in the case of murder of the first degree be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further study.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, the fact that the Senate of Pennsylvania today can consider a bill of this nature gives me renewed faith in the democratic system of government. Today all over the world people are dying in untold numbers, and yet we have before us for our consideration a bill which concerns itself with the question as to whether we should take the lives of men, many of whom are enemies to society.

No more important bill could come before this Senate than this bill, because it deals with the most important possession any man can have—his life.

This bill came out of committee so that we could sample public opinion in Pennsylvania. I will try to make my remarks as brief as I can. I have received many letters from every section of Pennsylvania pertaining to the bill and, inasmuch as they indicate the attitude of the people of Pennsylvania, I would like to read into the record excerpts from these letters, both pro and con.

I have before me now two letters from judges of the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County. Rather than name the judges I would like to label the letters "a" and "b". I quote from the first letter:

"Giving attention to yours of the 22nd in which you advise that you presented Senate Bill No. 170 which abolishes capital punishment in Pennsylvania, will advise that I have always opposed abolishment of this penalty for the principal reason we have too many criminals in this country who do not take the sentence of life imprisonment too serious, as after that sentence is pronounced it is only but a short while until, through some spineless organization, the sentence is commutated and they are eventually pardoned.

"I think as the verdict stands now, giving the jury the opportunity to say life or death, it is a very good solution to the problem."

Mr. President, it is absolutely impossible for me to discuss this bill unless I can have the attention of the members of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will come to order.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, letter "b", which is from another judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County, shows a divergent viewpoint. It is as follows:

"A law to abolish capital punishment would be a highly progressive addition to our penal code. I have never been and am not now in favor of taking away the life of any man under any circumstances and consider it one of the burdens of government to segregate from society those who commit crimes which under our present law merits capital punishment."

I have here again two letters from wardens of penitentiaries. The first letter is from Warden Herbert Smith, warden of the Eastern Penitentiary in Philadelphia. I quote:

"I have your letter of the 23rd in which you request that I inform you as to my position relative to capital punishment. For the past 39 years I have been connected with law enforcement, both as an officer and prison keeper and have arrived at the following conclusion.

"It is my thought that persons who willfully and deliberately take a human life, count the cost of danger involved in the death penalty, but base their hopes upon not being detected; delays in their trials; possibilities of an acquittal, and if convicted, of receiving not more than a life sentence from which their influence or political friends attempt to obtain their release in a few years. To arm themselves for the purpose of resisting interference is deliberate and premeditated. The weapon is to provide a means of escape even to the extent of taking human life. Therefore, it is my thought the only restraint against wholesale killings is a fear on the part of the criminal of losing his life as a penalty. To this type of person a life sentence is not a deterrent as hopes of clemency destroys its effectiveness.

"When the criminal understands punishment will be swift and certain, then and only then will the death sentence become a powerful deterrent. I am in favor of capital punishment. Not as it exists today, but when in force to one and all alike, regardless of their station in life.

"If the death penalty is removed and a life sentence substituted, what assurance have we that the criminal would not continue to kill even behind prison walls? He has nothing to fear because he has already received one life sentence and the taking of another human life would certainly not add greatly to his misfortune. Thus, the lives of officials within a prison would depend to a great extent upon the attitude of the vicious, desperate criminal confined therein.

"I reiterate that capital punishment should be enforced and the killers made to realize that they cannot escape the law and its consequences. Retain the death penalty and we are at least guaranteed a measure of safety to the law abiding citizens of the State. Abolish capital punishment and we are creating a grave and dangerous situation, one the extent of which no person can predict."

HERBERT SMITH, Warden.

I also have here a letter from Warden Lewis E. Laws, which is as follows:

"I was happy to learn from Mr. A. G. Fraser, Executive Secretary of the Pennsylvania Prison Society that you introduced a bill which would abolish capital punishment in your State. Such legislation has my unqualified support.

"Some contend that the death penalty deters crime, but this argument is not based upon fact. The bulk of murderers commit their crimes during an argument or a period of blind fury. Such individuals, obviously, do not think of punishment. Nor do the so-called professional criminals, because few, if any believe they will be caught.

"Capital punishment should be abolished since it serves no useful purpose, and is a relic of an unenlightened era. Our aim today should be to rehabilitate the offender—if at all possible—not destroy him. Besides, capital punishment is irrevocable and there is always a danger that an innocent man may be put to death. In fact, there have been such cases.

"Of course, much more can be said in opposition to the death penalty and if you so desire, I will be glad to furnish you with additional material, as Mr. Fraser suggested. Much of it, though, is summarized in my books: Man's Judgment of Death; Twenty Thousand Years in Sing Sing; and Meet the Murderer. Unfortunately, I do not have extra copies, but doubtlessly they are available at your State Library.

"If there is anything else I can do to help further your bill, do not hesitate to call on me."

LEWIS E. LAWES.

I have two letters which were written by women. The first letter is rather embarrasing to read, and after I have read it I think you will understand why I was embarrassed. It is as follows:

"Dear Sir:

"The following clippings were brought into the regular Wednesday night meeting of the Ladies' Civic Club. We want you to know you should be ashamed of yourself sponsoring such a bill. In plain words, do you think yourself smart to aid criminals to escape a just punishment?

"All of us women for instance agree that this girl, (naming the person), who so brutally murdered her employer should be given the death penalty. I might mention here her being a Negro has nothing to do with our opinion as we are in favor of better education and better living conditions for the Negro. Suppose this woman so brutally murdered your wife, would you not consider her as unfit for society to contend with and taxpayers to keep institutions full of people serving life sentences for murder?

"Mr. Cox, criminals in this country are not punished severely enough, that is why for instance, we have so many cases of crimes committed by parolees. Not enough attention is paid to conditions in the state's institutions, prisons and asylums, why do you not divert your efforts toward these problems, instead of bringing up such foolish legislature at a time like this, or any time for that matter.

"Stop and think of what you are doing and if you think you are right visit some courtrooms and hear some of the trials of criminals. Who, for instance, is to benefit by the passage of such legislature, the overburdened taxpayer who will keep murderers in institutions. Such legislature! What you ought to do is bring back the old public whipping post and perhaps we would not have so much crime."

As contrasted with that letter I now read this letter, which was also written by a woman:

"I have heard of Bill S-170 which you introduced in the Senate—I hope it will be passed. I have long been opposed to capital punishment."

Gentlemen, I have read the excerpts from these letters because I think they properly present the various points of view on this subject. I shall now read from the Prison Journal, October issue of 1932, from an article entitled:

"CAN THE DEATH PENALTY PREVENT CRIME?

By George B. Vold

Associate Professor of Sociology

University of Minnesota

"The question of the deterrent effect of the death penalty is an old controversy on which much has been written. Those who favor the penalty assume that fear of punishment is the basic factor in social control which leads to conformity and observance of the law. Opponents call attention to the absence of "factual proof" in support of the claims made for its deterrent effects and argue that the whole question of crime prevention must be regarded as one of treatment rather than punishment. The controversy has thus become a battle ground on which clash the antithetical views of opposite schools of thought in criminology No space can be given in the present paper to a consideration of the wide ramifications of the whole problem of the desirability of the death penalty. Attention will be focused on the single insistent question of the title. Can the death penalty prevent crime? That is, can—and does—the death penalty have an influence on potential criminals such that they refrain from executing the lawless acts (crimes) that they would otherwise commit?"

This brief quotation, of course, raises a question which it seems will be the battle-ground where the question of abolishment of capital punishment will be fought, namely, that capital punishment would engender in any potential murderer such a fear that he would not commit a crime. It is obvious that it is impossible to know how many people have not committed the crime of murder because of the fact that in Pennsylvania it is possible to be executed if you commit wilful, premeditated murder.

Possibly the only thing that would bear on this question statistically is a comparison of what has happened in those states in the United States which have abolished capital punishment, as compared with statistics in those states which still retain capital punishment.

As I said before, I am not going to argue at great length, but statistics unquestionably show that there is such little difference that, if statistics can be used as an argument, we certainly can say they are in favor of the conception that capital punishment does not prevent murder.

The second thing I would like to talk about or argue is this, recurring all through these letters, not only through the letters of the judges but through the letters of the wardens and through the letters of individual citizens of this Commonwealth, is a misconception which is so prevalent today in our thinking on this question of penal affairs, and that is this, on the question of punishment, long ago in Pennsylvania and America we wrote out of our social viewpoint and our theory of penology the question of punishment. We do not put people in prison today to punish them; we put them in prison, first, to protect society from other persons who might commit crime, because the surety of punishment would prevent them from committing a crime by serving as an object lesson to them; secondly, we put them in prison because we feel they are anti-social, that they can not get along in the social system, and therefore we must take them out of society; thirdly, and most important, we put them in prison because we desire to rehabilitate them and when we have rehabilitated them, give them back to society as useful members of the social system

Capital punishment in Pennsylvania today is the last remnant of lex talonis—an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, and a life for a life. In Pennsylvania today we do not believe in that ancient and medieval philosophy, and yet we have on our statute books a law which provides for execution of murderers, as a remnant of that law.

I am satisfied that within fifty years every state in America will have abolished capital punishment, and I say to many of the members of this Legislature who are in accord with my views on this subject, that all we have been able to do in this session of the Legislature is to add our little bit to the fight to abolish capital punishment in this state. I am satisfied that this fight is going on and on.

Since 1941, when I came to the Senate, I have seen great progress in Pennsylvania in our understanding of the problem of penology, in our scientific approach to the solution of that problem. In 1941 we passed one of the most important pieces of legislation in many decades in Pennsylvania, when we realized the scientific truth that you could not parole men to society unless you helped those men after they were paroled, and then we passed a parole act.

There are many other pieces of legislation which are before this body and before the House. Some of them will get out of committee and to the floor of the respective legislative bodies, where they can be talked about and returned to committee, but I know ultimately once again we are going to abolish this act which certainly has no place in the statutes of our Commonwealth.

My experience in the Senate has proved to me that the legislative mill grinds very slowly, that the legislative mill many times is far back of public opinion, but I have also found this, that it grinds surely, and eventually many of the things that at present seem utopian and which seemed impossible to have enacted into legislation, in the future are accepted as ordinary solutions to the problem and are passed without any fanfare.

If the law of political averages is kind to me, the possibility is that this perhaps is my last session in the Senate. For that reason it is extremely important to me that many of the things that I have fought for since I have been a member of this body will become law, or that I have some assurance there is growing sentiment in this body so that eventually they may become acts of our Legislature.

I want to thank the members of the Senate for the courtesy that they extended to me as an individual, in putting this bill out of committee. I am going to keep my word, if it is the desire of this body that the bill be reported back to committee, and not oppose it.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President and fellow Senators, I hesitate to speak at this late hour of the day, but for a long time I have been thoroughly convinced that capital punishment is not only unnecessary but that it is immoral.

I have frequently said in the course of telling people about my experiences here, that we people who are elected to the Legislature of our state do not make laws—that what we try to do is to carry into statute form that which is the law that God has made from the beginning, and as I look back into the fundamental law of all laws, the Decalogue, I find four words there that I believe are still the will of God—thou shall not kill—and those words, I believe, are just as effective upon a body of the state as they are upon individuals.

As a member of that body, therefore, there seems to rest upon me the duty and the obligation to do everything I can to prevent the state from doing that which I could not personally do, and I ask every gentleman here this evening to ask yourself one simple fundamental question: could you as an individual go to Rockview Penitentiary and throw the switch that would throw into eternity the soul of any of your fellowmen? Personally I could not do that act, and therefore I feel that the obligation rests upon me to resist with all the power I have the compelling of any other man to do that which I would not do myself.

The thing about capital punishment that makes it, to my mind, doubly wrong is the fact that it is so final; from it there is no appeal. I do not believe that any of you would disagree with me in saying that many times, after some innocent person has suffered the death penalty, evidence has been discovered to prove that person innocent. Because of that finality, because there is no appeal from an execution, I think that we are very presumptuous as human beings when we set ourselves up to be the judges of a fellowman's existence or death.

If, which is absolutely improbable, I should ever be the Governor of this State, I do not believe that my nerves would be sufficiently strong to enable me to sign a death warrant of any of my fellowmen, and therefore I believe the obligation is upon me to refuse to be a party, so far as I may have the opportunity of making that refusal, to the compelling of any other man to do that act.

For these reasons I ask to be recorded as voting against recommittal of this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the affirmative.)

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. BONEY and WHITE.

RESOLUTION No. 46.

In the House of Representatives, March 3, 1945.

Whereas, It is "G. I. Joe," the enlisted man of the armed forces, who fights and wins the decisive battles of the global conflicts, and who earns the glory and the decorations of achievement; and

Whereas, The peace terms of past wars upon which were built the chances of avoiding recurrences of international conflicts have been made and determined without the participation of the men whose lives have been interrupted and endangered, and in many cases, whose health and strength have been impaired in the service of their country, and whose sons and daughters were destined to fight in the next war; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby respectfully petitions the President of the United States in the appointment of representatives of our government to sit at the peace tables following the victories over Germany and over Japan, to appoint at least one representative from the rank and file of the enlisted men or non-commissioned officers, who has actively participated in fighting the enemy, to sit as a member of the peace conference, and that a representative of the enlisted personnel be assigned to sit with the delegation representing the United States of America at the United Nations Conference at San Francisco; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be certified by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives and transmitted to His Excellency, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Miss BRANCATO and Mr. SKALE.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 47.

In the House of Representatives, April 3, 1945.

It has been called to the attention of several members of the House of Representatives that conditions at the Philadelphia State Hospital, formerly known as Phiadelphia Hospital for Mental Diseases, and commonly referred to as Byberry Hospital are as follows:

1. Overcrowding.
2. Lack of proper sanitation.
3. Inadequate personnel.
4. Underpaid personnel.
5. Failure to properly segregate the various types of mental patients.

The complaints made may or may not be true but they have been so persistent that only an investigation can determine the true conditions, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That a commission is hereby created which shall be composed of three members of the Senate to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and four members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, whose duty it shall be to make a careful, thorough and impartial investigation of the Philadelphia State Hospital for Mental Diseases, (commonly referred to as Byberry Hospital) to particularly ascertain the existence and extent, if any, of the overcrowding of said institution, and also to ascertain the prevailing conditions of sanitation, adequacy of personnel and their compensation, and the method and manner of segregating the various types of mental patients therein; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly at this session as early as possible.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, pre- nted a communication in writing from His Excellency ie Governor, which was read as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, Pa.

lembers of the General Assembly:

In my message at the opening of this session of the egislature I recommended that the Legislature give con- deration to a program of liberalization of the Work- ıen's Compensation, Occupational Disease and Unem- loyment Compensation laws. I pointed out that such a rogram should give consideration to existing and pros- ective conditions confronting the State in competition ith similar conditions in other States. It was my hope ıat labor and industry would be able to agree upon fair nd equitable amendments to the present laws. I said If they cannot do so I will not shirk the obligation of aking specific recommendations to the Legislature."

Representatives of labor and industry have met from me to time and have made an honest effort to come to common understanding and agreement. It has been eported to me that although a better understanding and elationship has resulted from these many conferences, ıey are not, however, able to come to a full and com- lete agreement with reference to the necessary amend- ıents to these laws.

Therefore, carrying out the obligation in my original ıessage, I make the following specific recommendations:

Workmen's Compensation

I recommend that the maximum payments be increased rom $18.00 per week to $20.00 per week and that the ıinimum payments be increased from $9.00 per week o $10.00.

I recommend that the ceiling of $7,500 placed on per- ıanent and total disability cases be removed and that 00 weeks at $20.00 a week shall mean 500 weeks or 10,000 instead of $7,500.

I recommend that all other money benefits be raised 1 per cent to the even dollar.

Under existing law no compensation is provided for he loss of toes. I recommend that provision be made for pecific loss of toes on the following basis: for great toe, ompensation for a period of 40 weeks, and for other oe or toes for a period of 16 weeks.

I further recommend that the existing law which de- nes the loss of a hand or a foot as an amputation be- ow the elbow or below the knee joint be redefined so hat the loss of a hand or a foot by amputation at the rist or ankle joint shall be the loss of a hand or a foot.

I further recommend that a new classification for pecific loss be set up for amputations between the wrist oint and the elbow joint and between the ankle joint nd the knee joint: that compensation be paid for a period f 195 weeks in the case of an amputation between the wrist joint and the elbow joint, and for a period of 180 weeks for an amputation between the ankle joint and the knee joint.

I also recommend the elimination of the strict and stringent provisions of existing law with reference to hernia resulting from personal injury in the course of employment.

It is further recommended that the provisions of existing law with reference to medical services be liberalized so that the Workmen's Compensation Board may allow medical and surgical services for an additional 30 days beyond that now provided for, at an additional cost not to exceed $75.00, and that hospitalization be extended for an additional 30-day period.

Occupational Disease

I recommend that the Occupational Disease Act be amended so as to provide for the same benefits which I have recommended herein with reference to Workmen's Compensation.

Unemployment Compensation

It is recommended that the benefits under unemployment compensation be increased from $18.00 per week to $20.00 per week, and that the period of payment be extended from 16 weeks to 20 weeks; that the waiting period be reduced from two weeks to one week, and that the present law be amended so as to provide for benefits for partial unemployment.

In making these recommendations I have kept in mind and given consideration to existing and prospective conditions confronting this Commonwealth in competition with similar conditions in other states. If the benefits were to be further extended it might result in our inability to compete with similar industries outside of Pennsylvania.

This would result in unemployment. Instead of being beneficial to the employes of our State, it might deprive them of the opportunity to be gainfully employed.

I, therefore, suggest that these recommendations be enacted into law.

EDWARD MARTIN.

The SPEAKER. The message from the Governor will be printed full in the Legislative Journal.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is with profound gratification that we on this side of the House welcome the communication of His Excellency, the Governor.

We are pleased to find that in accordance with what we believe to be the proper duties of the Executive, His Excellency, the Governor, has laid aside the doctrine he has from time to time proclaimed, namely, that the Executive should not interfere in the affairs of the legislative branch of the government. We do not believe that the submission of recommendations upon the part of the Executive and proper efforts to secure the adoption of these recommendations is interference with the legislative function, and we would wish that in other matters of equal concern and upon which there is a possibility of an equal divergence of opinion, that His Excellency, the Governor, would supplement the statement of this morning with a statement concerning other matters of prime legislative concern, and give to the legislative program that should be now in our hands leadership which the legislative situation up to this time has lacked. It is not our portion, Mr. Speaker, to carry the legislative ball.

We take this position, that if the administration and the majority party of this House are running toward a goal in the right direction that we will not extend a foot to trip them up; we will help them over that goal, and if they do not run in that direction, we will try to divert them. I assure you, Mr. Speaker, that the minority party will carefully study the communication received this morning from His Excellency the Governor. We will inquire as to the measure in which this message, this statement fulfills commitments, direct or implied, previously made to the representatives of the labor groups, and if we find that this doctrine, this statement, complies with the representations previously made to the representatives of the labor groups, I assure you, Mr. Speaker, that we will place no obstacle in the way of legislation embodying those recommendations.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker, to preside during the first reading calendar.

Section 8 Investigations The commission shall have power to make investigations concerning all matters touching the administration and enforcement of this act and rules and regulations adopted thereunder The acting chairman of the commission is hereby given power to administer oaths as oaths are administered by other public officers with the same force and carrying the same penalties

Section 9 Subpoenas The commission shall have power to issue subpoenas over the signature of the chairman to require the attendance of witnesses and the production of records and papers pertaining to any investigation or inquiry authorized by this act The fees of such witnesses for attendance and travel shall be the same as for witnesses appearing in the courts and shall be paid from the appropriations for the incidental expenses of the commission

All officers in public service and employes shall attend and testify when required to do so by the commission

If any person shall refuse or neglect to obey any subpoena issued by the commission he shall be guilty of violation of this act and upon summary conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) or imprisonment not to exceed thirty (30) days

If any person shall refuse or neglect to obey any subpoena issued by the commission it may apply by petition to the court of common pleas of the county for its subpoena requiring the attendance of such persons before the court there to testify and to produce the necessary papers or records and in default thereof shall be held in contempt of court and punished therefor

Section 10 Annual Report The commission shall make an annual report to the council or commissioners of the municipality as the case may be containing a brief summary of its work during the year which shall be available for public inspection five days after filing thereof

Section 11 General Provisions Relating to Examinations Each commission shall make rules and regulations to be approved as provided in section six hereof providing for the examinations of applicants for positions as fire apparatus operators and for promotion thereof which rules and regulations shall prescribe the minimum qualifications of all applicants to be examined and passing grades All examinations for promotions or positions as fire apparatus operators of any municipality shall be practical in character and shall relate to such matters and include such inquiries as will test the merit and fitness of the persons examined to discharge the duties of the employment sought by them

All examinations shall be open to all applicants who have the minimum qualifications required by the rules and regulations Each applicant for examination shall be subject to the regulations adopted by the commission and shall be required to submit to a physical examination before being admitted to the regular examination held by the commission

Public notice of the time and place of every examination together with the information as to the kind of position or place to be filled shall be given by publication once in a newspaper of general circulation in the municipality or in a newspaper circulating generally in the municipality at least two weeks prior to each examination and a copy of the notice shall be prominently posted in the office of the commission or other public place

The commission shall post in its office the eligible list containing the names and grades of those who have passed the examination for position

Under this act soldiers as defined by the act approved the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 872) who have successfully passed the examination shall be given the additional credits provided for by said act

Section 12 Application For Examination Each person desiring to apply for examination shall file with the commission a formal application in which the applicant shall state under oath or affirmation (a) his full name and residence or post office address (b) his citizenship place and date of birth (c) his condition of health and physical capacity for public service (d) his business or employment and his residence for the past five years (e) such other information as may be required by the commission's rules and regulations showing the applicant's qualifications for the position for which he is being examined

Section 13 Rejection of Applicant Hearing The commission may refuse to examine any applicant or if examined may refuse to certify after examination any person who is found to lack any of the minimum qualifications for examination prescribed in the rules and regulations adopted for the position or employment for which he has applied or who is physically disabled and unfit for the performance of the duties of the position to which he seeks employment or who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating liquors or drugs or who has been guilty of any crime involving moral turpitude or of infamous or notorious disgraceful conduct or who has been dismissed from public service for delinquency or misconduct in office or who is affiliated with any group whose policies or activities are subversive to the form of government set forth in the Constitutions and laws of the United States and Pennsylvania

If any applicant or person feels himself aggrieved by the action of the commission in refusing to examine him or to certify him as eligible after examination the commission shall at the request of such person within ten days appoint a time and place where he may appear personally and by council whereupon the commission shall then review its refusal to make such examination of certification and take such testimony as may be offered The decision of the commission shall be final

Section 14 Manner of Filling Appointments Every position or employment unless filled by promotion reinstatement or reduction shall be filled only in the following manner

The appointing officer or body of the municipality shall notify the commission of any vacancy as a fire apparatus operator which is to be filled and shall request the certification of a list of eligibles The commission shall certify for each existing vacancy from the eligible list the names of three persons therefrom who have received the highest average in the last preceding examination held within a period of one year next preceding the date of the request for such eligibles The appointing officer or body shall thereupon with sole reference to the merits and fitness of the candidates make an appointment from the three names certified unless he or they make objections to the commission as to one or more of the persons so certified for any reason stated in section thirteen of this act Should such objections be sustained by the commission as provided in said section the commissioner shall thereupon strike the name of such person from the eligible list and certify the next highest name for each name striken off As each subsequent vacancy occurs in the same or another position precisely the same procedure shall be followed

Section 15 Age Residence No person shall be eligible to apply for examination unless he is more than twenty-one years old at the date of the application and has been a resident of the municipality for at least one year immediately preceding his application unless no resident applicants are available

Section 16 Probationary Period All original appointments to positions as fire apparatus operators shall be for a probationary period of six months but during the probationary period an appointee may be dismissed only for a cause specified in section thirteen of this act If at the close of the probationary period the conduct or fitness of the probationer has not been satisfactory to the appointing body or officer the probationer shall be notified in writing that he will not receive a permanent appointment Thereupon his appointment shall cease otherwise his retention shall be equivalent to a permanent appointment

Section 17 Provisional Appointments Whenever there are urgent reasons for the filling of a vacancy in any position and there are no names on the eligible list for such appointment the appointing officer or body may nominate to the commission for non-competitive examination and if such nominees shall be certified by the commission as qualified after such non-competitive examination he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination in the manner prescribed in this act No such provisional appointment shall continue for a period longer than three months nor shall a successive provisional appointment be made to the same position It shall thereafter be the duty of the commission to hold a competitive examination and certify the names of a list of eligibles and a regular appointment shall then be made from the names or name submitted by the commission Provided however That nothing herein contained shall prevent the temporary appointment without examination of persons as fire appartus operators in emergency cases

Section 18 Promotions Promotions shall be based on merits to be ascertained by examination to be prescribed by the commission All questions relative to promotions shall be practical in character and such as will fairly test the merit and fitness of persons seeking promotion

The appointing body or officer shall have power to determine whether an increase in salary shall constitute a promotion

Section 19 Physical Examinations All applicants for examination shall undergo a physical examination which shall be conducted under the supervision of a doctor of medicine appointed by the civil service commission No person shall be eligible to take an examination until said doctor certifies that the applicant is free from any bodily or mental defects deformity or disease that might incapacitate him from the discharge of the duties of the position desired

Section 20 Removals No person employed as a fire apparatus operator of any political subdivision shall be suspended removed or reduced in rank except for the following reasons (a) physical or mental disability affecting his ability to keep in service in which cases the person shall receive an honorable discharge from service (b) neglect or violation of any official duty (c) violation of any law of this Commonwealth which provided that such a violation constitutes a felony (d) inefficiency neglect intemperance disobedience of orders or conduct unbecoming a public sevant (e) intoxication while on duty (f) participation in the conducting of any political or election campaign otherwise than to exercise his own right of suffrage A person so employed shall not be removed for religious racial or political reasons A written statement of any charges made against any person so employed shall be furnish to such person within five days after the same are filed

If for reasons of economy or other reasons it shall be deemed necessary by any municipality to reduce the number of paid employes of fire apparatus operators then such political subdivision shall apply the following procedure (a) if there are any employes eligible for retirement under the terms of any retirement or pension law then such reduction in number shall be made if the party to be retired is sixty-five years of age or over (b) if the number of paid employes is insufficient to effect the necessary reduction or if there are no persons eligible for retirement or if no retirement or pension fund exists then the reduction shall be effected by furloughing the man or men including probationers last appointed as fire apparatus operators Such furloughing shall be effected by furloughing in numerical order from the last man appointed until such reduction shall have been accomplished

In the event the said fire apparatus operators shall again be increased the employes furloughed shall be reinstated in the order of their seniority in the service

Section 21 Hearings On Dismissals And Reductions If the person sought to be suspended removed or reduced in rank shall demand a hearing by the commission the demand shall be made to the commission Such person may make written answers to any charges filed against him The commission shall grant him a hearing which shall be held within a period of ten days from the filing of charges in writing and written answers thereto filed within five days and may be continued by the commission for cause or at the request of the accused At any such hearing the person against whom the charges are made may be present in person and by counsel The appointing officer or body may suspend any such person without pay pending the determination of the charges against him but in the event the commission fails to uphold the charges then the person sought to be suspended removed or demoted shall be reinstated with full pay for the period during which he was suspended and no charges shall be officially recorded against his record

A stenographic record of all testimony taken at such a hearing shall be filed with and preserved by the commission which record shall be sealed and not available for public inspection in case the charges are dismissed

In the event the commission shall sustain the charges and order the suspension removal or reduction in rank the person suspended removed or reduced in rank shall have immediate right to appeal to the court of common pleas of the county and the case shall be there determined as the court deems proper No order or suspension made by the commission shall be for a longer period than a year Such appeal shall be taken within sixty days from the date of entry by the commission of its final order and shall be by petition Upon such appeal being taken and docketed the court of common pleas shall fix a day for a hearing and shall proceed to hear the appeal on the original record and no such additional proof or testimony as the person sought to be removed or reduced in rank may desire to offer in evidence shall be permitted to be introduced The decision of the courts affirming or reversing the decision of the commission shall be final and the employe shall be suspended discharged demoted or reinstated according to the order of the court The appointing officer and body and the person sought to be suspended removed or demoted shall at all times have the right to employ counsel before the commission and the aggrieved party or parties shall have the right to appeal to the court of common pleas and shall have the further right of appealing to the Superior Court or Supreme Court in such manner as is now provided by law

Section 22 Present Employes Exempted All appointments as fire appartus operators of municipalities upon the effective date of this act shall continue to hold their positions and shall not be required to take any examination under the provisions of this act except such as may be required for promotion Provided however That this section shall not be construed to apply to persons employed temporarily in emergency cases

Section 23 Discrimination On Account of Political Or Religious Affiliations No question in any form of application for examination or in any examination shall be so framed as to elicit information concerning the political or religious opinion of any applicant nor shall inquiry be made concerning such opinion or affiliation and all disclosures thereof shall be discountenanced No discrimination shall be exercised threatened or promised against or in favor of any applicant or employe because of racial political or religious opinions or affiliations or race and no benefit direct or indirect shall be paid to or received by any person for any act done or duty omitted or to be done under this act

Section 24 Penalty Any councilman or township commissioner who by his vote causes to be appointed any person as a fire apparatus operator of any municipality contrary to the provisions of this act or any councilman township commissioner or members of the commission who wilfully refuses to comply with or conform to the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or suffer imprisonment not exceeding three (3) months or both

Section 25 Military Service If any operator of fire apparatus be called or enter the armed service of this country he shall be reinstated upon his return

In the event that a retirement or pension act or system is in effect the time spent in the armed service shall count towards said retirement or pension

Section 26 Salaries Of Civil Service Commission The civil service commission shall receive no compensation

Section 27 Repeal And Construction Except as provided in section one of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 492) providing for the relaxation of civil service requirements during the war emergency and six months thereafter all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

It is the purpose of this act to furnish a complete and exclusive system for the appointment promotion reduction or suspension or removal of operators of fire apparatus in every borough incorporated town and township of the first class within the Commonwealth which maintains fire apparatus

Section 28 Fire Apparatus Operators Defined "Fire apparatus operators" as used in this act shall mean any person who operates fire apparatus and devotes his normal working hours to operating any piece of fire apparatus or other services directly connected with fire protection work and who are paid a stated salary or compensation for such work directly or indirectly by the municipality

Section 29 Effective Date The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section two hundred twelve of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 789) entitled as amended "An act relating to insurance establishing an insurance department and amending revising and consolidating the law relating to the licensing qualification regulation examination suspension and dissolution of insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and certain societies and orders the examination and regulation of fire insurance rating bureau and the licensing and regulation of insurance agents and brokers the service of legal process upon foreign insurance companies associations or exchanges providing penalties and repealing existing laws" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 988) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 212 Effect of Additional Restrictions of Other States [If by the laws of any other state any taxes fines penalties licenses fees or other obligations or prohibitions additional to or in excess of those imposed by the laws of this Commonwealth upon insurance agents brokers public adjusters public adjusters' solicitors or insurance companies associations and exchanges of other states are imposed on insurance agents brokers or public adjusters or public adjusters' solicitors or insurance companies associations and exchanges of this Commonwealth doing business in such state like obligations and prohibitions shall be imposed upon all insurance agents brokers public adjusters public adjusters' solicitors and insurance companies associations and exchanges of such state doing business in this Commonwealth so long as such laws remain in force] As used in this section the term

"Insurance Companies" includes insurance companies insurance associations and insurance exchanges

"Agents" includes insurance agents insurance brokers public adjusters and public adjusters' solicitors

"Burdens or Prohibitions" includes taxes fines penalties licenses fees rules regulations obligations and prohibitions including prohibitions against writing particular kinds of insurance by insurance companies and including laws rules or regulations which provide that a particular kind or kinds of insurance may be written only by a state or an agency or instrumentality thereof

If any other state imposes any burdens or prohibitions on insurance companies or agents of this state doing business in such other state which are in addition to or in excess of the burdens or prohibitions imposed by this Commonwealth on insurance companies and agents like burdens and prohibitions shall be imposed on all insurance companies and agents of such other state doing business in this Commonwealth so long as the burdens and prohibitions of such other state remain in force

If any other state requires additional or other insurance covering motorists or motor vehicles that are insured in Pennsylvania insurance companies or in insurance companies of other states that are licensed to do business in this Commonwealth in order to use the highways of such other state like additional or other insurance shall be required to cover all motorists and motor vehicles of such other state using the highways of this Commonwealth so long as the requirement of such other state shall remain in force

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. NAGEL. Will the sponsor of this bill explain to this House what this bill aims to do?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, this bill further amends the present insurance code of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by clarifying Section 212 of the Act. The aim of this bill is to protect the Pennsylvania insurance companies and Pennsylvania insurance agents by saying to the insurance companies of other states: "You can write insurance in Pennsylvania and do business in Pennsylvania, those same things which you allow under the laws of your state other companies from Pennsylvania to do in the states in which your home office may at present be established."

It further aims to say to other states who impose burdens and prohibitions on motorists from Pennsylvania who might be traveleing in those states, and who may be subject to the insurance laws of the other state by reason of an accident that occured in that state, that any burdens or prohibitions that you impose in your state on motorists from Pennsylvania traveling in your states, such like prohibition that you impose shall be imposed on motorists from your state when they travel the highways of Pennsylvania.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman after he has stated that it is a benefit to the insurance companies, what benefit will accrue to the masses of the people of our state if this bill is enacted into law?

Mr. WAGNER. The benefit that would accrue to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is that no such burdens or prohibitions shall be imposed upon them while in other states or by the laws of other states. Insofar as their insurance is concerned it shall likewise be retaliatory under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us whether or not it will make the insurance cheaper or higher for employers in workmen's compensation?

Mr. WAGNER. In answer to the gentleman, the rates for workmen's compensation insurance are determined by the Rating Bureau of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and all companies writing compensation insurance shall write it at the rate prescribed by the bureau.

Mr. NAGEL. That is all, and I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, this seems to be a sort of retaliatory measure, placing a bar at the borders of our state. I cannot see that the passage of this bill will in any way benefit the people of our state, and it is these people, the masses, that we must aim to benefit. I cannot see that it will cheapen the insurers of workmen's compensation to any degree, but I am afraid it will put out of business in this particular line certain insurance organizations now doing business in our state, even if they be incorporated in other states. I ask the Members of the House of the House to give this bill careful consideration in their voting. I ask you to vote "no."

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the statement of the gentleman from Beaver, I want to clear the record by stateing that this a reciprocity law similar to what the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has enacted insofar as the Motor Vehicle Code is concerned; similar to what is already on the statute books in connection with other laws in Pennsylvania. We have certain laws relative to hunting and fishing, into which the reciprocity features enter, and for that reason we are attempting to clarify the law relative to reciprocity on the part of insurance companies.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Wagner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if in any way this bill affects the Farm Bureau Mutual Company from selling workmen's compensation in Pennsylvania?

Mr. WAGNER. In answer to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I would state that the Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company of Columbus, Ohio, would be affected by this bill in selling compensation insurance in Pennsylvania only for a certain time, only for such period of time as the State of Ohio does not allow Pennsylvania insurance companies to sell insurance in the State of Ohio.

Mr. LOVETT. Is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that no company can sell workmen's compensation insurance in Ohio because they have a monoply in Ohio?

Mr. WAGNER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. That is all.

Mr. Speaker, I feel that this is a bad bill, because I have continually tried to set up the same monoply in Pennsylvania for workmen's compensation. I feel that this bill is bad, it is trying to destroy what I consider good legislation in Ohio, and I ask you to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

WOMEN'S CLUB WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House this afternoon the Home and Citizenship Division of the Women's Club of Pottsville, who are guest of the gentlemen from Schuylkill Messrs. Watkins and Kline.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Watkins.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I am allowed to present to the Members of the House the Women's Club of the City of Pottsville, our guests, who are visiting the state capitol today.

This is a high privilege, because this group represents many families of outstanding citizens who have been interested in the promotion of the better things of life in their community over a long period of years. This group, I might say, finds it possible to take time off from their domestic affairs to be interested in the activities of all public affairs, not only local, state wide, but also in the national scope. Their activities show that they are interested in the advancement of good government, and we are also dedicated to that cause, so therefore I say they are one of us in this forward movement.

Mr. Speaker, I present this group to the Members of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is also pleased to welcome these ladies to the House of Representatives this morning. We hope you can come back again to visit us.

FORMER MEMBERS WELCOMED

The Chair welcomes to the House this afternoon a former Member, the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Harry J. Brownfield.

The Chair also welcomes another former Member, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Dennis L. Westrick.

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate, Mr. Steinfeld, being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 827, Printer's No. 390

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to orler,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 884, as follows:

An Act relating to the Tuberculosis Hospital of the City of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh Pennsylvania providing for the transfer of such institution to the Commonwealth providing for the management and operation of closing and abandonment thereof and maintenance of tuberculosis patients therein including the collection of maintenance in certain cases providing for the retransfer under certain circumstances conferring powers and imposing duties on the Governor and Department of Health

Section 1 All buildings acquired or erected by the City of Pittsburgh Pennsylvania for the care maintenance and treatment of tuberculosis patients by the Tuberculosis Hospital of the City of Pittsburgh the personal property within such buildings or incidental thereto and any and all other grounds and lands connected therewith or annexed thereto are hereby transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 2 Any property so transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth shall if found suitable in accordance with this act be thereafter used as a State tuberculosis hospital but if such property shall within one year thereafter be found unsuitable for such purpose or shall within one year after transfer to and use by the Commonwealth as a State tuberculosis hospital be thereafter abandoned by the Commonwealth as such a hospital before substantial improvements thereto have been made then in either event such building lands and personal property so transferred to the Commonwealth shall absolutely revert to and vest in the City of Pittsburgh and the Commonwealth shall have no further claim or title thereto

Before the management and operation of any institution is taken over by the Department of Health the Governor shall issue his proclamation setting forth the date on which the Department of He lth will take over the management and operation of the institution In the event it shall be determined that the institution is to be closed the Governor shall issue a proclamation setting forth the date on which such institution will be closed The original of any such proclamation shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and a copy thereof shall be furnished the City of Pittsburgh authorities having charge of such institution

Section 3 The institution subject to this act which the Governor shall direct the Department of Health to operate and manage shall be operated and managed by such department as a State tuberculosis hospital in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth relating to such hospitals The Department of Health in managing and operating any such institution shall have all the powers and perform all the duties vested in and imposed upon boards of trustees of State hospitals by the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) and its amendments designated as The Administrative Code of one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine All tuberculosis patients in such institution at the time the management and operation thereof is assumed by the Department of IIcalth shall have the same status as if originally admitted to a State tuberculosis hospital The Department of Health shall have power to designate the counties of the Commonwealth from which admissions may be made to such institution

The institution acquired and operated by the Commonwealth under this act as a State tuberculosis hospital shall be known as the Pittsburgh Tuberculosis State Hospital

Section 4 When the Commonwealth through the Department of Health assumes the control and management of the institution subject to this act the terms of all officers and employes and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate The officers and employes of such institution shall thereupon become employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of Health

Section 5 In the event it shall be determined that the institution subject to this act shall be closed the Department of Health shall take charge of such institution and the terms of all officers and employees and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate The officers and employes of such institution shall thereupon become the employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of H lth when their services are no longer required No new patients shall be admitted to such institution after the date specified for its closing The Department of Health shall as soon as practicable transfer the patients in the institution to any other State tuberculosis hospital including any institution transferred to and being operated by the Commonwealth under any act as a State tuberculosis institution As far as practicable the department shall transfer such patients to such State tuberculosis hospital nearest to the City of Pittsburgh After the patients in such institution are transferred therefrom the Department of Health shall with the approval of the Governor turn the institution and its grounds over to the Department of Property and Supplies for use for any other State purpose as may be deemed necessary and advisable by the Governor unless such institution under the provisions of section two of this act would revert to the City of Pittsburgh in which event such institution shall be turned over to the proper authorities thereof and shall thereafter be used for such purposes as the City of Pittsburgh may determine

Section 6 After the effective date of this act and until the management and operation of the institution is formally assumed by the Department of Health or until the institution is closed under the provisions of this act but not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-six the City of Pittsburgh shall continue to bear the expense of administering and operating the institution and the Commonwealth shall contribute towards the expense of indigent patients therein to the same extent and in the same manner as pertained under existing laws on the effective date of this act

Section 7 All amounts due the City of Pittsburgh for the care of any tuberculosis patient in the institution transferred to the Commonwealth by this act that have accrued and remain unpaid on the date that the Commonwealth shall take over the operation and management of such instiuttion or the date such institution is closed may be collected by the city in the same manner as if the control and management of the institution were still vested in such city Provided however That where there is a claim against the estate of any such tuberculosis patient both on behalf of the Commonwealth and on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh and there is not sufficient in the estate to pay the claim in full the same shall be paid pro rata to the Commonwealth and the city in the proportion of the amount of maintenance legally recoverable by each

Section 8 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1081, as follows:

An Act to amend clause twelve of section three of the act approved the tenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 111) entitled "An act relating to and providing for the promotion and development of business industry and commerce in the Commonwealth conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Commerce and other agencies of the Commonwealth abolishing the Pennsylvania State Publicity Commission terminating the terms of its members and conferring its powers upon and transferring and appropriating the balance of its current appropriation to the Department of Commerce and repealing certain laws" providing for the inspection of mineral production the gathering and compilation of composite statistics for reports to the General Assembly by agencies administering production control plans and for the termination of such plans under certain circumstances

Section 1 Clause twelve of section three of the act approved the tenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 111) entitled "An act relating to and providing for the promotion and development of business industry and commerce in the Commonwealth conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Commerce and other agencies of the Commonwealth abolishing the Pennsylvania State Publicity Commission terminating the terms of its members and conferring its powers upon and transferring and appropriating the balance of its current appropriation to the Department of Commerce and repealing certain laws" as added by the act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 275) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 The Department of Commerce shall have the power and its duty shall be

* * * * *

(12) (a) To promulgate a "Production Control" plan or plans or amendments thereof upon written petition and with the approval of Pennsylvania producers of seventy-five per centum of the Pennsylvania output of any United States mineral resource industry located preponderantly within the Commonwealth or to adopt and promulgate any such plan or plans in operation at the time of the enactment of this act with the sanction of Pennsylvania producers of seventy-five per centum of the Pennsylvania output of such industry and to administer or secure the cooperation of others including State officers producers' representatives or employes' representatives in any industry where there are general collective bargaining arrangements in administering such plan or plans or amendments thereof upon a voluntary basis Provided however That no production control plan or rules or regulations relating thereto shall apply to producers who are not petitioning producers or who do not otherwise assent to the production control plan promulgated and adopted

(b) A "Production Control" within the meaning of this act is any system of regulated production in any industry as above defined which currently controls the daily weekly and monthly volume of allowable production of said industry in Pennsylvania for the purpose of adequately supplying market demand avoiding waste of mineral resources or the exploitation thereof without adequate return to the Commonwealth her political subdivisions and people protecting capital invested therein from unwise depletion and dissipation promoting employment and security for the payment of wages and benefits to those employed in such industry and achieving other express purposes of the Commerce Law (1) by allocating or apportioning to each producer in the industry a fair and equitable distributive portion of the total allowable production (2) by providing for the adjustment of inequities in assigned distributive portions and for fair and equitable adjustments of distributive portions whenever transfers of mineral properties or facilities take place between or among producers based upon the position in the industry fairly and equitably attributable to such properties or facilities (3) by providing for the admission under such plan of new operations and for the assignment of a fair and equitable distributive portion of the total allowable production to such operations (4) by providing where applicable for the establishment of fair and equitable standards of preparation to ensure purity and proper sizing and grading of the product in order to protect consumers and to prevent unfair trade practices (5) and also by establishing and providing for reasonable rules and regulations to effectuate such control plan

(c) The department or any other agency administering any production control plan may inspect the production of any producer under such plan and of such other producers as may desire such inspection to determine whether any standards of purity sizing and grading established under any plan are being complied with

(d) The department on its own initiative or at the request of any agency administering a production control plan and in such case at the expense of such agency may through its own staff or through a recognized accounting agency gather and compile composite statistics of volume value and geographical distribution of sales both within and outside the Commonwealth realization on sales production costs employment and wages relating to any industry functioning under a production control plan and such other statistics as may be deemed appropriate by any such administering agency Such statistics shall be available for inspection only in composite form Any other department of the Commonwealth collecting any of such statistics shall make them available to the department

(e) The department or agency administering any such production control plan including the Production Conrol Plan for the Anthracite Industry heretofore promulgated and now functioning under the provisions of this act shall make a report to each regular session of the General Assembly showing inter alia the percentage of the output of the industry under such plan and the experience of the industry thereunder and shall include therein any recommendations such agency may have with respect to further legislation which will be helpful in carrying out the purposes of this act

(f) No production control plan promulgated by the department under the authority of this act shall be continued whenever the department if it administers the plan or the officers of the State or a majority of such officers administering or assisting in the administration of any such plan shall report to the Governor and the Governor shall find that such plan no longer accomplishes the purposes of this act or no longer is in the public interest

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, this bill to amend the production control plan for the inspection of mineral resources of the Commonwealth, I feel is not contraversial. I have prepared a statement on the subject. I do not, however, care to take the time of the House, and I would ask unanimous consent to have this statement extended as part of my remarks in the record.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to extend the gentleman's remarks upon the record? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

EXTENDED REMARKS OF MR. WATKINS

Mr. Speaker, it is with great pride that I, as one of the sponsors arise to initiate the discussion of this bill. It is, as you will see, indelibly linked with the economic destiny of the Commonwealth. It provides the machinery through which there may be an orderly exploitation of our mineral resources with a decent regard for the needs of the generations to come.

The members will recall that in 1941 the Commerce Act was amended to authorize the Department of Commerce to promulgate a voluntary production control plan for any mineral resources industry located preponderately in Pennsylvania. It was provided that such a control plan would have to be designed to, first, adequately supply market demand; second, avoid the waste of the mineral resources or the exploitation thereof without adequate return to the State and the political subdivisions; third, protect capital investment from unwise depletion, and, fourth, promote employment and security for the payment of wages.

In line with the provisions of the amendments of 1941, a production control plan was evolved by the Department of Commerce for the anthracite industry in November of that year. That plan has been functioning without interruption to this day.

Through the bill now before this House, amendments are being proposed further to strengthen the plan and particularly to stress those features of the plan which are designed for the protection of consumers of anthracite and the advancement of the public interest. I might say here that these amendments are completely non-controversial. They have the endoresement of the Administration, the producers of anthracite, and organized labor, all of which parties cooperate in administering the production control plan. No voice, to my knowledge, has been raised against these amendments since their introduction, and I am, Mr. Speaker, confident that none will be raised.

Under the authority of the plan now in operation, the Anthracite Committee—made up of representatives of the industry, the United Mine Workers of America, and the State Administration—has established standards of sizes and purity of anthracite applicable to those who cooperate under the plan. Approximately 90 per cent of all legitimate production is represented by those participating in the plan.

Inspections are being made regularly to assure that anthracite produced by the participating companies meet the established standards. One of the amendments now proposed is designed to confirm not only the inspection service now carried on but to extend that inspection to all legitimate producers who desire to have their product inspected. Such inspection is not made compulsory but is to be offered to any producer who wishes to avail himself of it.

The inspections made during the past year, I might say, have shown that the coal produced by the participating parties has, with few exceptions, conformed to the standards and in many instances been appreciably better than required by the standards. The Solid Fuels Administration for War has also adopted standards for anthracite, but those set up by the Anthracite Committee are even higher.

Through the extension of the application of these inspections it is hoped that in the near future consumers will be assured that in purchasing anthracite from reputable dealers they will be getting a product of guaranteed quality.

The cost of the inspections, it should be pointed out, is paid by the anthracite industry. The State does not pay any part of it.

The Anthracite Committee to which I have referred is made up of three representatives apiece from the industry, from labor and from the State—nine members in all. The State representatives, by the way, are the Secretaries of Commerce and Mines and a Deputy Attorney General. One of the proposed amendments provides that the agency or committee administering such a plan shall make a report to each regular session of the Legislature, showing the percentage of the industry which is cooperating under the plan, the experiences under the plan, and making such recommendations for the amendment of the law relating to the plan as may appear necessary or desirable.

Another amendment provides that if the representatives of the State report to the Governor and the Governor finds that a Production Control Plan no longer serves the purpose of the law, it shall be discontinued. This is, needless to say, an important provision and will assure that a production plan will always be administered in the public interest.

The bill we are now considering also authorizes the Department of Commerce to gather and compile statistics relating to the anthracite industry such as production volume, production and realization costs, employment and wages. By this provision it is not proposed to duplicate statistics already being gathered but to bring together in one place as a public record a complete set of reliable statistics. Here again no expense to the State is involved. If the statistics are gathered and compiled at the request of an agency administering a plan, then the agency must agree to assume the cost.

While the production control plan presently does not involve actual production control because the industry finds itself, during the war period, with a market demand in excess of production possibilities, the continuation of the plan with the provisions added by the amendments will be necessary for the post-war era, Mr. Speaker, to prevent over-production and chaos in the industry such as existed during the period from 1929 to 1940.

In closing, let me repeat that there is nothing proposed here that is controversial. The bill has the support of all interested parties. I commend it to you now for prompt and favorable action.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 639, as follows:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1409) entitled as amended "An act authorizing the creation of State mining commissions with judicial powers to have exclusive jurisdiction with certain exceptions over the mining of coal within or under land easements or right of ways purchased condemned or otherwise acquired by the Commonwealth and over the assessment and award of benefits improvements and damages for coal required to be left in place by reason of the obligation to furnish support for land easements or right of ways purchased condemned or otherwise acquired by the Commonwealth whether the damages are payable by the Commonwealth or a county or a municipality authorizing counties and municipalities to enter into agreements to indemnify or reimburse the Commonwealth for damages to its lands easements or right of ways caused by the removal of coal under or adjacent thereto waiving vertical and lateral support therefor under certain conditions reserving the right to acquire absolute vertical and lateral support reserving the power to establish detours for the removal of coal underlying State highways providing for appeals to the courts of common pleas from orders assessing damages for coal required to be left in place" by waiving under certain conditions where no damages are payable vertical or lateral support to all lands easements and right of ways purchased condemned or otherwise acquired by the Commonwealth

Section 1 Section four of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1409) entitled as amended "An act authorizing the creation of State mining commissions with judicial powers to have exclusive jurisdiction with certain exceptions over the mining of coal within or under land easements or right of ways purchased condemned or otherwise acquired by the Commonwealth and over the assessment and award of benefits improvements and damages for coal required to be left in place by reason of the obligation to furnish support for land easements or right of ways purchased condemned or otherwise acquired by the Commonwealth whether the damages are payable by the Commonwealth or a county or a municipality authorizing counties and municipalities to enter into agreements to indemnify or reimburse the Commonwealth for damages to its lands easements or right of ways caused by the removal of coal under or adjacent thereto waiving vertical and lateral support therefor under certain conditions reserving the right to acquire absolute vertical and lateral support reserving the power to establish detours for the removal of coal underlying State highways providing for appeals to the courts of common pleas from orders assessing damages for coal required to be left in place" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the third day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 259) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 Except as hereinafter specifically provided by this act vertical and lateral support by underlying coal for any land easement or right of way purchased condemned or otherwise acquired by the Commonwealth is waived (1) (a) Whenever the State Mining Commission finds that the cost of restoring any possible subsidence or replacing any damage to structures or other improvements on such land easement or right of way is less than the amount payable for damages for coal required to be left in place in order to furnish such vertical or lateral support or (b) if no damages are payable by reason of the failue of the party or parties entitled thereto to institute proper proceedings to recover the same within the period prescribed by law whenever the owner or person entitled to remove the coal shall enter into an agreement to indemnify the Commonwealth for any damages or reimburse it for the replacement of any structure or other improvement which may be injured or destroyed by the removal of coal owned or adjacent to lands easements or right of ways owned by the Commonwealth and (2) Whenever the commission finds from the evidence before it that such waiver of support and the removal of coal will not result in loss of life or personal injury to persons properly using said land easement or right of way

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and shall apply to all cases now pending before any State Mining Commission

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 315.

An Act to further amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 208), entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words 'drug' and 'poison' and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity" discontinuing the registration of assistant pharmacist and providing that persons who have served as registered assistant pharmacists for ten years or longer shall be qualified for examination as pharmacists.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 3, line 28, by inserting after the word "act" the words "approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 208) entitled 'An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words "drug" and "poison" and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity.'"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendment made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

COMMUNICATION

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication which was read by the Clerk as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
COMMISSION TO STUDY THE PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

Harrisburg, April 4, 1945.

Honorable Ira T. Fiss, Speaker
House of Representatives
The Capitol

My dear Mr. Fiss:

As directed by the Concurrent Resolution of April 2, enclosed please find a memorandum showing comparative cost data for H. B. 568, H. B. 1143 and .H B. 1146.

The data have been prepared by the Budget Secretary and the Commission.

Sincerely vours,

(Signed) GEORGE YOUNG, Chairman

enc.

COMPARATIVE COST DATA FOR
H. B. 568, H. B. 1143, H. B. 1146

I Scope of Bills

H. B. 568, provides for a new salary schedule for teachers and new State reimbursement procedures on account of instructional expenses.

H. B. 1146 and H. B. 1143, provides for a new salary schedule based upon the efficiency ratings earned by teachers (H. B. 1146) and new State reimbursement procedures on account of: (1) instructional expenses, (2) pupil transportation, (3) high school tuition, (4) vocational education, (5) education of physically and mentally handicapped children, (6) education of home bound children, and (7) adult education (H. B. 1143).

II Estimated Net Increase in Cost to Commonwealth

The increased cost to the State of the bills under review can be but approximated, because the Commonwealth's financial obligation in any one year depends upon the valuation of taxable real estate and the pupil load carried by the public schools during that year. However, the estimates of costs shown below for H. B. 568 and H. B. 1143 and 1146 are comparable because the estimates have been made by the use of identical methods.

A. Increase in Cost to Commonwealth of H. B. 568. On the basis of a pupil load of 1,550,000 (estimate of the Department of Public Instruction for the school year ended in 1945) H. B. 568 would call for an estimated net increase in State appropriations of $21,000,000 for the school year 1945-46, or a net increase of $42,000,000 for the biennium 1945-47.

Under the provisions of H. B. 568, the cost to the State increases automatically up to 1951, because the bill provides for an increase in maximum subsidy of from $1800 for the biennium 1945-47 to $2400 for the biennium 1951-53.

On the assumption that by 1951, the pupil load will have regained its pre-war level of 1,800,000. H. B. 568 would call for an estimated net increase in State appropriation of $63,000,000 for the school year 1951-52, or a net increase of $126,000,000, for the biennium 1951-53.

B. Increase in Cost to Commonwealth of H. B. 1143 and H. B. 1146.

The net increase in Commonwealth's cost for the school year 1945-46 would be approximately $10,500,000 or $21,000,000 for the biennium 1945-47.

On the assumption that by 1951 the pupil load will have regained its pre-war level of 1,800,000, H. B. 1143 and H. B. 1146 would call for estimated net increase in State appropriations of approximately $20,000,000 for the school year 1951-52, or $40,000,000 for the biennium 1951-53.

III Increase in Local School Tax Rates Necessary to Finance H. B. 568

Under the terms of H. B. 1143 and 1146, local real estate tax rates necessary to finance the local share of school costs would not increase. However, if H. B. 568 should become law, local real estate tax rates necessary to finance local share of costs would have to be increased considerably. A simple numerical illustration will help to make this point clear:

The mandated salary plus increments plus the temporary cost of living increase of elementary teachers employed by fourth class districts, is at present $1400. In the case of a seventy-five per cent fourth class district with a valuation of $50,000 per teacher, the Commonwealth, at present, contributes approximately $1,200 toward the salary of $1400. This means that the district in question must raise $200/$50,000 or four mills to finance its share of the salary of one elementary teacher.

Under the terms of H. B. 568, the salary of the average elementary teacher would eventually become $2800. In the case of a fourth class district with $50,000 of valuation, the Commonwealth would contribute (beginning in 1951) toward the payment of this salary:

$$$2400 - ($50,000 \times .005) = $2150$$

Under these conditions the balance of the mandated minimum salary of $2800 amounting to $650, would have to be raised locally. This would necessitate the imposition of a tax rate of $650/$50,000 or thirteen mills

To facilitate appraisal of the significance of the above illustration it may be pointed out that today the estimated percentage distribution of school districts according to assessed valuation per teaching unit is as follows:

Assessed Valuations per Teaching Unit (in thousands of dollars)	Estimated Percentage of Teaching Units Operated by Districts Having Assessed Valuations per Teaching Unit Less than the Valuation Listed in Col. 1
(1)	(2)
25	5.19
50	25.18
75	42.44
100	46.18
125	65.02
150	72.20
175	77.83
200	80.26
220 and over	80.90

In connection with the interpretation of the above data it should be remembered that salary cost is but one item of total school costs. It is estimated that at a salary of $2800 it would cost at least $4000 to operate one teaching unit. If this estimate should prove correct a $50,000 district would have to levy thirty-seven mills to pay for its share of the total cost of operating one teaching unit, and a $25,000 district would have to levy sixty-nine mills.

The SPEAKER. The communication and report will be printed in full in the Legislative Journal. A copy will be made available to the Committee on Education.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the copy of this report that will be furnished to the Committee on Education become available before tonight's public hearing?

The SPEAKER. That was the purpose of the resolution. Does the gentleman wish the report to be read in full.

Mr. COHEN. I do not desire that. Mr. Speaker, but the copies that will be available for the Members of the Education Committee, will they be available early this afternoon, late this afternoon, or early this evening?

The SPEAKER. They are available now.

Mr. COHEN. For distribution, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. There are two copies that are available now. Copies can be made.

Mr. COHEN. The minority side would like to have copies made available for information

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest that the gentleman confer with the Chairman of the Committee on Education.

Mr. ANDREWS. The information, Mr. Speaker, that is supposed to be in that report is information needed by every Member of this House in passing intelligently upon school legislation.

As I understand it, this report analysis the financial cost of the various bills now pending before this House, and that is something that I would like to have, and I would like to have every Member on this side of the House have. It is not something that should be simply confined to the archives of the Committee on Education.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that there is no intention of doing that. If the gentleman will recall, the resolution concurred in last night near the close of the session.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of Parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Would it not be possible for the Chair to instruct, or the House to instruct the Chief Clerk, or some other officer of this House to prepare mimeograph copies immediately for distribution at the earliest possible time—in the boxes of the Members?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will inquire of the Chief Clerk whether it will be possible for him to do that before the public hearing tomorrow evening.

Mr. ANDREWS. Tonight, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chief Clerk informs the Chair that it is possible to have these copies mimeographed and in the mail boxes of the Members this evening.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Cambria that copies will be available within an hour. They will be placed in the mail boxes of the Members within that time.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 933, entitled:

An Act to add section one thousand six hundred and fifteen to the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," providing for the release of pupils from the public schools for religious instruction.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BONAWITZ offered the following amendments.

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 1615), page 2, line 16, by striking out the word "group" and inserting in lieu thereof: "religious group or organization."

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 1615), page 2, line 20, by inserting after the word "release" "from school sessions."

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 1615), page 2, line 20, by striking out the words "who desire to" and inserting in lieu thereof: "whose parents or surviving parent or guardian or other person having legal custody of such pupil desires to have them."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 135, as follows:

An Act fixing the salaries of State Mine Inspectors under the jurisdiction of the Department of Mines in this Commonwealth and the expenses incident to this office

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 On and after the passage of this act the salary of mine inspectors of this Commonwealth who have continuously served as such for four years shall be increased to five thousand four hundred dollars ($5,400.00) per annum together with the necessary expense incidental to the performance of their duties under the law which money shall be paid in the manner now provided by law

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 3 Effective Date This act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JAMES asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I hold in my hand a small pamphlet—I hold in my mind a good many things concerning it. This pamphlet is titled "The Pennsylvania Legislator." It is published every so often, and this is the number of March, 1945, Volume 12, No. 33. The pamphlet is signed by a G. Woodward, and below the signature there appear the words "Sixth District." I am forced to the conclusion that the G. Woodward must be a Member of the General Assembly, presumably a Senator.

I am very much flattered because this pamphlet is a little gem of composition and rhetoric, and it is entirely dedicated to me.

Of course I do have to say that it is not in it's entirety complimentary. I am, or I discover myself to be upon reading this pamphlet, compared, not too favorably, with Judas Iscariot. I am alleged to be the unworthy namesake of first American, Benjamin Franklin, because it is alleged that I am devoting my life to tearing down the great and noble things that Benjamin Franklin built up in the City of Philadelphia. I am, I find, the captain of seven evil spirits. I find that I have sold my soul to the devil; I am a man without a country, and I am a murderer, for the mark of Cain is on my forehead.

All of these maladictions that have been brought down upon my head and upon my character are because of the sin that I committed in this House several weeks ago in sponsoring a bill which would lift from the backs of the people who do not reside in the City of Philadelphia an unwarranted tax of one per cent on all that they earn if they work in the City of Philadelphia. It is alleged because I sponsored this bill and it has passed the House, and at least there should be a likelihood that it will pass the Senate, that I am tearing down the great and noble temple of Philadelphia. I am not to die nobly in the wreckage of this temple as Sampson did when he pulled down the temple in the days of old. I am to be playing golf at Villanova when that tragedy occurs, much I suppose as Nero fiddled when Rome burned.

But this little pamphlet is not solely without compliments. I want to read you a line or two. The author says,

> I saw Mr. James at breakfast the other day; one of his fellow conspirators was with him, they did not look like conspirators, they had good table manners and were dressed just as well as good Philadelphians.

Since I have read this little work I have made it my business to observe the sartorial habits of good Philadelphians and I cannot say that I find any great difference between the way good and evil Philadelphians dress; I cannot find much difference between the way in which Philadelphians dress and the way in which people in Pittsburgh dress. It is true here and there a gay little note of color is added occasionally, as witness the corn colored sport shirt that Senator Salus sometimes wears. There is here and there a more brilliant tie than perhaps good taste and conservatism would justify, but of all of the differences I have only noticed one difference that could be called outstanding, and that is in the matter of pants—but after all that is minor. It recalls to my mind something that my father said to me a great many years ago. When I was a boy it was the mode to wear short pants, knee breeches. They gave a great deal of freedom of action. We could run and jump and kick a football very much better in short pants than in long pants, and those of us who had shapely and muscular legs were a little proud of them. I was somewhat loathe to exchange short pants for long pants, but the time came when my father said to me, "Ben, I think it time you got into long pants, and I am going to buy you a suit of long pants." Well, I protested a little bit but my father spoke these memorable words, "No, it is time that you get into long pants, then you will begin to look like a man, and when you get into long pants you will begin to think and act more like a man."

There are other interesting features in this little publication. I wan to read another,

> Mr. James is a Representative from Villanova which unfortunately is in Delaware County.
> Of course, I do not consider that a misfortune.
> Delaware County is a hot spot on the political map of Pennsylvania. The leader of Delaware County is John J. McClure. Governor Martin doesn't like ex-senator McClure and snubs him. Mr. McClure doesn't like being snubbed, so he tries to get back at the Governor. To do this he persuaded his representative to introduce a House bill to repeal the Philadelphia pay roll or wage tax bill. So Mr. James went out and gathered seven other evil spirits, more evil than himself . . .

From there on it describes how we sat in the corner and pulled out a plum, and the plum was ten million dollars of Philadelphia money. All of that is sort of unimportant.

Well, Mr. Speaker, I find over a number of years of experience that there are some types of politicians who find a great deal of pleasure in chucking dead cats in John McClure's yard, but I don't know that he objects to it, and certainly I am not going to object on his behalf.

But there is one thing I would like to say to this House and also to the author of this little literary work, and that is that if the author's memory were not so short, or if he had been in regular attendance the last four sessions of the Senate, he would know that House Bill 5 which I so iniquitously sponsored, was presented in this House in each of the four last sessions in exactly the same words as it appeared in House Bill 5. I simply want to make it clear, and I think it will be clear in the minds of most of the Members here, that Mr. McClure would not have had very much to do with the introduction of this bill in four separate sessions.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I want to turn to the last page of this little effort, there is a postscript, and this is what the postscript says:

> The following institutions founded by Benjamin Franklin are now being closed or crippled by Benjamin Franklin James.

Then here is the list:

University of Pennsylvania . . .

Now, I would say to the Members of this General Assembly that if there is a likelihood that the University of Pennsylvania is folding up that we probably had better not make the usual appropriations to that University because to do so would simply be throwing good money after bad. Besides, if the University of Pennsylvania is in any langer a public spirited citizen from Montgomery County some years ago gave to the University in fee simple a very large tract of land in Montgomery County. I am quite sure the University would be just as happy to be out there as where they are.

The next institution that I am to wreck of all things in the world is the Franklin Printing Company, of which I am the president. The Franklin Printing Company was founded by Benjamin Franklin in 1728, and it is my good fortune, or bad fortune, to be the only Benjamin Franklin to head that company since "old Ben," as we refer to him down at the plant, passed along. I can assure the Members of the House that there is no danger there. I will open the books and show G. Woodward that the assets and liabilities ratio is very satisfactory.

Next thing that I am wrecking now is the American Philosophical Society. Well, that is a high brow institution. It does a very noble work, I am sure, and only people who can afford it look into things of that sort. I am certain that most of the supporters of that institution live outside of Philadelphia anyhow and I don't think that the Society is in any danger.

The Library Company of Philadelphia is another institution founded by Benjamin Franklin, and I will leave it to the judgment of the people in this House as to whether or not the Library Company of Philadelphia is in danger.

I will leave also the question of the Pennsylvania Hospital in your judgment. As far as the Philadelphia Contributorship For The Insurance of Houses From Losses by Fire, may be concerned, they don't want to lend anybody any more money. Over a couple hundred years they have made so much money that all they need to do is sit up all night and watch it, and that they can do just as well any where else and keep it just as intact as they can in Philadelphia.

But here is the payoff, Mr. Speaker, I am wrecking Philadelphia's 111th Infantry.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the last information that I had from a very, very close friend of mine, who is an officer in that old Infantry Regiment, was that he was hard on General Patton's heels chasing Hell out of the Germans.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FINNERTY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I listened to the oration of Mr. James a few moments ago, and in his oration I have been tied up to a certain extent with it, Mr. Hoggard and myself. While not in that literary gem that he read from, the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin on March 29th took extracts from the pamphlet that he read, and in that they connected Mr. Hoggard and myself with Mr. James; they connect Mr. James with the late Senator of Delaware County, John McClure, and the propaganda that has been passed around on the wage tax bill was that Mr. Hoggard and myself introduced the bill at the instigation of Senator McClure.

I will quote from the Bulletin:

> Actually the repealer was introduced by two Democrats, John J. Finnerty and Dennie Hoggard, Jr., of West Philadelphia, but Senator Woodward implies they worked with James.

So, we are a part of the seven evil spirits.

I wish to say to the Members of this House that I only met Senator McClure once in my life and that was at a public breakfast given by our co-Member from Delaware, Mr. Turner, and that was about five years ago, before the wage tax was born. So there could not be any connection between Senator McClure, and Mr. Hoggard and myself.

Now, to bring the issue to the point where the Members will understand why we introduced the wage tax repealer, who is back of it and who is pushing it. A telegram was sent this week to all the Senators in the Senate. I will read from the Philadelphia Record a copy of the telegram that was sent:

> William M. Leader, President of Branch One, American Federation of Hosiery Workers, and Chairman of the Northeast Political Labor Action Committee, yesterday sent wires to all State Senators urging repeal of the Philadelphia Wage Tax.
> As a spokesman for the 50,000 members of the Northeast P.A.C. I have been instructed by my organization to inform you that we will brook no compromise on the current wage tax issue now before your legislative body.

I will say to the Members of the House that those behind the introduction of the wage tax repealer are just what this telegram says, the working people of Philadelphia. The working people of Philadelphia have contacted me by the hundreds, asking us why we don't do something for the repeal of the wage tax. That is the backing of the wage tax repealer, not Senator McClure or any one else, and I make this statement so that the facts may be clear.

I make this statement so that the facts will be before the Members and there will be no charging that I am tied up with any political interests in the introduction of this wage tax repealer.

COMMITTEE REPORT ON NEW GOVERNOR'S MANSION

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee created by Concurrent Resolution No. 2, Serial No. 4, to study the necessity for an extension to the Governor's mansion, I want to submit the report of this committee at this time.

The minority Member's name is not on the report only because of his absence. He sat with the Committee yesterday morning and concurred in the wording of this report, so that I am free to state that if present his name would be on the report, and may be added to it upon his return subsequently to this immediate day.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I submit to you the report of the committee.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania,
April 3, 1945.

Report of the Committee Created by Concurrent Resolution No. 2, Serial No. 4, Joint Legislative Committee to Study the Necessity for a New Governor's Mansion

After due consideration the Committee is of the opinion that there is necessity for a new Governor's Mansion and that the proper place to erect it is on the land purchased by the General State Authority at Front and Maclay Streets in the City of Harrisburg.

The Committee further recommends that the Commonwealth acquire the plot of ground adjoining the plot already owned and known as the Schuddemage property.

The Committee further recommends that Senate Bill No. 31 be enacted into law in order that construction can be commenced when materials are available.

In the course of its study the Committee had occasion to examine the proposed plans for a Governor's Mansion heretofore approved by the General State Authority and it is the studied opinion of the Committee that those plans do not adequately represent the kind and type of structure which should be erected for a Governor's Mansion. The Committee respectfully suggests that if and when appropriate legislation is enacted for the erection of a Governor's Mansion, that new thought be given to plans for a structure which will adequately represent the dignity of a Governor's home.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Mr. CHUDOFF from the Committee on City and County—First Class reported as amended House Bill No. 763, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 936), entitled "An act authorizing receivers of taxes in and for cities of the first class to furnish certificates of taxes and claims which are liens on real estate, and fixing the fees for such services," by relieving the receiver of taxes of the liability for the accuracy of said certificate.

Mr. HEIM from the Committee on Motor Vehicles reported as amended House Bill No. 861, entitled:

An Act to further amend section seven hundred seven, subsection (e) of section nine hundred three, and to repeal section seven hundred eight and subsection (f) of section nine hundred two of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts, making an appropriation and providing for refunds"; changing the provisions of said act relative to the registration of motor vehicles used for the transportation of passengers.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Mr. WACHHAUS offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1945.

Gayle W. Burlingame was born January 23, 1880, in Cyzerville, Potter County. He received his education in the Altoona public schools, followed by a special course at the LaSalle University. After he became blinded in adult life, he turned his attention to the work of his fellow-blind. He was among the first to train a dog for guide purposes, and that dog was the well-known Lady Luck. A year or two later, he discovered the inadequate facilities for blind persons to make the adjustments from a seeing world to one of blindness. He therefore determined to act in behalf of his fellow blind.

Mr. Burlingame was responsible for the largest vote ever given for a constitutional amendment when in 1933, the amendment to the constitution for blind pensions was voted upon by the people of this Commonwealth.

He organized the largest group of blind in the world under the name of the Pennsylvania Federation of the Blind, and became its first president. He was responsible for the enactment of the present blind pension law of Pennsylvania—the most liberal law of its kind in the nation.

He was the choice of the blind of this Commonwealth to become Chief of the State Council for the Blind, in the Department of Welfare, being appointed to this office under Ex-Governor James. Under his administration, the Bureau has expanded in the last four years from a staff of ten to almost fifty. This program included many new activities as well as developing the old ones. Under his guidance, a program for home instruction of adult blind, sight-saving, remedial eye care, the education of sub-normal blind children, the care and training of preschool blind children, rehabilitation and placement, were carried through.

His policy was to employ as many blind persons in his own offices as possible; hence his staff of one blind person in 1941 grew to the employment of eighteen at the present time. He passed away Saturday, March 31, 1945.

He will be recorded as the greatest and most beloved blind man in the history of Pennsylvania.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Evelyn Burlingame of 415 Briggs Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extends its sincere sympathy to his widow and that in evidence thereof, the Chief Clerk of the House shall transmit a copy of this resolution to her.

LITTLE BRITTAIN HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, April 9, 1945, at 4:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern War Time.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 12:12 o'clock p. m., Eastern War Time until Monday, April 9, 1945, at 4:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern War Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, April 5, 1945.

The House met at 11 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Ira T. Fiss) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrove, offered the following prayer:

O God, without whom our labor is but lost, look favorably, we beseech Thee, upon all works undertaken according to Thy will, and especially upon that which has been committed to representatives. Grant unto each member pure intention, patient faith, sufficient success on earth, and the blessedness of serving Thee throughout eternity. Trough Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Wednesday, April 4, 1945.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Wednesday, April 4, 1945, when, on motion of Mr. OWENS unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, last week I told the Majority Leader that we on this side would expect the Majority Leader to have a quorum in the House. I ask him whether he has a quorum present?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I have not counted the Members present. I have just come into the Hall of the House. If the gentleman will exercise a little patience I believe that he will find that there will be a quorum present. There were a number of committee meetings this morning and I believe some of the Members have not been able to come to the floor of the House from those committee meetings. I would also indicate to the gentleman that on the other side of the House there are many vacant seats. I imagine that his Members also are attending committee meetings.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, they may be out of town for all I know, or fishing, or where I know not. It is not my responsibility unless forced to do so, to produce a quorum. It is the obligation of the Majority Leader.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I want to assure the gentleman that none of the Members on this side of the House, I believe, except those by reason of illness or sickness in the family are out fishing or doing anything which would prevent them from being in the Hall of the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if at any time the Majority Leader feels that he is in serious need of any Democratic absentees he well knows that it is within his power at any time to send for them, and he will have my full and free permission so to do.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Cambria for his expression of confidence and of cooperation in doing what may be necessary before the end of this session in order to comply with his wishes.

There being no objection

House Bill No. 181, Printer's No. 195 and

House Bill No. 183, Printer's No. 196

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILL NOT ON FILE

The SPEAKER. House Bill No. 933, Printer's No. 478, bill on third reading on page 13 of today's calendar is not on file and will be passed over.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MORAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, week after week we have been pleading with Members to be here on the last day's session each week, and it seems with all the pleading there are still a lot of them absent. I am warning this House today that if they are not here next week I am polling the House. That is a fair warning.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Allegheny polls the House then I will feel impelled to insist that the process be completed and that the absentees be sent for to appear in the House to purge themselves from the contempt implied by their absence. So I am telling the gentleman from Allegheny that if he polls the House it will not simply be a roll call, but we will send for the absentees and we will remain in session until the absentees appear.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to state that it also must be understood that the Speaker of the House does not grant leave of absence. Leave of absence is only granted by the House.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. CLARENCE E. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, April 9, 1945, at 9 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 12:20 p. m.) the House adjourned.

Vol. 29. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 9, 1945. No. 41.

SENATE

MONDAY, April 9, 1945.

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain prayer was delivered by the gentleman from Berks, Senator RUTH.

Our Father in Heaven, we thank Thee that Thou hast given us the help and the strength to come back here for our work this week and we pray that Thy Holy Spirit will guide us to give our best efforts constructively; we pray that Thou wilt help us each today to have in mind not only our own personal advantage but the advantage of the people whom we represent.

We pray today especially that Thou wouldst guide those in authority throughout the world that this war might soon come to an end and all our loved ones come back home again.

We ask it in Thy Holy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HEYBURN and Mr. EDMONDS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Wade asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. JAMES.

L. 1199, No. 324), entitled "An act for the acceptance of a site from the University of Pittsburgh, and for surveys and the preparation of preliminary plans and estimates for a Western State Psychiatric Hospital; providing for the erection, construction, and equipment of said hospital when appropriations are made available, and for its management by the Department of Welfare," by changing the name "Western State Psychiatric Hospital" to "Western State Psychiatric Institute and Clinic."

Senate Bill No. 386, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by permitting departments, boards, or commissions to make transfers of surplus products of the soil, meats, livestock, timber, or other materials raised or grown upon or taken from property of the Commonwealth, or their by-products, to other State agencies and receive credit to their appropriation, under certain conditions.

Senate Bill No. 406, entitled:

An Act to regulate the sale of second-hand watches; and providing penalties

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND COMMITTED

Mr. MALLERY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 673, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies, with the approval of the Governor to convey to the County of Blair and the City of Altoona, certain real property located in said county and heretofore acquired by the Commonwealth for development as an airport.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 674, entitled:

An Act to further amend section thirty of the act, approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 522), entitled, as amended "An act relating to dogs, and the protection of livestock, poultry, and game birds raised in captivity from damage by dogs; providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture; providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors; regulating the keeping of dogs, and authorizing their destruction in certain cases; providing for the protection of licensed dogs, and for dogs temporarily imported for trial, show, and breeding purposes; prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners; providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock, poultry, and game birds by dogs, and for live stock killed by, or dying from, rabies, and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs, and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth; imposing powers and duties on certain State, county, city, borough, town, and township officers and employes, directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury; and providing penalties," increasing the maximum amounts of payments by the State in certain cases.

Which was committed to the Committee on Agriculture.

Mr. EALY read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 675, entitled:

An Act to repeal The General State Authority Act of 1935 and abolish The General State Authority upon the payment of its bonds and obligations and the transfer and conveyance of all its properties to the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 676, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the St. Chistopher's Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 677, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one thousand five hundred eight of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by providing for the qualifications, tenure, salaries and reimbursement by the Commonwealth for school nurses in school districts of the first class.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. ROSENFELD read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 678, entitled:

An Act to license and regulate and to promote competition in the business of purchasing contracts arising out of retail installment sales; prescribing the form of such sales; imposing said licensing and regulation in the Department of Banking; imposing duties in, and granting powers to, the Department of Banking in the classification of retail installments, sales and contracts arising therefrom and in fixing and prescribing maximum charges for the extension of credit in retail installment sales; and prescribing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Banking.

Mr. HEYBURN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 679, entitled:

An Act giving the consent of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the acquisition by the United States of America, of approximately three-tenth of an acre of land in the County of Delaware, upon which is erected the Chester Range Front Light, and ceding jurisdiction to the United States.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 238, on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend section nine hundred ten, and subsection (e) of section nine hundred fifty-one of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" changing the requirements for affidavits of candidates for judge of a court of record who are in the armed forces of the United States and whose whereabouts is unknown or who is out of the country

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 577 on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven hundred eight and to further amend clause (f) of section seven hundred thirty-one of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by controlling the removal and transportation of big game requiring report of such killing and providing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 696 on final passage, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections one two three and four of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 787) entitled as amended "An act authorizing subject to approval of the court of common pleas the compromise or reduction of tax and municipal claims on real property purchased by any county city borough town school district or poor district at any sale for the nonpayment of taxes or municipal claims and the reconveyance or private sale of such property" requiring such reconveyance and private sale to have the approval of a majority of the municipalities having an interest therein

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and certain sections and to add certain new sections to the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1987) entitled "An act to preserve and improve the purity of the waters of the Commonwealth for the protection of the public health animal and aquatic life and for industrial consumption and recreation empowering and directing the creation of indebtedness or the issuing of non-debt revenue bonds by political subdivisions to provide works to abate pollution providing protection of water supply providing for the jurisdiction of courts magistrates aldermen and justices of the peace in the enforcement thereof and providing additional remedies for abating pollution of waters imposing certain penalties and repealing certain acts" by changing the definitions of 'establishment' and 'industrial waste' by changing requirement of notice to discontinue discharges of industrial waste by changing penalties for violations and requiring prosecutions to be instituted or approved by the Attorney General by prohibiting the discharge of silt into any waters of the Commonwealth and regulating the discharge of acid mine drainage into waters thereof authorizing the Sanitary Water Board to establish standards of purity and to determine the time for compliance with the provisions of the act in certain cases and requiring the Board's approval of plans for opening reopening or extending coal mines by authorizing the acquisition by purchase or condemnation or otherwise by the Sanitary Water Board of easements or rights of ways and the acquisition or construction of pipes conduits drains or tunnels and pumps and pumping equipment and providing for the payment of the costs thereof by the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, with respect to House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 448, I find little comfort in the Brunner bill as amended. The cure it proposes is worse than the ill it is designed to correct. Frankly what good is any law if it is not properly enforced? Powers unknown in the history of Pennsylvania have been given to the Sanitary Water Board to cleanse and purify the waters and sewage system, but it has failed to exercise them. The Board has time and time again exhibited a consistent unwillingness to do anything which might offend the coal operators and the industralists generally. Under the proposed bill as amended they are given greater powers than ever, but, there is little cause for rejoicing. It is now to my mind a matter of grave concern.

Notwithstanding complaints and their knowledge of existing conditions—and I speak of the Sanitary Water Board—what have they done since 1905, and particularly since 1937, to make purer streams, decent waters, and higher health standards a reality? Absolutely nothing is the answer. If the Sanitary Water Board were true to their trust, today there would not be any need for the Brunner bill. The pure streams act of 1905, and as supplemented by the act of 1937, are sufficient unto themselves.

Let me read one section of the Act of 1937 as it applies to silt and acid mine drainage. It is specifically known as the Act of 1937, P. L. 1987, Article 3, section 310.

Article 3 generally calls for a prohibition against discharge of industrial wastes, and in this particular section of that same article it says:

"Section 310. Acid mine drainage and silt.—The provisions of this article shall not apply to acid mine drainage and silt from coal mines until such time as, in the opinion of the Sanitary Water Board, practical means for the removal of the polluting properties of such drainage shall become known."

This Act was passed in 1937. Let us see what has been done since 1937. As I said before, Article 3 in the main covers a prohibition against the discharge of industrial wastes and Section 310 of the article provides that the provisions of Article 3 shall not apply to acid mine drainage and silt from coal mines—and I repeat it because I can not emphasize it too strongly—until such time as, in the opinion of the Sanitary Water Board, practical means for the removal of the polluting properties of such drainage shall become known.

What has been done by the Sanitary Water Board since 1937 under this provision? Again I say practically nothing. True, they recently outlawed silt and prescribed a formula that can hardly stand the scientific test in order to eliminate silt from our waters. It is known as the one hour's quiescent sedimentation test or its equivalent.

Coal wash water contains about twenty per cent silt, and applying this very same formula of one hour's quiescent sedimentation test or its equivalent, little or no silt can be eliminated, as the twenty per cent silt, as it is, may be reduced to sixteen or fifteen per cent, but that does not help the situation much.

I have learned from reliable sources it is a phony formula and will not under any circumstances eliminate sufficient silt to keep the waters clean and pure. What can we expect from a Sanitary Water Board that leans heavily toward the coal operator and industrialists?

The city of Philadelphia, realizing the hopelessness of the situation, and the great danger that attached to the unwarranted flow of silt into the Schuylkill River, particularly in view of the fact that it was fast becoming a flood hazard and clogging up the intakes of our water supply system, and further rendering the water unfit for domestic purposes, joined in at a later date by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, filed a bill of complaint in Court No. 1 in the City of Philadelphia, on October 29, 1943, against 22 companies, and I now name these companies so that we have the record clear:

The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company;
The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company;
Winton Coal Mining Co., Inc.;
Lehigh Navigation Coal Co.;
Tunnel Ridge Coal Co.;
Mary D. Coal Mining Co., Inc.;
Bell Colliery Co., Inc.;
Jones Coal Co.;
Frackville Coal Co.;
Big Valley Coal Mining Co.;
Haddock Mining Co.;
Pine Ridge Coal Co.;
St. Clair Coal Co.;
Repplier Coal Co.;
Morea New Boston Breaker Corporation;
Eagle Hill Coal Co.;
Colitz Coal Co.;
Branch Coal Co.;
Otto Colliery Co.;
Primose Coal Co.;
Buck Run Colliery Co.;
Peach Mountain Coal Co.;
Priscilla Lobeetis, trading as Hillside Coal Company and C. Warne.

To restrain these companies the city of Philadelphia, joined by the Commonwealth, filed a bill in equity or a bill of complaint to restrain these companies that I have just named from permitting the coal washery waters to be discharged into the Schuylkill River or its tributaries, without taking all known adequate means to first remove the coal dirt, silt, coal refuse, or other pollution from all of the waters discharged from the breakers or washeries operated by them, or any of them.

After considerable discussion and legal argument, and before the final determination of the case, twenty-one of those companies I have just mentioned agreed to join in a consent decree, agreeing among other things—mind you, now, after suit was started and argument had and before final determination of the case—twenty-one of those companies agreed to join in a consent decree, agreeing, among other things, to install coffer dams or rip-rap retaining walls or silt basins at their own expense, said work to be done within a year.

However, notwithstanding the fact that the Commonwealth joined in this bill of complaint, they refused to go along with the city and suggested that they do not press the case to a final conclusion. Yes, the Sanitary Water Board, through its enforcement agent, the Attorney General, refused to go along. If the Commonwealth had gone along, as I said before, there would not have been any necessity for the Brunner Bill. Conditions on the Schuylkill and Delaware Rivers prompted the introduction of the Brunner Bill. May I ask why did the Attorney General refuse to go along? For a moment it seemed that finally the critical situation with respect to our streams would be solved or alleviated somewhat. Let me point out what we have instead, and I now read from an article appearing in the Philadelphia Record, only last week, I think it was Tuesday or Wednesday:

"Official Says City Faces Loss of Drinking Water

"Unless something is done, to purify the streams of Pennsylvania, it will be only a question of time before Philadelphia is left high and dry—without drinking water.

"That forecast was made yesterday by Martin J. McLaughlin, chief of the city's Water Bureau, as he revealed dredges are once again at work to clear silt and sediment away from the water intake pipes at the Belmont pumping station on the Schuylkill.

"'Without stream purification, we will have to keep on dredging every day, and even so, in the course of years we would lose the battle,' he declared.

"The dredges were called into service two weeks ago, after a layoff since mid-December of 1944, McLaughlin said. The two intakes at Belmont, one 72 inches in diameter and the other 78—are located at a bend in the stream where huge quantities of mud and silt collect, after being washed downstream by the spring rains.

"Last year the dredges scooped up 32,300 cubic yards of silt at that location.

Two Other Stations

"Belmont is not the only station with a problem, though it is considered the most acute and dangerous.

"At Queen Lane and Shawmont stations, McLaughlin said, the intake situation is not serious, but the sedimentation basins are in bad shape. The basin at Queen Lane is more than half filled with coal silt, and at Shawmont, in Roxborough, the water capacity has declined 15 per cent since 1926 because of silt and mud clogging the basin

"The Belmont station has been losing 2 per cent of its capacity each year since its last cleansing in 1940, and now it can hold only a couple of days' supply of water at a time.

"Labor shortage to clean the sand used in the filters has forced the bureau to employ 30 convicts from Holmesburg Prison on the job."

My friends, to my mind, and I believe to the minds of everybody here, this situation is very dangerous and critical. Yes, we have given time and more time for the coal companies but little or no action has been taken by the Sanitary Water Board, and it has been acquiesced in by the Attorney General until the present date, and I will say it has brought about a condition today, to say the least, that is deplorable.

You will please note at this point that the 21 companies, well-known and of tremendous size, did not complain in 1944, when they were ready to enter into a joint consent decree, that they were being driven out of business. They were willing and ready to spend millions of dollars to abate the nuisances that originated with themselves.

However, with the introduction of the Brunner Bill, they complained bitterly, shouting from the housetops that they were being driven out of business. Their representatives, led by the president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association—and I think we all know who he is—appeared before the Governor and demanded that the bill be amended to save industry. Amendments have since been inserted, some of a vicious nature, not only destroying the intent of the Brunner Bill, but weakening the present law, that is, the law of 1905 and 1937, as well.

Mr. President, is the Attorney General so naive and innocent as to believe that these amendments introduced since the introduction of the Brunner Bill are helpful? The Attorney General tells us they are clarifying. I will say they are gratifying to the coal operator and to the industrialists. Is the Attorney General playing the same machiavellian role he portrayed only a year ago in the suit instituted by the city of Philadelphia against the 22 companies already mentioned?

Mr. Duff, you are the Attorney General. Frankly, whose hand are you playing? Are you part and parcel of that giant conspiracy led by the president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association and the Sanitary Water Board to defeat the interests of the public? I do not know. I wish you would answer me.

The Governor apparently has left everything to you, Mr. Duff. Am I to believe that you are a scapegoat for our Governor? May I ask why were not the people heard in this matter? Was not the matter of sufficient concern to warrant a public hearing? Is it because industry and the coal operators wanted to suppress the truth? Apparently the dirty work of the assassins is committed behind the scenes.

Mr. President, on paper, the promises made by you, and Mr. Duff as well, with respect to stream clearance, especially as to the Brunner bill, appear rosy, but in the final analysis what do they amount to? As I said before several times on the floor of the Senate—talk, talk, more talk, conference after conference, and only talk and conferences. Again I will say our people are being taken for a ride. I say to you, Mr. Duff, and to the Governor, it is high time honest and sincere action was taken to make stream clearance a reality.

Let me now read from the Philadelphia Record. The heading is: "The Mine Owners Pollute the Anti-pollution Bill"

The Mine Owners Polute The Anti-Pollution Bill

"One's nose is useful in Pennsylvania politics.

Last week our nose tipped us off to the fact that the Brunner Pure Streams bill, after its manhandling by the Senate Mines and Mining Committee, had acquired an odor identical with that of the Schuylkill.

"Readers will remember our deep skepticism over the amendments tacked onto that bill by the Senate committee. We said we'd take them with a 'grain of silt.' That was before a thorough analysis could be made.

"Though we couldn't see the amendments, we could smell 'em.

"Now an analysis of the amendments proves our suspicions justified. The bill has been completely butchered by the Senate Mines Committee, dominated by M. Harvey Taylor, hatchetman for the coal operators.

"In our opinion it will be better to kill the Brunner bill rather than enact it into law with these amendments.

"Here's why:

"One of the amendments permits the pollution of streams which now are unpolluted, allows acid draining into waters which, so far, have been kept pure.

"Another proviso obligates the State to spend millions for pipes, tunnels and other drainage systems for the coal barons, this after the war. Thus, if there ever is any elimination of pollution, the taxpayers and not the coal barons will pay for it.

"Yet another amendment provides exactly what The Record warned against the other day: wide-open loopholes for prolonged litigation which might delay actual curbing of pollution far beyond the lifetimes of Pennsylvanians now living.

"There are other bad spots in the measure. But these three alone show the Brunner bill to be a step backward, not a step forward.

"An amendment to the Pure Streams Act of 1937, it would weaken that act as it now stands. It would permit more pollution of the streams of Pennsylvania, not stop the pollution now going on.

"We hope Governor Martin will crack down and demand that this double-crossing of his own program—and double-crossing of the public—be checkmated by restoring the Brunner bill to its original form.

"Otherwise, the amendments will kill the purposes of the bill.

"We still hope and believe the Governor and Attorney General Duff are sincere on this issue.

"Yet Tom O'Neil, writing from Harrisburg, tells us that Duff went over every line of these amendments and okayed them, while disapproving others.

"Before it is too late, we suggest that Duff go over them again—with a magnifying glass instead of rose-colored specs.

"Then he might try a blindforld test, and hold the amended Brunner bill under his nose."

Mr. President, the author of the bill, Mr. Brunner, and a certain newspaper, over-zealous in their attempt to put over a stream clearance program, are ready to accept anything, notwithstanding the fact that the bill has been massacred beyond recognition. I say to Mr. Brunner originally there was little or no need for his bill, and certainly less reason today as amended. The coal operators and the industrialists, however, are very much pleased with it, believe it or not.

You can hardly expect anything better, Mr. President, for Governor Martin and Attorney General Duff dare not offend industry. These two gentlemen, Governor Martin and Attorney General Duff, will seek support from industry next year in the campaign, and the game has to be cleverly played. Governor Martin knows how to play it. Through a friendly press he has built himself up beautifully without doing anything concrete thus far, and Mr. Duff, our Attorney General, expects to ride on his coat tails.

Mr. President, stream clearance will undoubtedly play an important part in next year's campaign. I do not want to wax political but I feel, a promise having been made to our people by both the Republican and Democratic parties, that something should be done, and of course the present administration will point with pride to the machinery it has set in motion to make stream clearance a reality, realizing, however, that nothing can be done before the end of the present administration. Under the amendments very little can be done now. Using the war as an excuse for delaying the much needed work sounds plausible on the surface, but how do you account for the fact that twenty-one of those companies I mentioned before, and very large companies and well known to all of us, were willing and ready beginning about April 1944, not in 1945, to complete their work within one year, notwithstanding the war? As a matter of fact, some promised to complete their work within six to eight months, and the war was still on.

It is an easy thing to promise much today and do nothing, simply postpone the day of action until such time as when your responsibility ceases, and Governor Martin's responsibility will cease at the end of December, 1946.

Mr. Governor, in my opinion—I am not waxing political, as I said before, but you have been playing fast and loose with our people. You have been long on promises—you promised much in 1943 and did practically nothing; you asked for a short business-like administration, and instead you gave us a quick political administration or session, and you are very short in performances. It is my guess that this matter of stream clearance will not be the responsibility of Governor Martin's administration but certainly of the next administration.

Let me now read from an article appearing in the Evening Bulletin, and I believe the Philadelphia Record and Daily News as well have very little faith in the Brunner bill as now amended.

The article is headed "Blocking Stream Clean-up." I think it appeared last week, I am not sure as to the date—it may have been Friday or Saturday. However, it reads as follows:

"Blocking Stream Clean-up

"As originally written the Brunner bill, now past the second reading stage in the Senate at Harrisburg, was designed to strengthen the hands of the State in dealing with the pollution of its streams with mine and other industrial wastes."

And before I proceed further, the Bulletin does not lean very much toward the Democratic Party; if anything it leans toward the Republican Party. However, I will say generally the Bulletin is conservative and very fair in its views.

"But it has been tailored at the instance of interests that would be affected by a purposeful effort to stop this defilement. As it now stands it would considerably weaken the agencies of enforcement. Even if amended to take out some of the most obnoxious changes it would still rob local authorities of powers they now possess and leave too much to the discretion of the Attorney General.

"This is a dangerous feature. Attorney General Duff is believed to be earnestly in favor of a clean-up. There is no suspicion in any quarter of the sincerity of his stand. But the State's streams will not under any circumstances be purified during his incumbency of the Attorney Generalship, and there is no assurance that his successor may not be a servant of the obstructionists. Power placed in the hands of Attorney General Duff is one thing; making prosecutions dependent on the will of all future Attorneys General, and thus robbing local authorities of initiative, is something else.

"As it stands the Brunner bill is a bill to facilitate stream pollution, to permit the defilement of streams as yet uncontaminated, to diminish the chances of purification, and to put on the State the costs of any clean-up measure that might succeed. Any Senator who votes for it on third reading in substantially its present form will be voting to serve the stream polluters, not the people whose ballots elected him to office."

Yes, my friends, and in the meanwhile the Panther Creek outfit is dumping 18,000 gallons of coal wash water a minute—18,000 gallons a minute—containing 20 per cent of silt, into the Schuylkill River and its tributaries, to say nothing of other industrial waste that has been poured into our water, polluting it.

This has been going on for years, Mr. President, and the Sanitary Water Board has simply closed its eyes to the precarious state of affairs, notwithstanding our law of 1905, as supplemented in 1937, giving them the power to once and for all wipe out the menace.

I say to you, my friends, my opinion is that the citizenry of Pennsylvania is being sold short.

Let us now turn to the joker amendments—joker amendments, evidently inserted to serve the coal operator and the industrialists.

The first amendment, appearing on page 5, starting with line 19 and ending with lines 26, reads as follows:

"The Sanitary Water Board shall determine when the discharge of any industrial waste or the effluent therefrom after treatment or sedimentation constitutes pollution as herein defined and shall establish standards whereby and wherefrom so far as reasonably practicable and possible it can be ascertained and determined whether any such discharge does or does not constitute pollution as herein defined."

That is the first amendment. This amendment is already covered by Sections 304 and 501 of the 1937 act. May I read to you Section 304 of the Act of 1937 P. L. 1987: "Section 304. Water Surveys.—The board shall have power to make a complete survey of the waters of the Commonwealth in order to ascertain the extent of pollution in each of said waters, and the remedies to be employed to purify said waters. It shall have power to adopt, prescribe, and enforce such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this act, as may be deemed necessary for the protection of the purity of the waters of the Commonwealth, or parts thereof, and to purify those now polluted, and to assure the proper and practical operation and maintenance of treatment works approved by it."

And now let us turn to Section 501, which deals with the protection of domestic water supplies and also permits them to prescribe rules and regulations, so why the need for this particular amendment? Is it a blind? Is it put in to deceive the public? Apparently it is.

In short, Mr. President, I will say it is superfluous, and if anything, interferes with the rights of municipalities to establish their own standards. Standards can not necessarily be uniform, for various sections are affected differently. Take for instance the case of acid mine drainage, as it pours into the Schuylkill, it hardly pollutes the Schuylkill because the acid in the Schuylkill River passes over lime beds which neutralize the acids and we all know it takes an alkali generally to neutralize an acid. In other sections, there are no lime beds or calcium beds, and hence the water would be affected considerably. I find no fault with the state setting up standards to suit the occasion, but it should in no wise affect the city's right, to prevent it from fixing the standards but when it does set up standards make sure the standards mean something to our people, and certainly standards should be set up to improve conditions and not to aggravate them.

These amendments I term as camouflauge, pretense of doing something not needed, yet it interferes to a great extent with our municipalities. I have heard much said about home rule, but this is one case where they are interfering to a great extent with home rule.

Amendment 2. I will ask you to please turn to page 6, line 15 and you will note here that the words "or into any municipal sewer system" are stricken out. I wonder why. Is the purpose to give a green light to industrialists to empty their wastes into the sewer system, a right that was never had by them? The Act of 1905 does not give it to them and the Act of 1937 does not give it to them. This is a concession to the industrialists, and the municipalities can do little about it under this amendment; whereas previously the municipality could abate the nuisance where the discharge became injurious to the public health whether the Water Sanitary Board shall so declare it or not, that right under this amendment is destroyed.

Do you not realize that the city should have the right to control its own sewage system? Do you not also realize when industrialists are permitted to pour their waste into our sewage system, it will probably cost the municipalities twice as much to treat the sewage?

This amendment amounts to a cooperative effort to destroy local health laws, and certainly confiicts with the city's right to abate a nuisance under the Act of 1915 covering housing and sanitation. I should like to know who inserted this amendment, who is responsible for it.

Certainly, the municipalities were not consulted and to my mind it is a joker of the most vicious nature, designed to help the industrialists.

Now I refer you to the next amendment, starting with line 28 on page 6, which reads as follows:

"Whenever the Sanitary Water Board shall determine upon cause shown that certain existing industrial waste discharges cannot be eliminated due to inability to procure necessary labor materials or equipment arising out of exigencies created by the present war in which the United States is engaged such industrial waste discharges shall not become unlawful until such time as the Sanitary Water Board shall set after the Board determines that such labor materials or equipment are available but the time so set shall in no event be more than one year after the board determines such labor materials or equipment are available"

Using the war as an excuse is now outmoded, Mr. President. My heart goes out for the men and women who represent our nation in the prosecution of the war. As we all know, the Governor has a right to suspend all laws during the prosecution of the war, but he has not seen fit to invoke it in this regard. If he thought the industrialists and the coal operators are handicapped on account of inability to obtain necessary labor or materials, he could easily help them but, as usual, he will not assume any responsibility. Let George do it, and hence another vicious amendment is inserted. Industrialists have been violating the laws for years with respect to emptying their waste or coal wash into the rivers, and much before the war—and may I repeat this—much before the war they emptied their waste, their silt and coal wash into the rivers—but nothing was done to bring them to justice.

This amendment in fact condones their conduct in the past and gives them new life to further pollute the rivers and sewage systems under the pretext that they can not obtain the necessary labor or materials or equipment.

The Board, of course, determines the time—whatever the time is I do not know. However, whatever it may be, I have little confidence in them; the Board having been so lenient in the past, having blinded themselves to violations, what can we expect in the future Cities and municipalities under this provision are helpless, and again I say it interferes with the right of municipalities to abate a nuisance. This particular amendment sets up a super-government and gives an agency of the government dictatorial powers. It does, in short, remove safeguards and destroys the beneficial effect of existing laws, particularly those of 1905 and 1937.

You will please note, and I can not emphasize it too strongly, these amendments, although the bill was called an anti-silt bill—mind you now, these amendments apply to all forms of industrial waste and not only silt, and now makes lawful what was previously unlawful. The words speak for themselves "it shall not become unlawful," it reads, of course, under the pretext of the war.

Now let us turn to page 10, beginning with line 9 and ending with line 12. I will read it:

"All prosecutions under the penal provisions herein set forth shall be instituted and prosecuted by the Attorney General or by and with his written consent."

This particular provision definitely conflicts with section 701 of the Act of 1937, P. L. 1987, and if I may read that section, section 701, Article 7, on page 2002, headed "Scope and Purpose."

"Section 701. Existing Rights and Remedies Preserved. —The collection of any penalty under the provisions of this act shall not be construed as estopping the Commonwealth, or any district attorney or solicitor of a municipality, from proceeding in courts of law or equity to abate pollutions forbidden under this act, or abate nuisances under existing law. It is hereby declared to be the purpose of this act to provide additional and cumulative remedies to abate the pollution of the waters of this Commonwealth, and nothing in this act contained shall in any way abridge or alter rights of action or remedies now or hereafter existing in equity, or under the common law or statutory law, criminal or civil, nor shall any provision in this act, or the granting of any permit under this act, or any act done by virtue of this act, be construed as estopping the Commonwealth, persons or municipalities, in the exercise of their rights under the common law or decisional law or in equity, from proceeding in courts of law or equity to suppress nuisances, or to abate any pollution now or hereafter existing, or enforce common law or statutory rights."

This particular provision applies to civil rights as well as criminal prosecutions. However, in this particular section, giving the Attorney General exclusive right, no reference is made to section 701 which falls under Article 7. Am I to take it that it is repealed by reference? I do not know. I will leave that to the courts, but we all know how long it will take the courts to determine that. To my mind it is a deliberate attempt to centralize powers conflicting with theories advanced by us concerning home rule. There is danger sometimes of district attorneys and city solicitors instituting suits or prosecutions, but there is still greater danger, when we entrust all that power to one man, who would generally, under the provisions of our laws of 1905 and 1937, and if this is enacted, and I hope not—will act upon information given to him by the Sanitary Water Board, the super-government that has failed to invoke any provisions of law to enforce compliance.

Politics can be used to advantage by anyone but more so when one man has complete control. To my mind Section 701, which I just read, is an excellent provision, determining the rights of everyone, the people, the municipalities, and the state, and also refers to remedies for their preservation, giving rights under the common law, in courts of equity; of course the law covers every situation.

I would rather take a chance, Mr. President, with the hundreds of city solicitors and district attorneys throughout the state, some of whom may play politics or favoritism, as I said before, than one attorney general who may play politics or favoritism. We do not know. At least, in some sections there would be enforcement of the law, but we do know that since 1937 there has been no enforcement at all, at least at the instance or at the will of the Sanitary Water Board.

I now direct your attention to the next amendment, appearing on page 10, line 20 to line 28, inclusive, which deals generally with the question that Article 3 shall not apply with respect to silt and acid mine drainage, and now it is amended to read that the provisions of this bill shall not apply to acid mine drainage, and silt is removed, and, as I said before, silt has been outlawed and even a formula prescribed that will not meet a scientific test, and I have that from experts from coal mines, until such time as in the opinion of the Sanitary Water Board practical means for the removal of the polluting properties of such drainage shall become known.

Apparently they have removed the exemption as to silt, but the formula is not workable—at least I have that on good authority, and I have it from some engineers in Philadelphia and lawyers who have studied this question and are ready to answer this proposition at any time.

It reads:

"Provided however That the exception and exemption herein contained shall in no way be construed to permit the discharge of acid mine drainage into 'clean waters' of the Commonwealth after the Commonwealth shall have constructed and put into operation such pipes conduits drains or tunnels as may be necessary to receive such acid mine drainage"

It in effect permits discharge of acid mine drainage into clean waters until the Commonwealth has made available a drainage system to carry off the drainage, at the Commonwealth's expense.

For your information, mine acid drainage has been discharged into polluted waters, but under no circumstances into clean waters. And now, under this provision, permission is given to pollute clean waters, and what are clean waters under the present laws? The act of 1937, P. L. 1987, Article 3, Section 306, defines it as follows:

"Section 306. Protection of Clean Waters.—After the effective date of this act, no municipality or person shall ever discharge, drain or permit to be washed into the clean waters of this State any sewage or industrial waste. 'Clean waters' are hereby defined to mean waters which are, at the effective date of this act, unpolluted and free from any discharge or drainage of industrial waste and from any authorized discharge or drainage of sewage, but the Sanitary Water Board may permit discharge into such waters of sewage or industrial waste that has been completely treated."

Acid mine drainage has been considered waste, industrial waste, and it seems strange that at a time when we are seeking pure streams, we are fighting for streams clearance, anti-pollution and anti-silt bills, decent water, pure streams and higher health standards, that these very waters that have not been polluted now can be polluted. I can not figure it out and I can not understand it. Here are waters which are clean and ready for consumption and this will permit them to pollute them at a time when we are fighting for stream clearance and anti-pollution acts. My friends, I think it is merely adding insult to injury. I wonder what we are fighting for. It may be argued that some day the Commonwealth will construct pipes, conduits, drains, or tunnels to divert acid mine drainage but let me ask you, when! Maybe since the week-end they have reduced it to one year and that is considered a reasonable time—I do not know. I have heard some talk of a year, and at what price, but it seems to me we are making a play toy of clean streams. That is what it amounts to.

Polluted waters may be further polluted and clean waters may be polluted. Is that part of a stream clearance program? It sounds silly to me, silly particularly in view of the proposed stream clearance program. I think it is an insult to our intelligence. To me it represents a deliberate attempt to help the industrialist or coal operator at the expense of the public. We can not blow hot and cold. We either want a stream clearance program or not. Apparently under this amendment, as well as the others, we are not getting it; this is aggravating the situation rather than helping it.

Now let me refer you to another amendment, appearing on page 11, starting with line 5 and ending with line 27, and you will note here that unlimited powers are to be given to the Sanitary Water Board to acquire land easement and rights of way and to construct pipes, conduits, drains, tunnels and pumps and pumping equipment to divert acid mine drainage at the expense of the Commonwealth, which is rather charitable on our part.

Why not help other industries as well? This amendment will probably entail expenditures of millions of dollars. I say to you, and we fought time and time again, why not extend these grants or spend these millions of dollars for the benefit of the distressed school teachers, school teachers who today are underpaid? Why not increase blind pensions without any conditions or strings attached to them? If we are going to spend millions of dollars, why not increase assistance to the needy at a time when the cost of living is higher than ever? Why not increase appropriations to hospitals? Why not spend some money to set up clinics for rheumatic fever clinics—it is a scourge which has been visited upon children and results in thousands of deaths throughout our state.

Is it not strange that under the name of economy Governor Martin has gone on record as stating that under the proposed Homer Brown bill, the F.E.P.C. bill, too much money is involved, and now through his Attorney General he stands ready to spend millions of dollars for an industry that is today over-producing.

I say, gentlemen, let us not be fooled into believing that something is being done; we are being kidded for reasons best known to the Governor and his Attorney General. I say to you again, and I can not repeat it with too much emphasis, first help the needy.

Mr. Governor, may I ask for whom are you currying favor? I think the record speaks for itself. I said on the floor of this Senate only a few weeks ago that in the 1943 session he did nothing, although he promised much, and I repeat the same thing today, you are promising much and frankly I hope you give us what you promised us, despite any difference in political parties, but I am afraid you will not.

Finally I refer you to section 313, as it appears on page 15 of the Brunner Bill. "Section 313. Approval of Plans of Drainage. Before any existing or new coal mine may be opened or re-opened and before any existing coal mine may be continued in operation a plan of the proposed drainage and disposal of industrial wastes and acid mine drainage," and so on down the line, I think you will follow me—Senator Walker read down to the bottom very carefully and if I omitted anything I will say to you I have done it unwittingly rather than willingly—it continues "shall not apply to the continuation of the operation of an existing mine until sixty days after the effective date of this act."

Plans have been submitted time and time again but nothing has ever been done. The amendment looks good on paper but to my mind, if I am to accept the conduct or the activities of the Sanitary Water Board as a criterion, nothing will be done.

I say to you, Mr. President and members of the Senate, with all the emphasis at my command, the present laws, the Act of 1905 and that of 1937, are sufficient.

The Brunner bill, however, does one good thing; it increases the penalties for violations, but as amended it takes away much. Its vices today far outweigh the virtues of the bill.

If there is any need for clarification with respect to silt and acid mine drainage, let us strike out section 310 of the Act of 1937 so that Article 3 can apply, silt and acid mine drainage being considered industrial wastes.

Frankly, section 310 is very clear, but for the benefit of those who think it requires clarification, I suggest we strike it out. It does not need any clarification, as I say. I am only one man, however. Since 1937, and I repeat again and can not repeat too emphatically, the exemption has been removed to a large extent.

Frankly, the companies affected in the suit instituted by the city of Philadelphia, and later joined in by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, admitted that part of the exemption has been removed, and I have it before me and if anybody wants to examine it I have no hesitancy in turning it over to them.

Why did they not go whole hog and say since 1937 they have found practical ways or means for the removal of the polluting properties of such drainage, notwithstanding this particular section and notwithstanding the argument as set forth by the coal companies, when they were requested to file an answer, although immediately after suit was started and after much discussion, they agreed to abate the nuisance and spend millions of dollars to abate it? I do not think it needs further clarification. However, it seems to me as if some coal operators want it clarified for their own interest.

Thus far, Mr. President, the much-heralded program calling for stream clearance has proved to be a dud. To paraphrase it, I state that the mountain has been in labor and brought forth a mouse. The present bill, in its amended form, removes stream clearance, anti-pollution and pure water further from the realm of possibility, not closer.

I say, with the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin "Any Senator who votes for it on third reading in substantially its present form will be voting to serve the stream polluters, not the people whose ballots elected him to office."

Gentlemen, we have many conservationists, many of them prominent judges throughout the State, who are of the same opinion.

Mr. President and friends, I hope that this bill is not sent to a conference committee for amendments. I have an idea it may be amended here, but I am not so sure they will remove all the amendments and have the bill returned to its original form.

Frankly, as I said before, I do not think it does much: it does a little, and I will repeat, as it is amended now, it takes away much and destroys the present law, the Act of 1905 together with the Act of 1937.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to assure the Senate that I do not propose to debate this bill, the substantive law contained in the proposed bill, until after we get it in shape to call the roll.

As the gentleman from Philadelphia well knows, the Majority Floor Leader has and has had in his possession, proposed amendments to the bill. However, there are a couple of dictum remarks made by the gentleman from Philadelphia which I think should be brought to the attention of the Senate. As I said, I will welcome the opportunity of debating this bill with the gentleman from Philadelphia when the merits of the bill are to be considered on final passage.

I am a little uncertain as to whether the gentleman from Philadelphia is for the bill because it is too harsh, or opposes the bill because it is not harsh enough; he somewhat confused me with his wandering up and down over the bill. I gathered this much, that in 1937, when I believe the gentleman from Philadelphia at that time was a member of this Senate, they passed this Act of 1937, which excluded silt from the bill, and if this bill does nothing else other than take silt out of the exempt class, it makes one step forward in attempting to clean up the waters of the Commonwealth.

I want to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that I listened with a great deal of attention to the majority of his remarks, and I have made some notes that I will be very happy to discuss with him on the floor of the Senate or at side bar, because I do not want to say to the gentleman he is one hundred per cent wrong, but I do want to assure the gentleman that in the majority of instances in which he pointed out excerpts from this bill, they were erroneous excerpts and not predicated upon the law as it appears therein.

There are two items I would like to mention that he discussed, under the heading of dictum. The gentleman repeatedly mentioned that the Governor has done nothing during his term of office, and I want to say, Mr. President, that even under any wild stretch of the imagination I do not see how he can drag anything like that into a discussion of this House Bill No. 1.

In the first place, the gentleman well knows that never in the history of my generation has Pennsylvania had a governor that has contributed more to the welfare of the Commonwealth than Governor Edward Martin, and I remember that very often I sat here during the 1939 and 1941 sessions of this Senate and day after day, after day, members of the Minority Party, the Democratic Party, got up on the floor of this Senate and bitterly attacked the James administration, pointing out sins of omission and sins of commission and I personally, because of my innocence and my lack of knowledge of governors of the Commonwealth, wondered if perhaps a lot of things they were saying were predicated on truth but, do you know, there is something in Governor Edward Martin's program so that nobody will ever get up on the floor of this Senate or the floor of the House and attack Governor Edward Martin's program because, Mr. President, there is not a thing of which secretly they do not approve; they approve of Governor Martin's administration and they will be tickled to death when it is over, because it will give them food for thought and an opportunity to attack perhaps his successor.

The gentleman from Philadelphia says Governor Martin has indulged in double talk on this bill, and I want to say in defense of the Governor—and nobody for a moment can say I am one who hearkens to the Governor in defending his opinions on the floor—but I want to say in defense of Governor Martin that I challenge the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Jaspan, to take anything in House Bill No. 1 and pin it down and say that is where the Governor indulges in double talk, because well do the gentlemen of the press know that if anybody in Pennsylvania has assisted more on a genuine, sincere anti-pollution bill, it has been the Governor of the Commonwealth, and I do not think the gentleman advocates, or advances the cause, whichever side he happens to be on, one iota by getting up here and attempting to criticize House Bill No. 1, by pointing out that the Governor has indulged in double talk, bacause that is an extremely political remark, not founded on fact and steeped in fallacy.

The gentleman also says that the Attorney General of the Commonwealth is insincere and he also says "Mr. Duff, whose hand are you playing?" I wish the gentleman from Philadelphia could talk with Mr. Duff for just a few minutes on the theory of House Bill No. 1 because the gentlemen of the press have done so, and they have reflected that in their newspaper articles, because nowhere in Pennsylvania does any newspaper which comments on this bill lay the credit for the crusade for pure streams any place but at the doorstep of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and his sincerity has not been questioned by any newspaper in Pennsylvania regardless of its political philosophy. I should think the gentleman will advance the cause on this bill, and the substantive law that it contains a little faster and with more effect if he will cease these deliberate innuendo attacks on people in high public offices.

The Governor of the Commonwealth is sincere when he says "I want this bill the strongest I can get passed." Over a year ago he sent out members of his Cabinet—the Secretary of the Department of Health was one of them—to lay the foundation for the drafting and preparation and passage of this bill. He was thinking of anti-stream pollution long before the gentleman from Philadelphia got around to discovering that silt was still in the bill of 1937.

The Attorney General of the Commonwealth accepted the responsibility of siring or being the sponsor of this bill, and nobody in Pennsylvania will doubt his sincerity—if there is anything that the Attorney General has ever desired beyond any political future that he might have, it is the passage of House Bill No. 1 so that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will have a decent and an honest and a fair and equitable anti-stream pollution bill.

Somewhere in the Bible—and I wish I had the knowledge of it possessed by Senator Ruth and our distinguished Presiding Officer and the gentleman from Butler—but somewhere in the Bible it says "Is there any man who will say one good word for this citizen of Smyrna?" Always on the floor of this Senate I have noticed a very strong reluctance on the part of anybody to stand up and defend big business in Pennsylvania, and I want to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that back in Allegheny County the coal industry is one of the pillars which support thousands and thousands of the citizens in my district, and thousands and thousands of citizens in the districts of other Senators in Allegheny county, and we are not ashamed of the coal business and we are not ashamed of the people that mine coal, and we are not ashamed of the people that own the coal mines; we are proud of what the coal industry has contributed to Pennsylvania—and that includes the coal industry also in Westmoreland County, Senator Dent.

May I say this, any attempt on the part of the coal industry to defend that industry should not be looked upon with suspicion by any citizen of this Commonwealth or any group in this Commonwealth—or any other industry in the Commonwealth—as they come to the Governor or any cabinet member or member of the House or Senate and plead their cause and ask that their industry be protected and not persecuted by any piece of legislation. You and I, as members of this legislative body, may not agree with the position that they take, but I will violently defend at any time their right to come in and make a plea.

I want to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia the farm vote in his district probably is not so large, and therefore he will not worry about it a whole lot, but I want to say to him I would like to have him analyze this bill—not here in the Senate, where the turmoil of public opinion perhaps may sway his mature and seasoned judgment—but in the privacy of his chamber I would like to have him examine this bill once again, so that the next time we get an opportunity to discuss it on the floor of this Senate, or at side bar, he can tell me why this bill is good for the farmers of Pennsylvania.

It is well enough, Mr. President, to talk about the singing birds, the green trees and the beautiful streams, and the fish in the streams, but I want to say, gentlemen, on the other hand, you have thousands and thousands of men laboring in the coal mines whose daily bread is dependent upon the output of that coal, and the fish and the birds and bees are important in the advancement of the Commonwealth but I say, Mr. President, there are a lot of people in my district who are interested in seeing that this bill, while it cleans up the streams, does not ruin the industry upon which they depend.

Let us discuss this substantively and let us stop this deliberate attempt to stir up political animosity, trying to suggest that the Governor of this Commonwealth deals in double talk or that the Attorney General of this Commonwealth is not sincere.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 1, passed second reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and certain sections and to add certain new sections to the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1987) entitled "An act to preserve and improve the purity of the waters of the Commonwealth for the protection of the public health animal and aquatic life and for industrial consumption and recreation empowering and directing the creation of indebtedness or the issuing of non-debt revenue bonds by political subdivisions to provide works to abate pollution providing protection of water supply providing for the jurisdiction of courts magistrates aldermen and justices of the peace in the enforcement thereof and providing additional remedies for abating pollution of waters imposing certain penalties and repealing certain acts" by changing the definitions of 'establishment' and 'industrial waste' by changing requirement of notice to discontinue discharges of industrial waste by changing penalties for violations and requiring prosecutions to be instituted or approved by the Attorney General by prohibiting the discharge of silt into any waters of the Commonwealth and regulating the discharge of acid mine drainage into waters thereof authorizing the Sanitary Water Board to establish standards of purity and to determine the time for compliance with the provisions of the act in certain cases and requiring the Board's approval of plans for opening reopening or extending coal mines by authorizing the acquisition by purchase or condemnation or otherwise by the Sanitary Water Board of easement or right of ways and the acquisition or construction of pipes conduits drains or tunnels and pumps and pumping equipment and providing for the payment of the costs thereof by the Commonwealth

The first, second, third, fourth and fifth sections were read and agreed to.

The sixth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HEYBURN offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 6, page 10, line 23, by striking out with bold-faced brackets the following: "[after]"; Amend Section 6, page 10, lines 24 to 28 inclusive, by striking out said lines in their entirety, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "until the Commonwealth, after the Sanitary Water Board has approved plans of drainage pursuant to section three hundred thirteen hereof and has set a reasonable time not to exceed one year within which such pipes, conduits, drains or tunnels as may be necessary to receive such acid mine drainage at the point or points where such acid mine drainage is delivered as provided in section three hundred twelve hereof shall be constructed and put into operation by the Commonwealth and the Commonwealth has failed to construct and put into operation the same within such time."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware tell the Senate who suggested these amendments?

Mr. HEYBURN. I did not quite understand the question; I am sorry.

Mr. DENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware tell the Senate whose amendments these are?

Mr. HEYBURN. These are amendments agreed upon by the Republican Caucus.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, do they have the approval of the Attorney General?

Mr. HEYBURN. They are satisfactory to the Attorney General.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am going to ask my colleagues to vote for these amendments. In so doing I want it clearly understood, though, by the members of the Senate, that we do not concur in the statements made by the gentleman from Allegheny, in which he cites the fact that because the Minority has not wasted the time of this Senate during critical days, that we are not calling attention to the mistakes, as it were, or the shortcomings, as we see them, of the Martin Administration. We do not by so doing, or by our lack of attack upon the Governor, place our stamp of approval upon the deeds and the commissions of this administration. We believe time will afford itself to us, and at the proper moment we will analyze for our constiuency the shortcomings or the good deeds of this administration.

We do not concur with the gentleman when he says this is the best governor the Commonwealth has had since he was a child, because there have been quite a few governors since then. We measure a governor's success, his administration's success, by the good that it does for the common people; that remains to be seen. The first two years of the administration have not brought anything spectacular to the table of the common man; we do not think that the next two years will.

However, just because we do not stand here and lambast the Governor, during a legislative session, is not to be used as a measuring rod as to our opinion of the deeds of this administration.

We want it clearly understood that we pride ourselves upon being members of this Senate of Pennsylvania when, in 1937, we took the bold step to place upon the statute books the Larue anti-pollution bill. We are not responsible in the eyes of the people for the administration of that act because since the passage of that act we have had Republican governors. We reaffirm our position in saying that if the Larue Act was enforced, if it was feasible to enforce it, the streams of Pennsylvania would be clean.

We do not object to this bill being passed. We too are cognizant of the fact that the coal industry must live; we too are cognizant of the fact that all industry must live, and we know, and we say this very advisedly to the gentleman from Allegheny County, who prides himself upon being a representative of the fish, birds and bees, that they are not representative of the people of Pennsylvania.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The seventh and eighth sections and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 387, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section fourteen of the act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred nine (P. L. 46) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act" by further regulating grounds for refusal revocation or suspension of the right to practice as osteopaths in the State of Pennsylvania

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 412, as follows:

An Act to amend subdivision five of the Compact contained in the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1664) entitled "An act to ratify and adopt a compact or agreement negotiated by commissioners designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and commissioners designated by the Governor of the State of Ohio relative to the development use and control of the Pymatuning Lake and the State owned land surrounding said lake for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes" so as to permit on portions of said lake the operation of boats equipped with motors of six horsepower or less

Section 1 Subdivision five of the Compact contained in the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1664) entitled "An act to ratify and adopt a compact or agreement negotiated by commissioners designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and commissioners designated by the Governor of the State of Ohio relative to the development use and control of the Pymatuning Lake and the State owned land surrounding said lake for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes" is hereby amended to read as follows

5 Boats and Vessels [No power or motor boats nor hydroplanes or aquaplanes] No hydroplanes or aquaplanes nor any type of boat equipped with a motor in excess of a six horse-power rating shall be permitted anywhere on said lake except such police or administration motor boats to the number which shall be mutually agreed upon by the parties hereto Sail boats row boats [and] canoes and boats equipped with a motor not in excess of six horsepower shall be permitted provided [they] the owners first obtain a license from the respective state of which the owner is a resident under such regulations as each party to this agreement may now have or hereafter adopt provided nevertheless that the use of any type of boats equipped with a motor not in excess of six horse power as defined above is expressly limited and restricted to that portion of the lake extending from the main dam near Jamestown northwardly to the causeway at or near Espyville

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its signing by the Governor and the passage by the State of Ohio of a substantially similar amendatory act ratifying the within change or alteration of the compact or agreement herein referred to and the passage of an Act of Congress of the United States of America consenting thereto

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and members of the Senate, although I have quite a pile of papers in my hand, do not become alarmed—I am not going to read them all.

In passing this putt-putt bill, I just want to call to the attention of the Senate that some of the people in Pennsylvania who have contributed much to the progressive steps we have taken, both in game and fish life, are opposed to it. There is one thing that came to my mind today and that is why the committee in considering this bill did not call before them the Commission on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish and get their opinions on the results after the putt-putt bill is passed and putt-putt boats are putt-putting all over Pymatuning Lake.

I have been told by Mr. Phillips, who I believe we all agree is quite an authority on wild life and fish, that by putting the putt-putt on Lake Pymatuning we will destroy a great deal of animal life, and he also points out that inasmuch as that it is a fly-way for the ducks going between lakes, going south, the putt-putts will scare them away and some of our great hunters in Pennsylvania will be denied the right of hunting for the ducks, shooting the ducks.

I do want to point out, though, that although some of the sportsmen are saying they are for this bill, there has never been a vote taken by all the sportsmen's clubs interested—it is merely a minority which has said they are for the putt-putts. I think the fisherman, who says he must have a putt-putt to fish, has deteriorated a great deal, because I think the greatest fun of fishing is to take a row boat out and get a little exercise and do your fishing from a row boat.

It is true that Pymatuning Lake water is discharged from below, with the result that any of the oil which gathers in the water will stay there. Of course, it is said that putt-putts will not be permitted on the refuge part of the lake. I think this is an opening to destroy one of the finest spots in Pennsylvania.

I want to call attention to a release just given, stating that a new recreational park is to be built at the lake, called the Causeway Amusement Park. This park will have merry-go-rounds, shoot-the-shoots, and they also boast of the fact that one of the largest dance halls in Pennsylvania will be built there. Gentlemen of the Senate, I think Pymatuning Lake will be noted as the home of the jitterbug and the putt-putts instead of a place where all the good fihermen of Pennsylvania go to fish, and people who are nature lovers go to see nature in the raw. When the man from mills or mines wants to get away from mechanical work and wants to see nature at its best, he will be denied that right because, after working in the mill, instead of listening to a lot of steam hammers going up and down, he will hear putt-putt, putt-putt, putt-putt.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I just want to correct the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny, because on the 13th of March we held a public hearing and heard the proponents of House Bill No. 412 and also those who are opposed to it, and those who were for the bill won out by a large majority. In my capacity as Chairman of the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, I received more than 6,000 letters, of which approximately 4,500 were for motor boats on Pymatuning Lake and about 1,500 were against them.

Your committee took a middle road on this proposition and restricted the boats to the lower end of the lake, so they will not at all interfere with the wild life.

Another thing I want to call to the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny is the fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad runs along the shore of the lake on one side, and when a train goes by with 120 freight cars and a whistling locomotive it is making far more noise than the putt-putt boats.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, this bill has probably received more interest from people of Allegheny county than any bill before the Legislature. It is the type of bill that I am sure every member of this Senate wishes he were in a position so that he could vote both ways.

I intend to vote "putt" for this bill, and in doing so I want to make just a few remarks so that my position in the matter will be clear.

Pymatuning Lake is 17 miles long and has a shoreline of about 70 miles. The game refuge is at one end of the lake and, as has been stated by the gentleman from Monroe, Senator Crowe, the amendments which have been presented to the bill provide that there shall be about 8,000 acres of water on which putt-putt boats can not be used, and I think that certainly is sufficient protection for a game refuge and that under no circumstances will it be disturbed.

I have visited Pymatuning Lake and it is one of the interesting parts of our section of the state. Long it has been noted as a source of unusual wild life, and we in the western part of the state would like to preserve it for the future, and I am satisfied that passage of this bill will not destroy it. To me, when I visited there, it seemed a shame, that the section had not been developed so that the people of our section of Pennsylvania could use it. We have no lakes, we have not any place to go. People complain about the smoke of Pittsburgh—and there is a lot of smoke—but really there is not any place within a hundred miles where people can go where there is water, and it certainly would mean a lot to the people if this expanse of 17 miles, which today is very little used by anyone, could become a source of pleasure and recreation for all the people of the State.

My colleague from Allegheny, Senator Walker, talked about the birds and bees, and now, of course, this bill deals with the ducks and I think the ducks are going to be happy under the terms of the bill, I think the fish are going to be happy and we are going to be able to make a lot of people happy too.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have received more letters concerning this bill than any other bill that I have had any dealings with in this Senate. At the beginning there were a lot of letters against it. They called it a sanctuary. When you name a part of Pennsylvania as a sanctuary, you get a lot of well-meaning old women and well-meaning old men who do not know the facts and somebody had said to them "Oh, do not touch that sanctuary," and that sounds very sweet, but as people wake up and learn the true facts about Pymatuning dam most of those I got letters from at the beginning changed their minds and came over to the other side.

I know a lot of people who come to Pennsylvania and say "we love your state, we like very much your mountains but you do not have enough water, you do not have any lakes hardly, very few, and one thing we do not like about Pennsylvania is that you do not have enough lakes."

Here is a lake that has been built with the money of the taxpayers of Pennsylvania—fourteen thousand acres that will be used by the little boats, and four thousand acres as a sanctuary for the birds and bees and what fish want to loaf up there, and ducks, but here is a lake, a large lake, which is much larger than Conneaut lake, and I venture to say there is not a body of water in the United States of that size that does not have motor boats on it.

I have received statements from what I regard as the best experts on fishing in Pennsylvania, and they say unless there is more fishing in the center of that lake, or that dam, the fish will become diseased or in time they will destroy themeselves in that lake.

It seems to me, with the few bodies of water we have in this state, here is a body of water with fourteen thousand acres, I have been up there a number of times, and it is the deadest pond I ever saw, and here is a beautiful body of water that could be used and should be used.

I like the birds and the bees, and I think it is all right for us to raise money to make them happy, and to have a sanctuary, but I am also convinced that we ought to have a place for our miners and our mill workers to go and have a place where they can get on some water for one or two days out of the year and have a pleasant time, and therefore I feel that this bill pleases those who love sanctuaries in the woods and in the ponds and so forth, but it also provides that human beings can get out and go up and enjoy a day at Pymatuning dam.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, after this glorious afternoon of free speech I would like to distinguish myself by making the shortest speech on record on this bill, which is "putt-putt, tut-tut, no."

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I want to clear the mind of the Senator from Allegheny, when he says that labor of Western Pennsylvania has gone on record as opposing the placing of putt-putts and motor boats on Pymatuning Lake. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, does the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, have a fisherman's license?

Mr. McGINNIS. I do not.

Mr. HOLLAND. Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, have a hunter's license?

Mr. McGINNIS. I do not.

Mr. DENT. Do you?

Mr. HOLLAND. I do. Mr. President, I want to point out to the gentleman from Allegheny County that I realize that it is a dead place down there to him, to go down there and see nature in the raw, and it is impossible to have a place where hunters and fishermen can go and have it all electrically lighted and to have big signs, dancing, cabaret, the Bolton Cafe or Bob Fohl's, because we go out there to get fresh air and to enjoy sport and get away from those things, but we do not go down there for excitement and for speed; we go down to nature to recover from the ill-effects of city life, and to the bright lights; we want the darkness because we enjoy the darkness, we go to bed early and we get better sleep, and so I think when the gentleman says it is a dead place, he never was a fisherman or hunter, because anybody who fishes or hunts knows that the woods of Maine or Canada are very, very dark, and the woods of Pennsylvania and the mountains where some of the members of the Senate, like the gentleman from Monroe, Senator Crowe, have enjoyment in having nature beside them all the time, but when a poor man works, in the mills in the south side of Pittsburgh, he likes to go to a place where he can relieve himself of all that mechanical work.

I would also like to ask how many laboring men making $5.50 a day are gaing to buy a motor boat, because I do not think many will; in fact I know they will not. I believe that this is just desecrating a place which is a sacred spot and which should be kept as a sacred spot. There is one thing we have all overlooked, and I hate to bring it in now because, after all, people in Pennsylvania say you are waving the flag, but when the boys come back you are going to have a lot of mental cases—I know because there are three in my own neighborhood—and they want quiet and there is no better place for them to go than out near Lake Pymatuning. I might say to the gentleman from Allegheny County that right at the present time there is a delegation at Washington urging the Veterans' Bureau to build a place so that the soldiers coming back whose nerves have been wrecked, can go down there and fish and enjoy the quietude of nature, and I certainly hope that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will not go through with his ideas and try to make Pymatuning Lake the Great White Way of that district.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I have heard the statement made repeatedly on the floor of this Senate that speeches never get votes. These speeches, however, have had a very decided effect on one of the observers, making him very poetical and lyrical, and he just handed me this poem which I would like to read for the edification of the Senate, although I know unquestionably it will not influence your votes.

"Won't you putt-putt upon the Pymatuning,
Where the waters of the Wabash do not flow.
Won't you putt-putt upon the Pymatuning,
Where the winds of the Arctic do not blow.
Oh, the House and the Senate now are voting
To take the oars out of boating;
Won't you putt-putt upon the Pymatuning,
While the silt bill can not get a vote."

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not intend to take any time except to say to the gentleman from Allegheny that when he tries to label this bill a laboring bill he is getting far astream and when he gets out too far he may need that motor boat to get back.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I wish to correct the gentleman from Westmoreland and advise him that the steelworkers of Pennsylvania at a meeting in Pittsburgh did go on record as opposing this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be verified.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 662, as follows:

An Act to promote interstate cooperation for the conservation and protection of water resources in the Delaware River Basin

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

(1) Whereas the States of New York New Jersey Pennsylvania and Delaware have each created and now maintain a Commission (or Committee) on Interstate Cooperation for the purpose of establishing and maintaining governmental machinery to facilitate communcation negotiation understanding and cooperation between said states respectively and other states of the Union both regionally and nationally with power to establish such committees sub-committees and advisory boards as are deemed advisable to conduct conferences and to formulate proposals concerning subjects of intergovernmental cooperation to study the laws of the several states hold public or private hearings make findings and recommendations and to submit drafts of legislation to promote uniform laws for the elmination of the confusion and conflict between the serveral states of the Union and the Federal government in the matter of laws and administrate practices concerning conservation prevention abatement and control of pollution water supply public welfare flood control and other subjects and

(2) Whereas said Commissions (or Committees) on Interstate Cooperation of said states have organized and established and are now maintaining as an instrument of governmental machinery a joint advisory board known as "The Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin" as a regional commission composed of standing subcommittees of said Commissions (or Committees) on Interstate Cooperation respectively for the purpose of entering upon a program to study the conservation water supply pollution and other potential uses and benefits of and to develop integrated plans to conserve and protect the waters and other resources of the Delawaer River Basin in the following specified particulars

A To serve as a fact-coordinating body and to develop the means and procedure by which the general plans and policies proposed for the development of the region may be carried out

B To sponsor the carrying out of properly developed plans which result from surveys and research concerning population land and water resources and uses and other related subjects

C To coordinate the activities of the Commission and Committees on Interstate Cooperation and their joint agency the Council of State Government with the work of the appropriate state and Federal agencies for the prevention and abatement of pollution for flood control and for the proper general use and control of the waters of the Delaware River

D To encourage interstate compacts and the enactment of uniform state laws for the abatement of water pollution for flood control and for the proper general use and control of the waters of the Delaware River

E To advance perpetuate and outline the work recommended by its conferences and to develop and propose new objectives and

(3) Whereas it is the purpose of the Commissions (or Committees) on Interstate Cooperation of said four states acting through said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin to eliminate confusion and conflict among said states by the promotion and enactment of uniform laws in said states to preserve in a safe and sanitary condition the waters and watershed of said Delaware River Basin and to provide uniform concurrent regulations for the control and the enforcement of the elimination of pollution in the waters thereof in said states respectively and

(4) Whereas said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin in cooperation with the state health departments of said states respectively has made a study for the purposes above recited of said Delaware River and its tributaries in said Delaware River Basin and has formulated proposals for the intergovernmental cooperation of said states in the correction and control of pollution of the waters thereof which have been formally approved ratified and accepted by the health departments of said states respectively in the following form

A Reciprocal Agreement as drafted and negotiated by the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin with subsequent formal ratification by the State Departments of Health of Delaware-New Jersey-New York-Pennsylvania for the Conservation and Control of Pollution of the Waters of the Interstate Delaware River

Whereas a substantial part of the territory of the states of New York New Jersey Pennsylvania and Delaware is situated within the Delaware River drainage basin and

Whereas the incerase in population of the various municipal areas within the Delaware River Basin and the growth of industrial activity within the Basin have resulted in increasingly serious pollution of the waters of the Interstate Delaware River and its tributaries and

Whereas such pollution constitutes a grave menace to the health welfare and recreational facilities of the people living in the Delaware River Basin and occasions great economic loss and

Whereas the control of future pollution and the correction of existing pollution of the waters of the interstate Delaware River and its tributaries is of prime importance to the people living in the Delaware River Basin and can best be accomplished through the cooperation of the representatives of the people in the Basin in the states of New York New Jersey Pennsylvania and Delaware

Now therefore the State of New York and the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of Delaware agree and are bound as follows

Article I

Each of the signatory states pledges to each of the other signatory states faithful cooperation in the control of future pollution and in the correction of existing pollution of the waters of the interstate Delaware River and its West Branch from the New York-Pennsylvania boundary line down to the Atlantic Ocean In order to effect such objects each of the states agrees to enact adequate legislation if necessary to enable each such state so to require the treatment of sewage industrial waste or other artificial polluting matter as to place and maintain the waters of the aforesaid interstate Delaware River and of the tributaries thereof just above the confluence with the Delaware River in the clean and sanitary conditions required by the provisions of this agreement Furthermore each such state agrees so to enforce the provisions of these requirements and other supplementary applicable legislation if any as to bring about the attainment of the objectives of pollution control and correction in accordance with such reasonable and effective programs as may be determined from time to time by the states in the manner prescribed herein

Article II

It is recognized by the signatory states that due to such variable factors as location size character and flow and of the many varied uses of the waters of the interstate Delaware River and its aforesaid West Branch such as water supply recreation navigation industrial developments maintenance of fish life shellfish culture agriculture and other purposes that no single standard of sewage and waste treatment and of quality of receiving waters is practical for all parts of the river Therefore in order to apply minimum requirements for the attainment of correction and control of pollution which will be appropriate to the varied factors including the existing and potential quality and uses of the waters the interstate Delaware River is hereby divided into four zones to wit

Zone I Zone 1 is that part of the Delaware River and its West Branch extending from the New York-Pennsylvania boundary line to the head of tidewater at Trenton New Jersey and Morrisville Pennsylvania

The drainage basin contributory to this zone excepting part of the Lehigh River Basin is relatively sparsely inhabited and contains few sewered communities and relatively few industrial establishments producing waste water The streams draining this area being in general relatively clean and of high elevation are well adapted as sources of public water supplies after treatment or purification

The principal uses of the waters of the Delaware River in Zone 1 are expected to be for water supply after such treatment or purification as may be necessary and for recreation bathing maintenance of fish and acquatic life agriculture and for other related purposes

Zone II Zone 2 is that part of the Delaware River extending from the head of tidewater at Trenton New Jersey and Morrisville Pennsylvania to a line drawn perpendicular to the channel of the Delaware River from the mouth of Pennypack Creek in Philadelphia Pennsylvania to the corresponding point on the New Jersey shore

The drainage basin contributary to this zone is somewhat more densely populated than that of Zone 1 and it contains more sewered communities and industrial establishments

The principal uses of the waters of the Delaware River in Zone 2 are expected to be for water supply after treatment or purification and for recreation navigation maintenance of fish and aquatic life agricultural industrial and other purposes

Zone III Zone 3 is that part of the Delaware River extending from the aforesaid line connecting the mouth of Pennypack Creek in Philadelphia and the corresponding point in New Jersey to the Pennsylvania-Delaware boundary line

The drainage basin contributary to this zone contains populous metropolitan areas including Philadelphia Pennsylvania and Camden New Jersey

The principal uses of the waters of the Delaware River in Zone 3 are expected to be for navigation industrial water supply and other purposes

The water in this zone however should be of such sanitary quality that it will not be unfit for use as sources of water supply will not be harmful to fish life and will not adversely affect the quality of the waters of tidal tributaries

Zone IV Zone 4 is that part of the Delaware River extending from the Pennsylvania-Delaware boundary line to the Atlantic Ocean

The principal uses of the waters of the Delaware River in Zone 4 are expected to be for navigation industrial water supplies commercial fishing shellfish culture recreation and other purposes

In order to attain conditions of cleanliness and sanitation of the waters of the Delaware River which will be consistent with the appropriate existing and future quality and uses of such waters the following minimum requirements shall apply to the several zones herein provided It is the purpose and intent of such requirements to apply to artificial (not natural) causes of pollution

Article III

In order to put and maintain the waters of the interstate Delaware River and its West Branch as aforesaid in a clean and sanitary condition no sewage industrial wastes or other polluting matter shall be discharged into or be permitted to flow or fall into or be placed in any respective zone of the interstate Delaware River as herein established unless such sewage industrial waste or other artificial polluting matter shall first have been so treated as to produce an effluent which will meet the following minimum requirements

Zone 1 1 Such effluent shall be free of noticeable floating solids color oil grease or sleek and practically free of suspended solids

2 Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of turbidity that it will not cause noticeable turbidity in the water of the Delaware River

3 Such effluent shall show a reduction of organic substances of at least eighty-five (85) per cent as measured by the bio-chemical oxygen demand and furthermore such effluent in no case shall exceed a bio-chemical oxygen demand of fifty (50) parts per million and furthermore the discharge of such effluent after disperson in the water of the river shall not cause a reduction of the dissolved oxygen content of such water of more than five (5) per cent The aforesaid reduction in dissolved oxygen content shall be determined by the average results obtained from dissolved oxygen tests made upon samples collected on not less than six (6) consecutive days from points in the river above and below the point or points of effluent discharge

4 Such effluent shall be of such quality that the most probable number of organisms of the Coli Areogones group shall not exceed one (1) per milliliter in more than ten (10) per cent of the samples of sewage effluent tested by the confirmed test and provided further that no single sample shall contain more than one hundred (100) organisms of the Coli Aerogenes group in one (1) milliliter

5 Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of acids alkalis and other toxic or deleterious substances that it will not create a menace to the public health through the use of the waters of the Delaware River for public water supplies for recreation bathing agriculture and other purposes nor be inimical to fish animal or aquatic life

6 Such effluent shall be free of offensive odors and also be free of substances capable of producing offensive tastes or odors in public water supplies derived from the Delaware River at any place below the discharge of such effluent

Zone 2 1 Such effluent shall be free of noticeable floating solids color oil or grease and practically free of both suspended solids and sleek

2 Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of turbidity that it will not cause noticeable turbidity in the water of the Delaware River

3 Such effluent shall show a reduction of organic substance of at least eighty-five (85) per cent as measured by the bio-chemical oxygen demand and furthermore such effluent in no case shall exceed a bio-chemical oxygen demand of one hundred (100) parts per million and furthermore the discharge of such effluent after dispersion in the water of the river shall not cause a reduction of the dissolved oxygen content of such water of more than ten (10) per cent The aforesaid reduction in dissolved oxygen content shall be determined by the average results obtained by dissolved oxygen tests made upon samples collected on not less than six (6) consecutive days from points in the river above and below the point or points of effluent discharge

4 Such effluent shall be of such quality that the most probable number of organisms of the Coli Aerogenes group shall not exceed one (1) per milliliter in more than twenty-five (25) per cent of the samples of sewage effluent tested by the confirmed test and provided further that no single sample shall contain more than one hundred (100) organisms of the Coli Aerogenes group in one (1) milliliter

5 Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of acids alkalis and other toxic or deleterious sustances that it will not create a menace to the public health through the use of the water of the Delaware River for public water supplies for recreation industrial and other purposes nor be inimical to fish animal or aquatic life

6 Such effluent shall be free of offensive odors and also be free of substances capable of producing offensive tastes and odors in public water supplies derived from the Delaware River at any place above or below the discharge of such effluent

Zone 3 1 Such effluent shall be free of noticeable floating solids oil or grease and substantially free of both settleable solids and sleek

2 Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of turbidity that it will not cause substantial turbidity in the water of the Delaware River after dispersion in the water of the river

3 Such effluent shall show a reduction of at least fifty-five (55) per cent of the total suspended solids and a reduction of not less than thirty-five (35) per cent of the bio-chemical demand (It is the intent of this requirement to restore the dissolved oxygen content of the river water in this zone to at least fifty (50) per cent saturation To accomplish this it may be necessary in the case of certain wastes to obtain reductions greater than those required under this item)

4 Such effluent if it be discharged within two miles of a public water works intake or within prejudicial influence thereof shall at all times be effectively treated with a germicide

5 Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of acids alkalis and other toxic or deleterious substances that it will not create a menace to the public health through the use of the waters of the Delaware River for public water supplies or render such waters unfit for industrial and other purposes or cause the water of the Delaware River to be harmful to fish life

6 Such effluent shall be practically free of substances capable of producing offensive tastes or odors in public water supplies derived from the Delaware River

Zone 4 1 Such effluent shall be free of noticeable floating solids oil or grease and substantially free of both settleable solids and sleek

2 Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of turbidity that it will not cause substantial turbidity in the waters of the Delaware River after dispersion in the water of the river.

3 Such effluent shall show a reduction of at least fifty-five (55) per cent of the total suspended solids and shall be subject to such further treatment as may be needed to prevent a nuisance

4 Such effluent if it be discharged within prejudicial influence of a public water works intake or of recreational areas or of shell fish grounds shall at all times be effectively treated with a germicide except that in the case of recreational area influence such treatment need not be provided during the period from October 15th to May 15th of each year

5 Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of acids alkalis and other toxic or deleterious substances that it will not create a menace to the public health through the use of the waters of the Delaware River for public water supplies or render such waters unfit for commercial fishing shell fish culture recreational industrial or other purposes

6 Such effluent shall be practically free of substances capable of producing offensive tastes or odors in public water supplies derived from the Delaware River

It is further recognized by the signatory states that the quality of the waters of the intrastate tributaries of the Delaware River and its aforesaid West Branch are of interstate concern at their points of confluence with the Delaware River and its West Branch Therefore it is also agreed that sewage industrial waste or other artificial polluting matter discharged into or permitted to flow or to fall into or be placed in any intrastate tributary of the aforesaid Delaware River shall be treated to that degree if any necessary to maintain the waters of such intrastate tributary immediately above its confluence with the aforesaid Delaware River in a condition at least equal to the clean and sanitary condition of the waters of the Delaware River immediately above the confluence of such tributary

Analyses and tests regarding the minimum requirements herein prescribed shall be determined in accordance with the provisions contained in the American Public Health Association's latest edition on "Standard Methods for the Examination of Water and Sewage"

The aforesaid requirements as to treatment of sewage industrial wastes or other artificial polluting matter and as to the sanitary quality of receiving waters are minima It is the intent and purpose of these requirements to accomplish reasonable and adequate control and correction of pollution Due to the many variable factors involved however and to the impossibility of forecasting future developments with certainty it may be necessary in the future to impose additional requirements particularly in Zones 2 and 3

The minima herein prescribed therefore shall be considered the first steps toward attaining the objectives sought and if necessary may be required to be supplemented in the case that the general application of such minimum requirements does not adequately improve and maintain the sanitary quality of the waters of the Delaware River

Section 1 That part of the area of the Delaware River Basin lying within this state is hereby established and declared to be a component part of an interstate region for the intergovernmental cooperation by said states in the conservation protection and development of the water resources thereof by means of integrated plans and said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin is hereby recognized as the duly established regional commission or agency of this state for intergovernmental cooperation in effectuating the purposes described in paragraph (2) of the above preamble with full and complete authority to exercise for the accomplishment of said purposes the governmental machinery powers and duties conferred by this state upon said Commission (or Committee) on Interstate Cooperation

Section 2 The reciprocal agreement set forth in paragraph (4) of the above preamble is hereby ratified and applied to the waters and watershed of said Delaware River Basin within the territorial limits of this state and its terms and provisions shall supersede the terms and provisions of any existing laws and regulations applicable to that area to the extent only that the terms and provisions of such existing laws and regulations are inconsistent with the terms and provisions set forth in said reciprocal agreement

Section 3 The Department of Health or such other agency designated by the law of the respective signatory states to deal with control or abatement of pollution is hereby empowered and directed to apply and carry into effect the proposals terms and provisions of said reciprocal agreement in the several zones therein prescribed respectively within the territorial limits of this state and to enforce the same by the exercise of such administrative and legal authority and the institution and prosecution of such actions suits or other proceedings as may be necessary or appropriate as are now or may hereafter be provided under the laws and practice of this state

Section 4 The Department of Health or such other agency designated by the law of the respective signatory states to deal with control or abatement of pollution is hereby authorized and directed to cooperate with said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin in the further study of the sanitary condition of the waters of Delaware River and its tributaries in said Delaware River Basin and to approve adopt and enforce within this state such reasonable modifications changes or alterations in the zones or standards of quality of water in said river and tributaries as may from time to time be recommended by said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin and approved by the departments of health of the other states constitutent to said Delaware River Basin

Section 5 The terms and provisions of said reciprocal agreement shall become effective upon receipt by the Secretary of State of this state of a certificate from the Executive Secretary of The Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin that an act in substantially the same form as this act has been passed by the Legislature and approved by the Governor of one of the other three states constitutent to said Delaware River Basin together with a certified copy of said act of said state and thereupon the Secretary of State shall advise the Department of Health of this state accordingly

Section 6 This act shall take effect immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 40, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend or further amend the title and sections one five seven nine and ten of the act approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred seven (P. L. 496) entitled "An act to establish a Board of Commissioners of Navigation for the river Delaware and its navigable tributaries regulating their jurisdiction over ships vessels and boats and wharves piers bulkheads docks slips and basins and exempting cities of the first class from certain of its provisions and making an appropriation therefor" changing the membership of the Navigation Commission for the Delaware River and its navigable tributaries and excepting the Port of Chester from certain provisions of said act

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 223, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 343) entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government providing for the settlement assessment collection and lien of taxes bonus and all other accounts due the Commonwealth the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties affecting every department board commission and officer of the State government every political subdivision of the State and certain officers of such subdivisions every person association and corporation required to pay assess or collect taxes or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth" and known as The Fiscal Code by authorizing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to petition for a resettlement of claims against the Commonwealth by the Auditor General and State Treasurer and to petition for a review of settlements by the Board of Finance and Revenue and to appeal from the decisions of the Board of Finance and Revenue to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County

The first, second and third sections were read and agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HEYBURN offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 4, page 8, line 13 by inserting at the end of said line the following: "other than the Commonwealth."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fifth section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 239, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to promote the public welfare and to protect mental defectives by prescribing circumstances under which selective sterilization of certain types of individuals may be performed without civil or criminal liability; and providing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, as sponsor of this bill I would like to ask that the bill go over in order so that some of us may further study it.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I must leave tonight to see my son off tomorrow to the Pacific Coast; I can not be here tomorrow. This bill has gone over and over and back and forth for some time and I think we should decide once for all what to do with the bill.

This bill is a dangerous and bad bill and we should not hesitate to declare, in our minds, what way we are going to vote. This bill may create a racket in Philadelphia or Pennsylvania that would become very dangerous to good American citizen doctors who are now performing good services. You take a doctor like Dr. Chapman, perhaps he would now allow his name to be connected with this bill in any way.

However, there are several doctors who make a practice of performing illegal operations, with the intent to commit, we will say, murder, and that is the intent and the sole purpose of this bill.

Mr. President, you can size up this bill in different ways. You can say you can sterilize some person and perhaps place her in a roadhouse and you create a disease through the state of Pennsylvania that might destroy the health of the youth of Pennsylvania.

I say to you, Mr. President, that Pennsylvania has a good record and it is getting along O. K. and should continue that way, and we should not allow a bill to pass of this nature and I ask, Mr. President, for a roll call so that I will be here to cast my vote.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, as far as I am concerned, I am perfectly willing that the bill go over in order until such time as the gentleman from Philadelphia can be present, so that we can have a more personal and intimate discussion on the subject.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, if I could see any particular reason for this bill going over in order I would have no objection, but I feel we might as well vote on it today . What is the use of waiting? This bill in my estimation is a bad bill and we should not have to wait until Monday or Tuesday to decide which way we are going to vote. Men of good sound sense should not have to decide or wait to see what way they are going to vote on this bill.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, the constitutionality of this bill has to be decided upon and there are a number of legal questions and I think we should consult with our legal advisors before we go further with the bill.

MOTION THAT MOTION BE LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, to recommit Senate Bill No. 239, be laid on the table.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to lay on table?

Mr. JASPAN. Am I to take it from that, Mr. President, that the bill will not come up before Monday? I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, who is very much interested in this bill, will not be here tomorrow or Thursday because his son, who has served in the Pacific for over two years is leaving, and the Senator will not be in any position to cast any vote. Have we some assurance that the motion to recommit the bill will lay on the table until Monday?

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Delaware withdraw his motion?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, the motion was to lay the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia on the table. I did not understand he wanted to withdraw his motion.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise on a parlimentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from West Moreland will proceed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to inquire if the motion to have the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia laid on the table passes, and the bill still remains on the Calendar and comes up tomorrow under regular procedure on the Calendar, what will happen.

Mr. HEYBURN. The bill can go over in order, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I might suggest the procedure to be followed, that the gentleman from Philadelphia withdraw his motion to send the bill back to committee, with the express understanding that the bill will not be called up when he is absent on such a worthwhile mission, and therefore with permission of the gentleman from Philadelphia I ask that his motion be withdrawn.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to have the motion to recommit Senate Bill No. 239 laid on the table.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to recommit?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion that Senate Bill No. 239 be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 239, on second reading, entitled:

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 423, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section two thousand three hundred eleven of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" providing temporarily for payment of State Appropriation where schools are closed on account of impassable roads heavy snow or floods

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 426, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (b) of section four hundred fifteen of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and interinsurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" by increasing the amount of group life insurance covering certain borrowers and purchasers

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 461, on second reading, entitled:

An Act concerning devices bequests or gifts in trust for the care and maintenance of cemeteries cemetery lots in perpetuity trustees and substituted trustees thereof sureties of said trustees excess income from said funds and the investment of such trust funds accounts of said trustees approving actions and proceedings prior to this act and repealing conflicting laws

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 474, on second reading, entitled:

An Act providing for the granting of certificates of licensure to practice professions or work at any trade or occupation in this Commonwealth for which licenses are issued by any State board or other State agency to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 475, entitled:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 38 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, on page 257 of the House History, I call up from the table House Resolution No. 38, Serial No. 50, entitled:

INVESTIGATION OF FINANCE COMPANIES

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1945.

Whereas, there are many ethically conducted and honestly operated companies dealing in consumer credit and engaged in the business of financing on conditional sale or lease, motor vehicles and other articles of personal property, it appears there are also many other finance and consumer credit companies which engage in unscrupulous and unconscionable practices unjustifiably detrimental to purchasers and inimical to public good; and

Whereas, the losses suffered from these nefarious practices fall upon the shoulders of those least able to bear them—the persons in lower income brackets who for want of ready cash are obliged to purchase even necessities on deferred payment bases to enrich those guilty of chicanery; and

served their country here and overseas and who will want to take up anew their civil pursuits and reestablish their homes with those necessities which they must have and those luxuries to which they are entitled; and

Whereas, those veterans most of whom gave up lucrative positions of employment in answer to the call of war, may be by the very reason of their patriotism, unable financially to attain their just aims without resorting to installment purchases, and accordingly may become the victims of the designing manipulations of dishonest finance companies and others dealing in consumer credit; Therefore, To that end, Be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs) the Joint State Government Commission of the Geenral Assembly, with the cooperation of the Secretary of Banking, the Insurance Commissioner and the Attorney General, is hereby directed to investigate and explore all matters connected with the operation and management of the conditions prevailing in finance companies and others in this Commonwealth dealing in consumer credit or otherwise engaged in the business of financing motor vehicles and other articles of personal property which are sold or leased on what is commonly known as the installment plan, for the purpose of ascertaining and reporting as soon as reasonably possible to the General Assembly such nefarious unscrupulous and improper practices as are deemed to be inimical to the public good and in the main to ascertain and report on any prevailing practices of such companies or individuals as the case may be, which may inure to the disadvantage or detriment of the public generally and returning veterans specifically, and to report thereon with recommendations for such legislation as it may deem advisable under the circumstances.

For these purposes the Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly shall have the power to compel the appearance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and records, and to issue proper subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, records, and any and all other writings deemed necessary for the fulfillment of the duties prescribed by this resolution.

and move its adoption.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I am not opposed to the idea behind this bill, but frankly I think with respect to small loan companies we have a bank law today of 1937 that pretty well covers the situation as to consumer credits and as to credit companies, we also have an act covering the situation pretty well. If it applies only to automobile finance companies, and I know there are some gyp companies that have not been doing the right thing, I am in accord with it, but, however, there is one thing I question, and have my doubts about, and that is the time limit, and if an investigation is to be made and a recommendation submitted to the Legislature, when is it going to be done.

Take for instance, today the Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Rosenfeld, introduced a bill to cover sharp practices practiced by automobile finance companies, and if they are going to continue to do those things let us take action immediately and not wait until some time in the distant future.

I do not think this resolution is politically motivated. I feel there is some merit to it. However, we need some action, and this resolution is very indefinite and vague as to the work to be done and how soon it will be done. It says "report as soon as reasonably possible." You might say what is the weather going to be tomorrow—it might be cloudly, it might be rainy, or it might be clear.

Frankly, Mr. President, I see no merit in this entire proposition. There are laws on the books covering small loans and there are laws on the books covering consumer credits. If automobile finance companies see fit to resort to sharp practices a bill should be introduced, and one was introduced tonight, to cover those sharp practices, by my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Rosenfeld. Let us act and act immediately. If the Banking Department, or the Governor, has information that they have been resorting to sharp practices, why, investigate then. What is the motive, what is the reason behind the investigation, let us get down to brass tacks and do something immediately, and not in the distant future.

However, I will say this much, if it is going to affect, and it does, people in the low bracket incomes and the soldiers who will come home, although I do not think it will affect them at all because those that will come home can take advantage of the act as passed by Congress and they can get loans to buy anything at much lower rates than are contemplated within the provisions of the small loans act or the consumer credit act or any other we might analyze and finally enact into law.

That to me does not seem reasonable, it is just a blind to cover up something. However, if there are any gyp companies, and I have no doubt about it, and I have reason to believe, and I feel a bill should be introduced, and it has been introduced tonight—I have plenty of time, Mr. Governor, and I kept them for an hour and a half on something phony and I may keep them for another hour and a half if they desire—they desire resepect at times and we feel we are entitled to the same thing, whether we are in the minority or the majority.

I represent a district and the people in that district and they listen to me; I do not hearken to the call of any leaders who do not necessarily represent the people. There may be some of them over there who are not interested in the people but who simply represent leaders. I am here to mould public opinion and not the opinion of my leaders, who might not agree with my people, and it is high time, as I said before on this floor—and they can laugh if they want to and that is all right with me, but let us be honorable, every man has a right to this floor and, Mr. President, you have been fair to everybody, nobody can question that, but there are some gentlemen over there who forget our rights and who may disagree with me and vote for anything that is not in accord with his sentiments or thoughts.

However, Mr. President, he should be a gentleman—and if he does not know how to be I will take care of him in any way he sees fit, on or off this floor, and I have a short right arm, but I will take care of him—let us be men, not boys, this is a very serious matter, something in which the department is interested and one of our leading newspapers, and I think there is some merit to it, but let us do it the right way, let us not go on a witch-hunting expedition or fishing expedition, and that is what this is it seems to me. I can not vote against it but I do not think there is much merit to it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. HALL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 6, 1945.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 719, Printer's No. 283, entitled "An act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 558) entitled 'An act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to sell and convey a lot or piece of land in Delaware County' correcting an erroneous measurement", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 115

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 6, 1945.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 115, Printer's No. 267, entitled "An act to exempt from taxation for all local purposes certain property of hospitals universities colleges seminaries academies associations and institutions of learning benevolence or charity and declaring the public policy of the Commonwealth with respect to the exemption of said property from such taxation."

This bill is designed to broaden the exemption from taxation of real estate held by "institutions of purely public charity" as authorized by Article 9, Section 1 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. It would extend the exemption beyond that granted by subsection (c) of Section 204 of the Act of May 22, 1933, P. L. 853 as read in the light of the opinion of the Supreme Court in YMCA of Germantown v. Phila., 333 Pa. 401 (1936), to relieve from local taxation property owned by a charitable institution and operated as a business, the proceeds of which would enure to the purposes of the charity.

In an extremely well reasoned opinion written by the present Chief Justice, the Supreme Court in the YMCA of Germantown case said:

> "* * * The fact that all the net proceeds of a business are used for charitable purposes does not make that business a charitable institution. If any business is manifestly commercial in character, it is not relieved of that classification simply because its earnings are devoted to charity. * * *"

By this the Court appears to imply that so much of the property of a charitable organization which is operated for profit is not owned by an institution of purely public charity within the meaning of Article 9, Section 1 of our Constitution. Consequently, the present bill must be considered as of doubtful constitutionality.

The object of allowing tax exemption to institutions of purely public charity is to reward them for assuming the burden of providing food, shelter and care for the indigent thereby relieving the government of a burden which it would otherwise bear. Where a charity though conducted for the most worthy of causes, operates a business, it necessarily does so in competition with other business and if it be relieved of local taxation, it is thereby given an advantage over its competitors and thus in fact passes to them the obligation of supporting in part, the causes which the charity has espoused Furthermore, not only must the competitors as members of the community absorb the cost of government of which the charity is relieved but by reason of the preferential treatment may be subjected to business losses which in turn may account for decreased sources of governmental revenue. Briefly, a charitable institution which conducts a business is requiring others involuntarily to assume at least in part the support of its objects and an exemption of that business from taxation theoretically would allow compensation without the consideration which the Constitution presupposes.

I am inclined to agree with the statement of the Chief Justice in the YMCA of Germantown case that a tax exemption based upon the sole criterion that the proceeds of a business are used to support a charity is "adminstratively impracticable" and will lead "both to injustice and fiscal confusion."

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

EDWARD MARTIN.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication together with the bill be laid on the table?

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGES

RESOLUTIONS FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which read as follows:

In the Senate, April 6, 1945.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 18, Printer's No. 187, entitled:

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 230, Printer's No. 288, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and the act approved the thirtieth day of April one thousand nine hundred and forty-three (P. L. 145) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the accumulation investment and expenditure by counties cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships of funds for post war projects" extending the provisions of said act to school districts and to the expenditure of such funds jointly with the Commonwealth or any department or agency thereof and defining the term "post war period" be recalled from the Governor for further consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 38

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 12, 1945.

Whereas there are many ethically conducted and honestly operated companies dealing in consumer credit and engaged in the business of financing on conditional sale or lease motor vehicles and other articles of personal property it appears there are also many other finance and consumer credit companies which engage in unscrupulous and unconscionable practices unjustifiably detrimental to purchasers and inimical to public good and

Whereas the losses suffered from these nefarious practices fall upon the shoulders of those least able to bear them the persons in lower income brackets who for want of ready cash are obliged to purchase even necessities on deferred payment bases to enrich those guilty of chicanery and

Whereas shortly there will return to this Commonwealth our native sons and daughters who have so well served their country here and overseas and who will want to take up anew their civil pursuits and reestablish their homes with those necessities which they must have and those luxuries to which they are entitled and

Whereas these veterans most of whom gave up lucrative positions of employment in answer to the call of war may be by the very reason of their patriotism unable financially to attain their just aims without resorting to installment purchases and accordingly may become the victims of the designing manipulations of dishonest finance companies and others dealing in consumer credit Therefore To that end Be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs) the Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly with the cooperation of the Secretary of Banking the Insurance Commissioner and the Attorney General is hereby directed to investigate and explore all matters connected with the operation and management of the conditions prevailing in finance companies and others in this Commonwealth dealing in consumer credit or otherwise engaged in the business of financing motor vehicles and other articles of personal property which are sold or leased on what is commonly known as the installment plan for the purpose of ascertaining and reporting as soon as reasonably possible to the General Assembly such nefarious unscrupulous and improper practices as are deemed to be inimical to the public good and in the main to ascertain and report on any prevailing practices of such companies or individuals as the case may be which may inure to the disadvantage or detriment of the public generally and returning veterans specifically and to report thereon with recommendations for such legislation as it may deem advisable under the circumstances

For these purposes the Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly shall have the power to compel the appearance of witnesses and the production of books papers and records and to issue proper subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of books papers records and any and all other writings deemed necessary for the fulfillment of the duties prescribed by this resolution

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By consent of the House leave of absence was granted as follows:

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCLESTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities—Third Class for further consideration.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill, either one.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Moser, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MOSER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether there was an agreement in Committee that this bill would be recommitted?

Mr. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, I know nothing about any agreement. I was not a member of that Committee.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee who reported the bill, Mr. Speaker—the Chairman of the Committee on Third Class Cities.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McClester, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLESTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, was there an understanding or an agreement when this bill was reported out that it would be recommitted?

Mr. McCLESTER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in that event there being an agreement on the part of the Committee that the bill would be recommitted, we will not oppose the motion.

Mr. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McClester.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLESTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, when was bill referred to your Committee, in other words introduced; when was that?

Mr. McCLESTER. I could not tell you the answer to that question unless I would look at the date.

Mr. MOSER. February 19?

Mr. McCLESTER. It looks like that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSER. Then, Mr. Speaker, the Committee had this bill from February 19th until March 29th to discuss this bill.

Mr. McCLESTER. We have had it in Committee, yes sir.

Mr. MOSER. What was the real object in sending this bill back for further study? To kill it?

Mr. McCLESTER. That is the old perennial question, or weekly question, I don't know which it would be. It is always supposed that when a bill is sent to Committee that it is sent back to be killed. I am not in position to say what the Committee is going to do with the bill. We felt in Committee that we wanted to send it out for two readings and then have it recommitted. As to what the Committee does then that is a matter for the Committee to decide. I am merely Chairman of the Committee.

Mr. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, when the bill was reported out, I would like to ask the gentleman whether it was for the purpose of waiting for some reaction?

Mr. McCLESTER. I don't know, Mr. Speaker. That is often the case, and I wouldn't be a bit surprised if that were the case here.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Third Class Cities.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McClester, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLESTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether there has been any opposition to this bill other than that which might have been offered by the chairman or head of the League of Third Class Cities?

Mr. McCLESTER. Mr. Speaker, I am not in position to say what the other members of the Committee may have heard with reference to the bill. I could not answer that question for him.

Mr. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion. The bill is to increase the policemen's compensation, a minimum bill. It has been before the Committee for ample time to make a study, and every Member of the House knows that there is many a good piece of legislation that has been recommitted—this is a good piece of legislation and I hope that we can advance it on the floor so that we can thresh the merits of the bill out on third reading. I ask the Members of the House to vote down this motion and be fair with the policemen.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I want to make our position very clear. If the Committee agree, and our Democratic Members agreed that this bill should go back, much as I regret the position in which we find ourselves, I personally, and I hope that the Members on this side, will honor the agreement made in that Committee, and that the Members will continue their efforts to get this bill back. Personally I think these agreements to trot out a bill for two readings and then trot it back again is principally the bunk, designed to fool somebody—a bad parliamentary practice. However, that if there was an agreement I regret that we have to stand by that agreement.

Mr. LONGO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Third Class Cities.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLESTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LONGO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman as Chairman of the Committee on Third Class Cities if this bill is recommitted, will he submit this bill to the Committee?

Mr. McCLESTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LONGO. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Moser and Mr. Freed and were as follows:

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on City and County—First Class for the purpose of a public hearing.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 52, Printer's No. 307,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 827, as follows:

An Act relating to the liabilities of elected and appointed officers of the various political subdivisions and providing for the forfeiture of their office

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 No elected or appointed official of any political subdivision shall be surcharged for any act error or omission in excess of the actual financial loss sustained by the political subdivision by reason thereof and the surcharge of any such official shall take into consideration as its basis the results of such act error or omission and the results had the procedure been strictly according to law

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall not apply to cases involving fraud or collusion on the part of such officers nor to any penalty enuring to the benefit of or payable to the Commonwealth

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—2

Hoopes, Krise,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 717, entitled

An Act further amending and supplementing the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 364) entitled "An act relating to business corporations defining and providing for the organization merger consolidation reorganization winding up and dissolution of such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon them and their officers and shareholders prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the second class within the provisions of this act prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign business corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas and certain State departments commissions and officers authorizing certain State department boards commissions or officers to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations" by adding to Article III Section three hundred two thereof a new subsection to be designated as (sixteen) empowering every business corporation to make contributions out of its income in any taxable year for public and charitable purposes to an amount which does not exceed fifteen per centum (15%) of the net income of such business corporation for such taxable year as returned by it to the Federal Government for income tax purpose

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title by inserting at the end of the title the following: "and ratifying contributions heretofore made".

Amend Section 1, page 4, by adding at the end of said Section 1 the following paragraph: "All contributions made at any time prior to the passage of this act, by authority of the board of directors of the corporation, for the purposes and within the limitations prescribed by this act, are hereby ratified and confirmed."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, since I understand that these amendments simply make a bad bill worse and give us more opportunity to oppose it, we have no objection.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill appeared on second reading a series of questions was raised on this side as to the effect of this bill. I had hoped once the bill reached third reading—the bill floated around on the calendar for the past couple of weeks—that some amendment would be made to make it a better bill. I have always had my doubts whether it could be made a good bill, but I was willing to go along on a better bill, but Mr. Speaker, these amendments not only leave the bill where it was before, permitting the expenditure of stockholder's profits, money that otherwise would be paid out in dividends to stockholder's, but it even puts the blessing upon money heretofor spent in that fashion by boards of directors of corporations, money which otherwise might have to be repaid to the corporations so that it might be paid out to stockholders who have earned their money. Since all we are doing by these amendments is to validate ultra-vires acts of directors of corporations we find that the amendments are not any good. As the gentleman from Cambria said a moment ago, a bad bill is getting a bit worse. For that reason, Mr. Speaker, we oppose the adoption of these amendments.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, it would seem to me that if the amendments make a bad bill worse, as amended it would be much easier to defeat this measure. However, Mr. Speaker, I just cannot let the record stand on the statement that the bill is bad and that the amendments make it worse. I ask the Members to vote in favor of the amendments and refrain from discussing the merits of the bill until such a time as it is presented to the House for final passage.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there is no reason why the House should agree to these atrocious amendments. We went quite a way when we waived objection and permitted the gentleman to present the amendments, and there is no reason why this bill should not be debated on second reading in the happy hope that it might be defeated on second reading.

I hope that the Members on this side of the House and some of the Members on the other side of the House who do not want a bill with amendments, which quite evidently hit some special case where some board of directors has gone overboard and has done something that they should not have done, will vote against these amendments. Even so, Mr. Speaker, this bill is now amended to cover some unknown misdeed. So I hope the Members on this of the House and some on the other side of the House will vote against these amendments. They are so bad and so important in there implication that we ask for a roll call on the amendments.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, if giving one hundred dollars to the American Red Cross last year is a misdeed then I plead guilty.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire very briefly to reply to the gentleman from Elk. What this bill proposes to do is to make it possible for a board of directors whose company owes you, your wife, your widow or your children one hundred dollars as a dividend; it makes it possible for that board of directors to take fifteen dollars out of that dividend and give it away. I think the individuals who are stockholders in these companies should have something to say about how their money is distributed. What the gentleman from Elk wants to do is to deny the stockholders the right to make contributions out of their dividends and give it to some board of directors. It is robbing the widows and orphans.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I just want to ask the gentleman whether it is the amount of the profit in this bill to which he objects; whether it is the fifteen percent limitation to which the gentleman objects?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that is only part of the objection to this bill. There is no protection to the stockholder as to notice. The stockholder has nothing to say about it. The board of directors disposes of the money that belongs to the stockholders, and the stockholders do not find out about it until after the money has been disposed of, if ever.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I merely wanted to ask the gentleman if the objection is to the fifteen percent, for the reason that it might be possible to amend the bill to substitute the amount of five percent, for which exemption is provided by the Internal Revenue Laws of the United States government. I desire to ask whether such an amendment would answer his objection.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there should be in this bill notice to stockholders of what the board of directors intends doing with the money.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Grant were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 195, as follows:

An Act relating to suits by shareholders against officers or directors in a corporation domestic or foreign to enforce a secondary right because the corporation refuses to enforce rights which may be asserted by it requiring that plaintiff be a shareholder at the time of the transaction of which he complains or that his shares thereafter devolved upon him by operation of law requiring security for defendant's expenses including attorneys' fees and providing for the assessment and recovery of such expenses including attorneys' fees

Section 1 In any suit brought to enforce a secondary right on the part of one or more shareholders against any officer or director or former officer or director of a corporation domestic or foreign because such corporation refuses to enforce rights which may properly be asserted by it the plaintiff or plaintiffs must aver and it must be made to appear that the plaintiff or each plaintiff was a stockholder at the time of the transaction of which he complains or that his stock devolved upon him by operation of law from a person who was a stockholder at such time

Section 2 In any such suit instituted or maintained by holder or holders of less than five per centum of the outstanding shares of any class of such corporation's stock or voting trust certificates the corporation in whose right such action is brought shall be entitled at any stage of the proceedings to require the plaintiff or plaintiffs to give security for the reasonable expenses including attorney's fees which may be incurred by it in connection with such suit and by the other parties defendant in connection therewith for which it may become liable pursuant to section three of this act to which security the corporation shall have recourse in such amount as the court having jurisdiction shall determine upon the termination of such action The amount of such security may from time to time be increased in the discretion of the court having jurisdiction of such action upon showing that the security provided has or may become inadequate

Section 3 The reasonable expenses including attorneys' fees of any party defendant incurred in connection with the successful defense of such suit shall be assessed upon the corporation or if any party defendant shall be successful in part only or if such action shall be settled with the approval of the court having jurisdiction thereof the reasonable costs including attorneys' fees of any such party defendant shall be assessed upon the corporation in such amount as the court shall determine and find to be reasonable in the circumstances The amount of all such expenses so assessed shall be awarded as costs of the suit and be recoverable in the same manner as statutory taxable costs

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GRANT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Minority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GRANT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Minority Floor Leader what action was taken at the minority caucus on this bill.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker——

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny rise?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state it.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, in the back row here we are trying to listen to what is going on in the House but we cannot tell what is going on. There seems to be about a half dozen caucuses going on in the back end of the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

When the Chair requests order from the Members, it certainly also includes the visitors.

Mr. GRANT. I would like to ask Mr. Andrews what action the minority caucus took on this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am not familiar with the rules that apply to caucuses. I have some information about the rules that are supposed to apply to committees, but since it should be no secret to the Members on this side of the House and to the gentleman himself who asked the question I will presume to reply by telling him that as far as I know the caucus took no action on this bill, and if he is inquiring whether he is bound by any caucus action, I would inform him that as far as I know he is not.

Mr. GRANT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further ask Mr. Andrews as to what action the rural caucus took on this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have been informed that the rural caucus did not like the bill.

Mr. GRANT. Mr. Speaker, my only purpose in asking the Minority Floor Leader these questions was to bring to the attention of the Members on this side of the House that in my opinion this is a very bad bill, and it requires their every consideration when they are casting their votes on this bill. I am not going to speak further because I understand other Members are going to speak on this bill.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee from whence this bill came, in view of the fact, Mr. Speaker, that it is originally a Senate measure.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Yeakel permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YEAKEL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Bucks what is the purpose of Senate Bill 195 and what evil does it intend to correct in the Commonwealth.

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, I as Chairman of the Corporations Committee, of course, am just an ordinary layman, and due to the fact that I am such, I would prefer to yield to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood. Would that be agreeable to the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. LEVY. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Montgomery what evil this bill is intended to rectify in the Commonwealth.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia I would say that the least that could be said for the bill is that it is designed to prevent vexatious litigation.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask further as to whether the bill does not make it a requirement on the part of the shareholder to have five percent of the stockholders of a corporation satisfied before he can institute a suit or go into court to inquire into the management of the corporation?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, that is a little bit too general for me. The gentleman says that you must have five percent of the shareholders satisfied. I would like to have a definition of satisfaction used in that sense. What does he mean? Satisfied that they have had enough to eat or what?

Mr. LEVY. I desire to know as to whether or not there must be an ownership of at least five percent of the entire stock of the corporation by various stockholders before suit may be brought?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Would the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, then tell us what five percent of the United States Steel Corporation would be in dollars?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Well, Mr. Speaker, that is following the argument of whether or not one swallow makes a summer.

Let us take an illustration of a corporation that doesn't have so much stock; maybe we can get a more accurate estimate. I am not familiar with what would be the value of the United States Steel Corporation, but I understand it is substantial.

Mr. LEVY. I would like to inquire of the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether or not this bill would also include the United States Steel Corporation and the corporate industries.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I would change that question to include all corporations, especially those that are operated for profit.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman aware of the fact that this bill was passed by the Assembly of New York State and signed by the Governor in the closing days of the Session in New York, this same identical bill?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I am afraid, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman is confused. I think the gentleman means to say, if he is referring to the Session of the Legislature in the State of New York, that there were two bills introduced designed to repeal a law similar to this in New York, which failed to pass.

Mr. LEVY. I asked the gentleman if he was familiar, Mr. Speaker, with the fact that a bill such as this was passed by the General Assembly in New York State at the last Session and was signed by the Governor, and incidentally was declared unconstitutional by authority of the Supreme Court of the State of New York?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, but for the information of the House, the Supreme Court of the State of New York is a court of original jurisdiction.

I have citations of two cases decided by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of the State of New York in which this legislation or legislation similar to it was upheld. I will give the gentleman a few citations.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, while I get ready to listen to the citations I will ask the gentleman to correct his statement. That does not mean the the Superior Court of New York. That is still a lower court. The gentleman knows that.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Well, at least, Mr. Speaker, it is a court of superior jurisdiction to the Supreme Court of New York.

Mr. LEVY. For the information of the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, the Supreme Court is the lower court in New York.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. That is just what I said, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman familiar with the opinion of a noted jurist of New York in reference to a similar bill that was passed by the Assembly of New York?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, that puts us in the same position as to whether or not clubs in Pennsylvania are subject to the quota. We have a decided split of authority on that subject here. I would not know who to follow.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman deny to this House that Senate Bill 195 is without a doubt a deprivation of property rights guaranteed under the Constitution of the Commonwealth and also the Constitution of the United States?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I would certainly say that it is not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman agree then that the bill creates an obstacle in the path of the stockholder of the corporation?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I would say that it does not, Mr. Speaker, and I want to amplify that answer further a little later on when the gentleman has finished his interrogation.

Mr. LEVY. I have finished, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, every Member of the House knows that this bill started out as a very innocent piece of legislation, but let me inform the Members of the House that this bill is not innocent at all. Every minority stockholder has a property right in his stock which this bill definitely takes from him.

Upon that ground, Mr. Speaker, a similar bill passed by the New York Legislature was declared unconstitutional by a Supreme Court Justice within the State of New York and in his opinion he said,

> The Constitution is the bedrock of American democracy. The primary question is whether the statute deprives the plaintiff of property without due process of law or denies him the equal protection of the law in violation of the Federal and State Constitutions. To require security in certain amounts as have already been applied would in practical effect be to deprive a plaintiff of his cause of action. His cause of action is a property right. The denial of the right to be heard unless security therefor is furnished in advance is a deprivation of property without due process, which the fundamental law of the land forbids.

Now, Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 195 says in effect that an action against a corporation in regard to its management cannot be started in any way until five per cent of the stockholders bring the action. Each and every one of us knows the complex nature of most of the corporations within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They are giant financial concerns, and therefore, it logically follows that five per cent of the ownership of the stock rests in a great many hands, and I would like to inform the gentleman from Montgomery that five per cent of the United States Steel Corporation represents approximately $50,000,000. That is more, gentlemen, than most individuals, banks and financial institutions have in the United States Steel Corporation. So it logically follows to a less degree in many cases that nevertheless five per cent of ownership if stock would entail a great amount of money.

In addition to this, the bill also provides that before the plaintiff could come into court he must agree to pay the costs and also the attorneys' fees of the corporation. I say to you gentlemen of the House that if there ever was a deprivation of private rights this bill is all of that. And let me remind the gentlemen also that we once had a very famous case, in fact it is still in process of settlement in Pennsylvania under the Pennroad Corporation. Most of you men and women are familiar with the Pennroad case in relation to the Pennsylvania Railroad, and I say to you, that had this bill been a law before, that Pennroad suit would have been practically an impossibility. Let me remind you also that the Pennsylvania Railroad tonight already has an offer on the Pennroad suit of fifteen million dollars to stockholders of Pennroad and they would not have been able to collect one penny if a bill of this kind had been on the statute books of Pennsylvania.

Yes, Members, I think we should heed the advice of the gentleman from Berks when he says let us go slow on legislation of this kind. This is definitely an attack upon the property rights of individuals in the Commonwealth, and I would appeal, Mr. Speaker, to every Member of the House to vote "no" on this type of legislation.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say at the outset that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, seems to be laboring under a misapprehension in that this bill does not bar an action nor does it bar a right. Merely says in, I think, very clear, concise understandable English that if an action is started by a stockholder and his suit does not represent five per cent of the total stock of that particular corporation then the plaintiff has the right to petition the court to have the plaintiff or plaintiffs post security for the payment of costs and counsel fees for both the defense and the plaintiff.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I don't know how familiar the gentleman from Philadelphia might be with past experience so far as vexatious litigation is concerned, but I want to say that it is an open established fact that many stockholders in the past with as much as one share, which has even been in some instances purchased for the express purpose of instituting vexatious litigation have instituted such litigation. All this measure proposes to do is to place a reasonable minimum of representation so far as stock is concerned, and I don't see how the gentleman can sustain his position for the simple reason that it is inconceivable, at least to my mind, that if there is merit in a stockholder's action he certainly ought to be able to induce enough other stockholders to join in the action to make up five percent of the stock.

In discussing this bill with one of my colleagues recently I pointed out the illustration of Paul Revere when he left the shores up there at the time they had the lantern posted in the top of the steeple. There were only two men in on that secret, but history records that he had not traveled very far before he had company, and it is inconceivable to me that one shareholder, no matter how little or how much stock he holds in the corporation could suffer some inconvenience that would not fall equally on some other stockholders of the corporation. So therefore I say, Mr. Speaker, that this is a reasonable bill. I cannot feel that there is anybody being deprived of anything. After all there are two kinds of rights; there are the so called inalienable rights and the acquired rights. I should say that the rights of stockholders in a corporation fall among the latter.

Why should we refuse to pass this bill because the United States Steel Corporation has so much stock that it runs into more millions of dollars than perhaps some of we less informed individuals can actually calculate how much five per cent might total?

This measure in substance has just been enacted in the State of New Jersey and is now before Governor Edge for his approval. In order again to refer to the suggestion of the gentleman from Philadelphia that this measure has been declared unconstitutional in New York, I would remind him that there were two bills introduced in the session of the legislature in New York just adjourned designed to repeal this bill. Why on earth should they go to the trouble of trying to repeal what the court of last resort in the State of New York has already declared unconstitutional?

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, in reading Senate Bill 195 I find that the burden is upon the minority stockholder to deposit with the court, if the court so decides, security for costs and attorney fees. I should like to know whether or not the gentleman from Montgomery feels that the minority stockholder in case he wins the suit should not be entitled to attorney's fees?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Well, Mr. Speaker, I can't quarrel with that argument. If the gentleman chooses to amend the bill at this late hour, I would remind him that he has had opportunity prior to this time to amend it and I have no objections to its being amended, but I think this is rather a late hour for him to come in with that kind of a suggestion.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

I believe Senate Bill 195 requires considerable study. Sometimes a bill is presented to a legislature of a state intended on its face to do one thing, and we find after it becomes a law that it does exactly the opposite thing to that which the sponsor intended.

The gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Speaker, says that this is a bill to end vexatious law suits. A Senator said to me in discussing this bill that this bill would put racketeering lawyers out of business. In my opinion, Mr. Speaker, this bill does two things; it puts a lock and key on the courts of Pennsylvania for minority stockholders unless the minority stockholder can go out and shop around and get enough other minority stockholders to get a five per cent interest of the stockholders. And it has been an inalienable right of any stockholder, even if he owns fifty cents in the corporation, to look into the affairs of the corporation, and by this bill he will be barred the right of coming into court unless he can offer a bond to cover security. I believe many lawyers on both sides of the House know it is difficult to get a bond for costs and attorney fees.

Further than that, Mr. Speaker, this bill may do another thing. Instead of preventing vexatious law suits it might help racketeering directors of corporations, knowing full well that a minority stockholder must have five per cent or a bond to inquire into the workings of a corporation. I think that most everyone will agree with me that it takes a lot of money to make up five per cent of the majority of the corporations of this country and this state,—they might know that since the affairs cannot be looked into very easily, that ways and means might be devised whereby stockholders would lose any rights that they might have. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that we should take this bill with a grain of salt. Instead of its doing the thing that the sponsors want it to do we might find out it does nothing of the kind and that it is protecting the people we do not want to protect.
